UNEXPECTED MOVE

Russian Foreign Minister Takes Proposals For Ending Differences

U. S. EMBASSY SURPRISED BY SUDDEN SOVIET CHANGE

MCSCOW, July 31.—(AP)—Envoys of the three big western powers were granted unexpected interviews with Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov tonight, and gave him their latest proposals for settling east-west differences.

The American embassy announced officially that U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith saw Molotov for more than an hour this evening. Russian authorities said yesterday Molotov was "not in Moscow" and the speed with which he returned to the Russian capital surprised U. S. spokesmen. They said they hardly expected him to return so soon.

Frank Roberts, Britain's special envoy, said he also had been granted a separate interview with the Soviet foreign minister, and French sources indicated that their representative, Ambassador Yves Chataigneau, likewise had conferred with Molotov.

Neither Smith nor Roberts would comment on the nature of the conversations.

It was considered probable that following tonight's talks, there would be no new developments in the latest approach of the western powers to Russia on the German and Berlin questions until early next week. Experienced Moscow observers felt the Russians would give careful thought to their reply.

In any case, both Smith and Roberts were reported to feel that the Russians "are not in a hurry."

Roberts, who is private secretary to British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, has not set a deadline for his departure for London. He told news-

Soviet Delegate To Danube Conference Tells Britain, France To Take Bloc's Decision Or Leave Meeting

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, July 31.—(AP)—Andrei Vishinsky, the Soviet delegate, challenged the western powers today to accept eastern bloc decisions in the Danube conference or take a walk.

The take-it-or-leave-it choice to Britain, France and the United States in the 11-nation gathering was offered in these words:

"The door (to the conference) was opened for you to come in. The door is open for you to go out."

That was his defiant answer to the stand taken a few minutes before by France against committing herself to any recommendations which disregard her existing and "acquired" rights in the Danube, Europe's 1,800-mile international waterway.

Adrien Thierry, chief of the French delegation, had declared his country intended to reserve all its rights under past Danubian conventions and "will not consider bound by any recommendations" at this one.

The French position was supported by Britain and Austria.

This was a few hours after Vishinsky had served notice that "we are going to have a Danube conference here and we are going to put it to work even though a small minority may disagree with us."

Russia and her six satellites—Yugoslavia, Romania, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Bulgaria and Soviet Ukraine—have the power in the conference to vote anything they want as long as they stick together. Austria, the 11th member of the conference, lost her fight for voting rights today and is only an observer. The vote was seven to two, with France abstaining.

His face reddened, Vishinsky took the floor after Thierry had spoken. He

"St. Francis Sanitarium Names S. E. Burgoyne Business Head"—the column with those headlines in last Sunday's Morning World certainly brought back a lot of memories to Dan J. O'Sullivan, a citizen of Monroe for more than thirty-five years. Few people in Monroe have watched the progress of St. Francis Sanitarium with more interest than has Mr. O'Sullivan; for just three days after its founding on July 22, 1913, he was admitted as one of its first patients.

While attending his duties at the lock and dam, where he was a civil service employe, he met with an accident in which he lost his right leg. He recalls the late Dr. O'Donnell calling St. Francis to ask if it was ready to receive patients, and how he thought he would bleed to death before the ambulance, drawn by horses, could get there. When it finally arrived, Pete Mulhearn, the driver, explained the delay—he had to catch the horses after he was summoned; and Mr. O'Sullivan says if you've ever ridden in an ambulance drawn by horses you know how to appreciate our modern ambulances.

After arriving at the sanitarium,

Federal Judge Tells School Board To Equalize Negro, White Teacher Pay

NEW ORLEANS, July 31.—(AP)—A federal district judge today ordered the Jefferson Parish School Board to equalize pay of negro and white teachers of similar qualifications.

Judge Herbert W. Christenberry granted a permanent injunction asked by Eual Mae Lee, a negro teacher in a suit filed March 29, 1943.

The judge held unconstitutional the board's practice "insofar as such discriminations are predicated on race, creed or color."

The negro teacher charged in her suit that she had 12 years' experience and held a bachelor of arts degree. She said she was paid at the time of the suit $675 a year, while a white teacher of similar training received a minimum of $1,370.

Parish School Superintendent L. W. Higgins said the ruling was the result of a compromise.

He said there is only a 20 percent difference in negro and white salaries today, as compared to the situation at the time the suit was filed five years ago.

Higgins added that the board will erase the wage difference within two years, at the rate of 10 per cent a year.

Higgins said there are 52 negro and 276 white teachers in his parish, with about 2,500 negro and 6,500 white pupils.

He explained that new salary schedules are being prepared now which will give instructors of both races more pay, under increased allotments from the state.

W. SIEVERS MOVES TO GRANT'S STAFF

Warren Sievers, 28-year-old veteran Monroe police officer, will move into the sheriff's department Monday to relieve Deputy E. L. "Pop" Walker as finger-print deputy. Walker will resume duties as chief criminal deputy, the department revealed yesterday.

Sievers, a veteran of the Italian campaign, is married and has two children. Before coming to Monroe, he was a member of the identification department of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He is married to the former Miss Betty Eichman of Minneota.

Walker was with the Monroe police department for almost nine years before he accepted a position with "newly" elected Sheriff Bailey Grant last May.

DEMOCRATS, REPUBLICANS ACCUSED OF BURYING ISSUES

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 31.—(AP)—Senator Glen H. Taylor of Idaho tonight accused the Republican and Democratic parties of combining forces in congress "to bury every important issue with talk."

The Progressive party vice-presidential candidate said in a speech prepared for radio (A. B. C.) delivery that the current filibuster in the senate "is a filibuster of both old parties." He added: "It is not a filibuster on the poll tax alone. It is a filibuster against price control and housing and security as well. And it is a filibuster which exists only because both parties want it to exist.

"It is the guarantee that the Democrats can preserve state rights over human rights, and the Republicans profits over prosperity."

Taylor said that the Democratic party is "controlled by the military men and Wallstreeters." He charged that the Republican party is subservient to "the monopolists and special interests groups of this country."

On the other hand, Taylor said that the new Progressive party wants to "preserve our democratic form of government."

"We are not at all certain," he added, "that our economy or even our democracy can withstand the great economic upheaval toward which we are rushing because of the monopolistic and militaristic policies of the bi-partisan coalition."

Taylor told his audience that the nation is fortunate to have in Henry

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(AP)—Republicans contended today that President Truman's demand for price control and rationing authority has flopped with the public.

In support of this view, Senator Capehart (R-Ind) told a reporter that despite an open invitation by Chairman Tobey (R-NH) the senate banking committee has not received even one request for permisison to testify on the anti-inflation question.

The committee will resume hearings Monday with Paul Porter, former OPA administrator heading the list. Senator Capehart said the committee has no witnesses booked except for possible testimony by some members of Mr. Truman's cabinet .

"The public just doesn't seem to be interested in this problem--at least, if it is, it isn't taking the usual methods of letting congress know about it," Capehart said.

KRUPP MUNITIONS HEADS SENTENCED

Heir To Vast Empire And 10 Directors Given Long Prison Terms

NUERNBERG, Germany, July 31.—(AP)—Alfried Krupp Von Bohlen Und Halbach, 41-year-old heir to the vast Krupp munitions empire, was sentenced today to serve 12 years in prison for exploiting slave labor and plundering occupied countries under the nazi regime.

An American military court convicted Krupp and 10 high Krupp officials of war crimes in a 50,000 word judgment handed down by a three-men tribunal.

Sentences ranging from 34 months to 12 years were meted out to the other 10 defendants. Of the 12 men tried, only Karl Heinrich Pfirsch, 71-year-old dean of the Krupp board of directors, was acquitted on all counts.

The judges, who reached a verdict that the convicted men were guilty beyond "a reasonable doubt," were headed by Judge H. C. Anderson of Jackson, Tenn. The other two were Judge Edward J. Daly of Hartford, Conn., and William J. Wilkin of Seattle, Wash.

The sentences came after a six-month trial. The Krupp officials originally were indicted on three counts of planning to wage aggressive war, plundering the property of conquered

TOO OLD FOR LA., SUCCEEDS IN ALA.

RUSTON, La., July 31.—(Special)—You can't keep a good man down—not even by law.

P. D. Neilson, 75, retired as head of the Louisiana Tech physics department effective at the close of the summer session today, being forced out of the state school system because of his age.

But today Professor Neilson returned from Birmingham, Ala., where he obtained the position of head of the physics department of Howard College. He said the job would begin there with the opening of the fall semester in September.

Neilson came to Louisiana Tech in 1924 and was for a few years dean of the men as well as physics professor. He is a native of Tennessee and has B. A. and M. A. degrees from Vanderbilt University.

An amendment to the Louisiana Teachers' retirement act recently by the legislature provides.

"Any member in service who has attained that age of 70 years shall be retired forthwith" and adds that "beginning September 1, 1950, the foregoing age shall decrease one year on each anniversary thereafter until the mandatory age shall be 65." But the professor believes "in age there is wisdom" and he refuses to call it "quits."

REITERATES U. S. PLANS TO RETAIN FORCE FOR PEACE

Truman Speaks From Same Rostrum As Presidential Aspirant Dewey

DEDICATION OF AIRPORT IS SCENE OF GATHERING

NEW YORK, July 31.—(AP)—With a backdrop of the nation's mightiest peacetime display of airpower, President Truman declared today that America was determined to remain strong in the cause of peace.

The president made his statement as he joined Gov. Thomas E Dewey, his Republican presidential rival, in dedicating the 5,000-acre New York international airport at Idlewild—greatest in the world.

Mr. Truman termed the new field "the front door of the United Nations," while Dewey described it as a symbol of peace and "a powerful implement for peace."

A crowd estimated at 215,000 together with members of the president's cabinet, a large congressional delegation, and representatives of 30 foreign nations, witnessed the history-making get-together of the presidential candidates.

The occasion marked the first time in modern American political annals that candidates for the presidency of the two major parties had met publicly and spoke from the same platform.

When Mr. Truman arrived at the reviewing stand after a 52-minute flight from Washington, he was greeted by his rival for the White House.

"I'm glad to welcome you here," said Dewey, shaking the president's hand.

"It's nice to see you again," replied Mr. Truman.

Both candidates smiled cordially.

Despite the awesome array of military might assembled on the field and gathered in the grey leaden skies, the president's speech stressed peace and the nation's determination to back the United Nations as the instrument for the settlement of all international disputes.

Asserting the airport "is both the symbol of our faith that we shall have peace and a contribution toward lasting peace," President Truman

STRANGLER SHOOTS SELF AFTER DEED

Baltimore Businessman Slays Young Girl; Wounds Self With Pistol

ABERDEEN, Md., July 31.—(AP)—His girl friend slouched dead on the floor beside him, a young Baltimorean was found halfhanging from his car with a bullet wound in his chest early today, Aberdeen police reported.

They identified the man as Duncan Livingstone, Jr., 25; the girl as Shirley Will, 18.

Patrolman Emmett Tobin of Harford county police said that before Livingstone lost consciousness he muttered:

"To hell with her. I strangled her."

Dr. James Ramsay, Harford county medical examiner, declared the girl died of strangling.

Police found Livingstone's necktie alongside a .38 calibre revolver on the car seat.

At Harford Memorial Hospital in Havre de Grace, Livingstone was placed in an oxygen tent. The bullet had pierced one lung, doctors said.

Discovery of the couple by Aberdeen Patrolman Chester Roberts followed by an hour and a half a call to Baltimore county authorities by

CHILD HOSPITALIZED AFTER FUEL 'DRINK'

Sixteen-month-old Wayland Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Taylor, of West Monroe, was hospitalized in the Conway Memorial Hospital last night after drinking what the attending physician termed a "small amount of kerosene."

Young Taylor was reported to have drunk the fuel while unnoticed by his parents. His condition was "not serious," doctors said.

This was the third case of children drinking kerosene in the past seven days," doctors said, adding that the first two were negroes who were admitted to the hospital the earlier part of the week. Both of the earlier cases were reported as "recovered."

The Taylor child will be held under observation for several days, hospital attendants stated.

THURMOND LASHES THREE OPPONENTS

South Carolina Governor Says All Other Parties Fight States' Rights

CHERRYVILLE, N. C., July 31.—(AP)—Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, the states' rights Democratic presidential nominee, declared tonight that "it is a sad commentary on the condition of the American government" when three of the four candidates for president favor "unconstitutional invasion of the rights of states."

"Tom Dewey has already set up the F. E. P. C. (fair employment practices commission) in New York State," Thurmond said.

"Harry Truman is demanding that the so-called civil rights be forced upon every state.

"And Henry Wallace is the daddy of them all.

"Let us not be fooled by the apparent differences among these three men, for in the matter of failure to protect states' rights they are birds of a feather * * *."

Speaking at the annual Cherryville watermelon festival in his first public appearance outside his home state since his nomination at Birmingham, Ala., July 17, Thurmond lashed out at "some of our so-called political leaders" in the south for what he said was their willingness "to barter away the rights of the south for a mess of political pottage."

Thurmond told his audience that it was "a certainty that Dewey would have defeated Truman and would have been elected president if the states' rights Democrats had not put forward their candidates."

"Since the states' rights Democrats have already entered the race," he continueed, "we believe that no candidate will receive a majority of the

NEW DRUNK DRIVING LAW WILL GET TEST

An Alabama man and a local negro may be the first persons in the city to feel the sting of a new state law minimizing penalties for drunk driving violations.

The two men were booked by police as R. B. Owens, 31, of Aliceville, Ala., and a negro, Sudley Black, 67, of Rt. 1, Monroe.

Black, booked additionally for hit and run and driving without brakes, is being held in the city jail in lieu of a $410 bond, while Owens's bond was fixed by police at $300.

The new state law, which went into effect Thursday, sets the minimum penalty at $125 and 30 days in jail, police asserted.

HIGH PROFITS SHOWN IN U. S. INDUSTRY FOR FIRST OF YEAR

NEW YORK, July 31.—(AP)—High profits, with oil companies in the lead, are marking the trend for American industry in the first half of 1948, analysis of earnings reports showed today.

Terrific gains compared with 1947 are common. "Highest in history" is a phrase repeated constantly.

But at the same time, there was a clearly marked slowing down here and there in the rate that profits increased this year over last.

Companies are not embarrassed with their explanations of these mounting profits. For one thing, they point to the sharp decreases in the rate of profit gain in other companies and say: "This could happen to our company, too."

And again: "Wages for workers have gone up, so why not increased wages to stockholders, too?"

There is growing talk about "break-even points." Gross income must be very high before profits appear, companies explain, but when gross income drops the profits will disappear rapidly. Furthermore, cost of replacement equipment has soared.

All companies have their eyes on the future. Some talk of taking their profits and salting them away for future expansion or putting them into research on new products.

That is a plow-under program. They hope to reap a harvest of profits in the lean years. "We are growing fat now," said one executive, "but the lean years are sure to come."

A study of profits of 200 companies making their reports this week showed:

Oil companies have the highest percentage gain, in many cases more than double a year ago. Utilities, and food and distilling industries fared among the worst in profit gains. A few companies, notably airlines, made no profit at all.

Railroads gained, but not in the spectacular manner of oil. Most of

CONGRESS MOVES TO INVESTIGATE BENTLEY CHARGE

Remington Denies Accusations That He Voluntarily Gave Out Secrets

LISTS COMMUNISTS WHO HELD GOVERNMENT JOBS

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(AP)—A woman who confessed she spied for Russia told amazed congressmen today that one of the late President Roosevelt's confidential aides and a former assistant secretary of the treasury gave out wartime secrets which reached the Soviets.

She named them as:

Lauchlin Currie, Nova Scotia-born administrative assistant to Roosevelt from 1939 to 1945, and

Harry Dexter White, former assistant secretary of the treasury.

The testimony came from Elizabeth T. Bentley, 36-year-old Vassar graduate, who appeared before the house committee on un-American activities.

Simultaneously, a senate subcommittee headed by Senator Ferguson (R.-Mich.) was questioning William W. Remington, 30-year-old commerce department official, whom Miss Bentley named yesterday as a Communist who supplied her with secret information during the war.

Remington has denied that he ever belonged to the Communist party, or that he ever gave the Bentley woman any secret or confidential information.

Expressing astonishment at the former spy's testimony, Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R.-N. J.) of the house committee demanded that a special grand jury be summoned in Washington to look into "espionage in government." Seconding the demand, Rep. Rankin (D.-Miss.) declared that the grand jury's inquiry should be broad enough to take in state, county and city employes too.

Miss Bentley told the committee that although Currie was not a Communist, he "gave us some information, he had inside information on government policies." Due to Currie, she said, information reached the Russians that the United States was about to "break" (learn to decipher) the Russian code.

She testified that White, the treasury official, gave information to one N. Gregory Silvermaster which was relayed on to her and eventually to the Russians. She described Silvermaster as a Communist and agent of the Russian secret police who was employed at the time by the U. S. farm security administration. He no longer is with the government.

Currie issued the following statement from his home at Scarsdale, N. Y.:

"To the best of my knowledge I have never known nor associated in any way directly or indirectly with either a Communist or a Communist agent. I never met Miss Bentley nor knew of her existence. If any government employe conveyed information to Communist quarters and gave my name as a source it was most certainly not done with my knowledge. So far as a specific allegation is concerned, my work never brought me in contact with military codes. I was never told anything about them so I obviously could not and did not pass on information about them to anybody. I am at a loss to understand why my name was brought into this unless as frequently happens somebody wanted to enhance the importance or authenticity of alleged information by attributing it to sources close to the president."

White, who also lives in New York,

16 ARE HURT WHEN BIG BUS OVERTURNS

INDEPENDENCE, La., July 31.—(AP)—The driver and 15 passengers of a Greyhound bus were injured tonight when it was in collision with a truck and hit a tree between Tickfaw and Independence.

Florida Parishes Hospital reported 16 persons had been brought there for treatment.

Names and addresses were not immediately available as the flood of work swamped hospital facilities.

The hospital reported Israel Passman, of Jackson, Miss., driver of the bus, was probably the most seriously hurt. The nature of his injuries has not been determined.

The accident occurred about a mile and a half north of Tickfaw when the two vehicles were in collision. The truck overturned in the middle of the highway. Its wheels were shorn off by the force of impact. The bus careened off the highway into a tree which it struck on the right side of the bus.

The bus was en route from New Orleans to Memphis.

"The public just doesn't seem to be interested in this problem--at least, if t is, it isn't taking the usual methods of letting congress know about it," Capehart said.

"Ordinarily when the president brings some program before congress, we get heavy mail for and against it. But I have received less than 25 letters and telegrams about the president's proposals."

The Indiana senator said he had made a check of other key Republi-

KRUPP MUNITIONS HEADS SENTENCED

Heir To Vast Empire And 10 Directors Given Long Prison Terms

NUERNBERG, Germany, July 31.—(AP)—Alfried Krupp Von Bohlen Und Halbach, 41-year-old heir to the vast Krupp munitions empire, was sentenced today to serve 12 years in prison for exploiting slave labor and plundering occupied countries under the nazi regime.

An American military court convicted Krupp and 10 high Krupp officials of war crimes in a 50,000 word judgment handed down by a three-man tribunal.

Sentences ranging from 34 months to 12 years were meted out to the other 10 defendants. Of the 12 men tried, only Karl Heinrich Pfirsch, 71-year-old dean of the Krupp board of directors, was acquitted on all counts.

The judges, who reached a verdict that the convicted men were guilty beyond "a reasonable doubt," were headed by Judge H. C. Anderson of Jackson, Tenn. The other two were Judge Edward J. Daly of Hartford, Conn., and William J. Wilkin of Seattle, Wash.

The sentences came after a six-month trial. The Krupp officials originally were indicted on three counts of planning to wage aggressive war, plundering the property of conquered

TOO OLD FOR LA., SUCCEEDS IN ALA.

RUSTON, La., July 31.—(Special)—You can't keep a good man down—not even by law.

P. D. Neilson, 75, retired as head of the Louisiana Tech physics department effective at the close of the summer session today, being forced out of the state school system because of his age.

But today Professor Neilson returned from Birmingham, Ala., where he obtained the position of head of the physics department of Howard College. He said the job would begin there with the opening of the fall semester in September.

Neilson came to Louisiana Tech in 1924 and was for a few years dean of the men as well as physics professor. He is a native of Tennessee and has B. A. and M. A. degrees from Vanderbilt University.

An amendment to the Louisiana Teachers' retirement act recently by the legislature provides.

"Any member in service who has attained that age of 70 years shall be retired forthwith" and adds that "beginning September 1, 1950, the foregoing age shall decrease one year on each anniversary thereafter until the mandatory age shall be 65." But the professor believes "in age there is wisdom" and he refuses to call it "quits."

REITERATES U. S. PLANS TO RETAIN FORCE FOR PEACE

Truman Speaks From Same Rostrum As Presidential Aspirant Dewey

DEDICATION OF AIRPORT IS SCENE OF GATHERING

NEW YORK, July 31.—(AP)—With a backdrop of the nation's mightiest peacetime display of airpower, President Truman declared today that America was determined to remain strong in the cause of peace.

The president made his statement as he joined Gov. Thomas E Dewey, his Republican presidential rival, in dedicating the 5,000-acre New York international airport at Idlewild—greatest in the world.

Mr. Truman termed the new field "the front door of the United Nations," while Dewey described it as a symbol of peace and "a powerful implement for peace."

A crowd estimated at 215,000 together with members of the president's cabinet, a large congressional delegation, and representatives of 30 foreign nations, witnessed the history-making get-together of the presidential candidates.

The occasion marked the first time in modern American political annals that candidates for the presidency of the two major parties had met publicly and spoke from the same platform.

When Mr. Truman arrived at the reviewing stand after a 52-minute flight from Washington, he was greeted by his rival for the White House.

"I'm glad to welcome you here," said Dewey, shaking the president's hand.

"It's nice to see you again," replied Mr. Truman.

Both candidates smiled cordially.

Despite the awesome array of military might assembled on the field and gathered in the grey leaden skies, the president's speech stressed peace and the nation's determination to back the United Nations as the instrument for the settlement of all international disputes.

Asserting the airport "is both the symbol of our faith that we shall have peace and a contribution toward lasting peace," President Truman

Baltimore Businessman Slays Young Girl; Wounds Self With Pistol

ABERDEEN, Md., July 31.—(AP)—His girl friend slouched dead on the floor beside him, a young Baltimorean was found halfhanging from his car with a bullet wound in his chest early today, Aberdeen police reported.

They identified the man as Duncan Livingstone, Jr., 25; the girl as Shirley Will, 18.

Patrolman Emmett Tobin of Harford county police said that before Livingstone lost consciousness he muttered:

"To hell with her. I strangled her."

Dr. James Ramsay, Harford county medical examiner, declared the girl died of strangling.

Police found Livingstone's necktie alongside a .38 calibre revolver on the car seat.

At Harford Memorial Hospital in Havre de Grace, Livingstone was placed in an oxygen tent. The bullet had pierced one lung, doctors said.

Discovery of the couple by Aberdeen Patrolman Chester Roberts followed by an hour and a half a call to Baltimore county authorities by

CHILD HOSPITALIZED AFTER FUEL 'DRINK'

Sixteen-month-old Wayland Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Taylor, of West Monroe, was hospitalized in the Conway Memorial Hospital last night after drinking what the attending physician termed a "small amount of kerosene."

Young Taylor was reported to have drunk the fuel while unnoticed by his parents. His condition was "not serious," doctors said.

"This was the third case of children drinking kerosene in the past seven days," doctors said, adding that the first two were negroes who were admitted to the hospital the earlier part of the week. Both of the earlier cases were reported as "recovered."

The Taylor child will be held under observation for several days, hospital attendants stated.

South Carolina Governor Says All Other Parties Fight States' Rights

CHERRYVILLE, N. C., July 31.—(AP)—Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, the states' rights Democratic presidential nominee, declared tonight that "it is a sad commentary on the condition of the American government" when three of the four candidates for president favor "unconstitutional invasion of the rights of states."

"Tom Dewey has already set up the F. E. P. C. (fair employment practices commission) in New York State," Thurmond said.

"Harry Truman is demanding that the so-called civil rights be forced upon every state.

"And Henry Wallace is the daddy of them all.

"Let us not be fooled by the apparent differences among these three men, for in the matter of failure to protect states' rights they are birds of a feather * * *."

Speaking at the annual Cherryville watermelon festival in his first public appearance outside his home state since his nomination at Birmingham, Ala., July 17, Thurmond lashed out at "some of our so-called political leaders" in the south for what he said was their willingness "to barter away the rights of the south for a mess of political pottage."

Thurmond told his audience that it was "a certainty that Dewey would have defeated Truman and would have been elected president if the states' rights Democrats had not put forward their candidates."

"Since the states' rights Democrats have already entered the race," he continueed, "we believe that no candidate will receive a majority of the

NATIONAL GUARD LEAVES FOR CAMP

Three Companies Of Monroe Men Move To Join Rest Of Regiment At Beauregard

Approximately 1,000 national guardsmen from the Monroe area will participate in their two-week summer training period at Camp Beauregard. The Monroe group, comprising four companies, including twelve trucks and eight jeeps, will pull away from the Monroe armory on South Grand street at 9 a. m. today.

Northeast Louisiana Companies I, K, Headquarters Company and a Medics Company, will be among the 16 Louisiana groups present at the camp, national guard officials disclosed here last night.

Other units from Bastrop, Ruston, Shreveport, Natchitoches, Vivian, Homer, Jonesboro, Minden, Many,

NEW DRUNK DRIVING LAW WILL GET TEST

An Alabama man and a local negro may be the first persons in the city to feel the sting of a new state law minimizing penalties for drunk driving violations.

The two men were booked by police as R. B. Owens, 31, of Aliceville, Ala., and a negro, Sudley Black, 67, of Rt. 1, Monroe.

Black, booked additionally for hit and run and driving without brakes, is being held in the city jail in lieu of a $410 bond, while Owens's bond was fixed by police at $300.

The new state law, which went into effect Thursday, sets the minimum penalty at $125 and 30 days in jail, police asserted.

CONGRESS MOVES TO INVESTIGATE BENTLEY CHARGE

LISTS COMMUNISTS WHO HELD GOVERNMENT JOBS

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(AP)—A woman who confessed she spied for Russia told amazed congressmen today that one of the late President Roosevelt's confidential aides and a former assistant secretary of the treasury gave out wartime secrets which reached the Soviets.

She named them as:

Lauchlin Currie, Nova Scotia-born administrative assistant to Roosevelt from 1939 to 1945, and

Harry Dexter White, former assistant secretary of the treasury.

The testimony came from Elizabeth T. Bentley, 36-year-old Vassar graduate, who appeared before the house committee on un-American activities.

Simultaneously, a senate subcommittee headed by Senator Ferguson (R.-Mich.) was questioning William W. Remington, 30-year-old commerce department official, whom Miss Bentley named yesterday as a Communist who supplied her with secret information during the war.

Remington has denied that he ever belonged to the Communist party, or that he ever gave the Bentley woman any secret or confidential information.

Expressing astonishment at the former spy's testimony, Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R.-N. J.) of the house committee demanded that a special grand jury be summoned in Washington to look into "espionage in government." Seconding the demand, Rep. Rankin (D.-Miss.) declared that the grand jury's inquiry should be broad enough to take in state, county and city employes too.

Miss Bentley told the committee that although Currie was not a Communist, he "gave us some information, he had inside information on government policies." Due to Currie, she said, information reached the Russians that the United States was about to "break" (learn to decipher) the Russian code.

She testified that White, the treasury official, gave information to one N. Gregory Silvermaster which was relayed on to her and eventually to the Russians. She described Silvermaster as a Communist and agent of the Russian secret police who was employed at the time by the U. S. farm security administration. He no longer is with the government.

Currie issued the following statement from his home at Scarsdale, N. Y.:

"To the best of my knowledge I have never known nor associated in any way directly or indirectly with either a Communist or a Communist agent. I never met Miss Bentley nor knew of her existence. If any government employe conveyed information to Communist quarters and gave my name as a source it was most certainly not done with my knowledge. So far as a specific allegation is concerned, my work never brought me in contact with military codes. I was never told anything about them so I obviously could not and did not pass on information about them to anybody. I am at a loss to understand why my name was brought into this unless as frequently happens somebody wanted to enhance the importance or authenticity of alleged information by attributing it to sources close to the president."

White, who also lives in New York,

16 ARE HURT WHEN BIG BUS OVERTURNS

INDEPENDENCE, La., July 31.—(AP)—The driver and 15 passengers of a Greyhound bus were injured tonight when it was in collision with a truck and hit a tree between Tickfaw and Independence.

Florida Parishes Hospital reported 16 persons had been brought there for treatment.

Names and addresses were not immediately available as the flood of work swamped hospital facilities.

The hospital reported Israel Passman, of Jackson, Miss., driver of the bus, was probably the most seriously hurt. The nature of his injuries has not been determined.

The accident occurred about a mile and a half north of Tickfaw when the two vehicles were in collision. The truck overturned in the middle of the highway. Its wheels were shorn off by the force of impact. The bus careened off the highway into a tree which it struck on the right side of the bus.

The bus was en route from New Orleans to Memphis.

HIGH PROFITS SHOWN IN U. S. INDUSTRY FOR FIRST OF YEAR

NEW YORK, July 31.—(AP)—High profits, with oil companies in the lead, are marking the trend for American industry in the first half of 1948, analysis of earnings reports showed today.

Terrific gains compared with 1947 are common. "Highest in history" is a phrase repeated constantly.

But at the same time, there was a clearly marked slowing down here and there in the rate that profits increased this year over last.

Companies are not embarrassed with their explanations of these mounting profits. For one thing, they point to the sharp decreases in the rate of profit gain in other companies and say: "This could happen to our company, too."

And again: "Wages for workers have gone up, so why not increased wages to stockholders, too?"

There is growing talk about "break-even points." Gross income must be very high before profits appear, companies explain, but when gross income drops the profits will disappear rapidly. Furthermore, cost of replacement equipment has soared.

All companies have their eyes on the future. Some talk of taking their profits and salting them away for future expansion or putting them into research on new products.

That is a plow-under program. They hope to reap a harvest of profits in the lean years. "We are growing fat now," said one executive, "but the lean years are sure to come."

A study of profits of 200 companies making their reports this week showed:

Oil companies have the highest percentage gain, in many cases more than double a year ago. Utilities, and food and distilling industries fared among the worst in profit gains. A few companies, notably airlines, made no profit at all.

Railroads gained, but not in the spectacular manner of oil. Most of

PELICAN STATE BOYS SELECTED

Ouachita Parish Youths To Attend Ninth Annual Meet In L. S. U.

Sponsored by the American Legion department of Louisiana, the ninth season of Pelican Boys' State will be in session on the L. S. U. campus from August 9 to 17.

Boys selected for their leadership ability, character, cooperativeness and scholarship will be chosen from Ouachita and other parishes to participate in the program.

The objective of the Boys' State is to educate our youth in the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities of American citizenship. It is wholly a plan for training in the practical mechanics of government. Applications of the principles of democratic government are made in every possible way. The constitution and the statutes of the state of Louisiana are the pattern from which the fundamental law of Pelican Boys' State has been developed. Pelican Boys' State should be thought of as being a mythical 49th state with a constitution, statutes and ordinances constructed by its citizens to govern themselves.

Citizens of Boys' State will not be required to review knowledge already acquired concerning the political machinery of a state, but they will find themselves performing exactly the same duties as real office holders in the everyday world. In Boys' State, citizens organize their own city, parish and state governments. They choose their own officials in accordance with regular election procedures. They learn the duties of the various city, parish and state officers. They introduce and argue their own bills in a legislature. Justice is administered by their own law enforcement agencies and courts. In Boys' State, the young citizen has the opportunity to learn for himself that his government is just what he makes it. Here each boy "learns to do by doing."

The entire program is non-partisan; problems will be considered without reference to any existing political party and will be free from propaganda. The sole purpose is to enable the boy to grasp the meaning of some of the responsibilities which he will be called upon to assume when he becomes an adult.

It should be distinctly understood that the selection and assignment of these boys to parties is in no way connected with the existing political parties in Louisiana. The "political parties" in Boys' State are called "Federalists" and "Nationalists." They are purely mythical and none of the principles typifying only of the existing parties will be adopted by the parties in Boys' State. Every boy will be expected to enter his candidacy for election to the state, parish or city office of his choice.

Candidates for admission will be accepted, subject to quota, if they meet the following qualifications:

1. Age limits: 14 to 18 years of age, inclusive.

2. School classification: Boys must have completed the 11th grade in a Louisiana high school. This session outstanding boys who have completed the 10th grade will be acceptable. It is this educational level which best fits the program and wil lpermit the boys to return home and furnish leadership in the school and community in their senior year.

3. Boys must not have attended any previous session of Pelican Boys' State.

4. The board of directors reserves the right to accept or reject any application for membership in Boys' State.

5. Boys who fail to cooperate may be dismissed by the director at any time.

The L. B. Faulk Post of the American Legion has submitted the following names of boys to attend Pelican State from Monroe:

Duncan D. Burford, 207 Erin street, Monroe, student of Ouachita Parish High School, sponsored by Rotary Club of Monroe.

Max S. Dillingham, 212 Sherrouse avenue, Monroe, student of Neville High School. Sponsored by L. B. Faulk Post No. 13, Monroe.

Edward DeLoach, 1217 Ridge avenue, West Monroe, student of Neville High School. Sponsored by Isador Liebreich Lodge No. 20, B'Nai B'Rith, Monroe.

Thomas C. Starnes, 114 Stubbs avenue, Monroe, student of Ouachita Parish High School. Sponsored by Kiwanis Club of Monroe.

Larry E. Tucker, 1020 Riverside, Monroe, student of Neville High School. Sponsored by L. B. Faulk Post No. 13, Monroe.

Tom D. Wafer, Jr., Box 338, Sterlington, student of Ouachita Parish High School. Sponsored by Western Star Lodge No. 24, F. & A. M.

John R. Sims, 102 Georgia street, Monroe, student of Neville High school. Sponsored by City of Monroe, Monroe.

The Burnett-Downs Post of the American Legion has submitted the following for Pelican State from West Monroe:

Dan E. Bivins, Jr., 3704 Cypress street, West Monroe, student of Ouachita Parish High School. Sponsored by Kiwanis Club of West Monroe.

Travis L. DeFreese, Route No. 1, Box 53, West Monroe, student of Ouachita Parish High School. Sponsored by West Monroe Lions Club.

James P. Leake, 4212 DeSiard street, Monroe, student of Neville High School. Sponsored by Burnett-Downs Post No. 201, West Monroe.

CLERK, CARRIER VACANCY OPEN

Tests To Be Given To Fill Vacancies At Post Office Here

The United States Civil Service commission has announced an examination for probational appointment to positions of substitute clerk and carrier, $1.29 per hour, for the post office at Monroe, according to a statement made yesterday by Jiles N. Davis, secretary of the board of United States civil service examiners.

The lists resulting from the examination will be used to fill vacancies in the post office in the positions of substitute clerk, substitute carrier and substitute special delivery messenger and to replace persons appointed during the war who fail to qualify for permanent civil service appointment.

There are no experience and training requirements for this examination but all applicants must be bona fide patrons of the post office. A written test requiring about four hours will be given to all applicants. Age limits for the examination are 18 to 50 years but these limits will be waived for veterans.

Veterans will be given preference in accordance with civil service rules, particularly disabled veterans whose names will be placed at the head of the eligible list if they qualify in the examination.

Additional information and application forms may be obtained from the secretary, board of United States civil service examiners, post office, Monroe, or from the regional director, tenth civil service region, customhouse, New Orleans 16, La. Applications will be accepted by the regional director, tenth United States civil service region, customhouse, New Orleans 16, until further notice.

Corporate Financial Success

The current issue of the C. I. O.'s "Outlook" is devoted to proving that a "mere handful" of persons control this nation's big corporations. About one out of every 20 adults owns corporation stock, the C. I. O.'s department of research and education reports belittlingly.

So what is that designed to prove? That ordinary Americans are a have-not people? Name some other country in which one out of 20 owns corporate stock, and there'll be at least ground for debate.

Is the C. I. O. trying to make it appear that the American worker doesn't have enough, after existing, to invest in stocks? The enormous investment in insurance, savings accounts, war bonds makes that silly. So does the almost unbelievable spending on amusements, recreation, travel, liquor, race track gambling and the like.

The real reason for this report, in the midst of third round wage demands, looks rather clear. It seems to be an attempt to suggest that the average American, having no corporate stock in his name, shouldn't worry if wage boosts squeeze profits out of company operations.

That is hitting below the belt. The C. I. O.'s economists are smart, well-informed men. They know that every American has a direct stake in the profitable operation of this country's industry and commerce.

They know that there would be no wages at all, big or small, if there weren't employment. They know that there can be employment only as long as business can make—or look forward to making—enough profit to attract capital to finance the maintenance and replacement and expension of plant.

And they know more than that. They know that tens of millions have savings accounts, and that the savings banks mostly are mutual—which means that they are owned by their depositors. They know that huge chunks of assets are invested in corporate bonds and stocks—that the monthly interest, and even the safety of the principal—depends on corporate profits.

The life insurance companies have $46,500,000,000 invested. That money is not J. P. Morgan's, or John D. Rockefeller's, or U. S. Steel's. It is yours and your neighbor's. The poorer your neighbor is, the more probability that this money of his, saved and invested through an insurance company, is his protection against an unmarked grave in Potter's Field.

Of that money of yours, $15,700,000,000 is in corporate stocks and bonds. Its income is from corporate profits. Its safety depends upon profitable corporate operation.

Don't let the C. I. O. or anybody else persuade you that the American wage-earner doesn't have a direct, selfish interest in corporate profits, merely because he chooses to put his money into savings, insurance, government bonds, instead of common stocks. Whoever tries to tell you that is either ignorant or vicious.

GOVERNMENT IN BUSINESS

The federal government, through its legislative enactments, executive enforcement and judicial interpretations, now has substantial control of the coal mines and the railroads.

This is theoretically a free enterprise nation, but disputes between contending factions have been carried to the point that the national economy is threatened. Old laws covering the ground are being applied more vigorously, and stiffer ones are proposed.

The whole trend today is toward more and more government decision in industrial affairs. At the end of that road is either complete government control or government ownership. There is little difference between the two.

It is strange that this trend continues against what both sides regard as their best interests. Industrial management always has striven for a minimum of government interference. Labor should be aware that the stronger government becomes, the more danger there is of suppression of the labor movement or of channeling it so that labor has no voice.

The only way in which this trend can be reversed is for management and labor to find enough common ground so they can settle their own affairs amicably. If, as management contends, labor is given unfair advantages by present laws, and interpretation of them, it is the duty of congress to legislate.

SUPER-SUPER-DUPER

In California, with its immense vistas and its vast, misty ideas, a practical food merchant comes out with a proposal for the super-duper market of the future.

Under a single roof, which would presumably be about a mile square, the shopper could get a filet of sole, a half-sole job, a bunch of roses, a shave, a sack of potatoes, a savings bond, a fifth of Scotch, a hat, a box of candy, a hairdo, a ham, a fur coat, a batch of stamps, and any other little items he might want.

He, or she, could park his car in an underground garage (still under the same roof), make a bank deposit, leave his laundry, park his children at a free nursery, pay all his bills.

He could ride around the place in an electric go-cart, with space in back for packages and in front for Junior to sit and pretend he's driving the contraption.

We wonder what congressmen who fear chain stores will end by putting everyone in chains will make of this super-colossal proposition. Why, the man's market of the future will be bigger than the Pentagon Building.

It has everything—with one exception. There's no provision for search parties to find people who have been lost in the place for more than three days.

IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, July 31 — Veteran character star, Eugene Pallette, ill for the past year, has discarded his make-up kit for keeps and will retire to his Washington ranch. . . . Time out for Willard Parker, recuperating from an emergency appendectomy. . . . I hear that Cara Williams and Gene Wesson have revived marriage plans and set Thanksgiving Day for the ceremoney. . . . Ha! Artie Shaw, currently toiling on his autobiography, has passed the 90,000-word mark but insists the tome is only one-third done! . . . Joan Davis "isn't talking," but rumor insists that she's given Danny Elman the brush and canceled wedding plans.

Annabella has hung "For Sale" signs on her Paris house and decided to make Hollywood her permanent home; pals say she'll try, again, for a career in American pictures. . . . Reconciled: Doris Day and her estranged spouse, Georg. Weidler. . . . Maria Montez can't be too serious about staying in France "indefinitely;" she engaged one of Hollywood's most expensive press agents to keep her name in the limelight here while she's gone.

Dutch Actress Joanne de Bergh ("Call Northside 777") is bedded with a severe case of sulfa poisoning. . . . Look for wholesale firings at MGM within the next few weeks, with many of the studio's high-salaried players and executives getting the axe in the interest of economy. . . . That much-publicized romance twixt Mickey Rooney and M'liss McClure is colder than a mint julep. . . . Sorry to report that veteran Character Actor George E. Stone is seriously ill.

PREVIEW NIGHTS: Pic of the week: Allied Artists' "The Babe Ruth Story" (William Bendix-Claire Trevor-Charles Bickford). A cinematic home-run that will appeal to every type of audience. . . . RECOMMENDED: RKO's "The Velvet Touch" (Rosalind Russell-Leo Genn-Claire Trevor-Sidney Greenstreet). Comedy-drama, perfectly tailored to complement Rosalind Russell's talents. . . . GOOD: Republic's "Daredevils of the Clouds" (Robert Livingston-Mae Clark-Grant Withers). A "Class B" thriller that will steal the spotlight from the majority of "colossals" teamed with it. . . . SO-SO: Republic's "Eyes of Texas" (Roy Rogers-Lynne Roberts-Andy Devine). A low spot in a western series which seldom sags. . . . LOW BRIDGE: Eagle-Lion's "Lady at Midnight" (Richard Denning-Frances Rafferty). Six reels of yawn. . . . BEST PERFORMANCE: Rosalind Russell in "The Velvet Touch."

I hear that the Johnston Office is making irate inquiries in an effort to find out how one Brenda Allen, recently convicted on a morals charge, happens to be listed in the official "Players Directory" as a "leading lady" despite the fact that she has never played a movie lead and is not a professional actress. It seems that the Johnston Office gentry are concerned because they fear such a phony listing casts discredit on the movie industry. Personally I think they're putting the cart before the horse. The American public is quite sane in the way it makes its judgments. It's not the Brenda Allens, who falsely claim an affiliation with the industry, but rather the actual members of the industry who persist in scandalous peccadillos, that cast discredit on the film colony.

In today's publicity barrage is the following delectable tidbit: "Cameraman Don Hayes, shooting stills of John Wayne and Adele Mara at Badlwin Lake, where Republic is filming 'Wake of the Red Witch,' placed all of his used flash bulbs in a remote spot among the tall marsh grasses, carefully heeding the company's policy to keep the location uncluttered. The following day a duck was observed sitting patiently on the flash bulbs. Speculation is rife as to just what is going to hatch out."

I think I can hazard a guess. If that story gets wide enough publication, the wistful duck is practically sure to hatch out dozens of similar yarns.

The death of D. W. Griffith, despite the fact that he had been inactive in the picture industry for many years, called forth the usual deluge of "tributes" from industry toppers. Certainly, Griffith deserved the praise so tardily bestowed, for his early day pictures were milestones of screen progress. But I'm wondering if the studio bosses who lauded him took time out to evaluate the No. 1 reason for his greatness as a producer-director. It lies, I think, in the fact that his pictures were always "one-man" productions. Griffith was the supreme individualist, a man who insisted on making all the decisions himself. In short, he was the all-round genius that Orson Welles wants to be. He would have been completely frustrated by the big studio system of today which turns every bowl of cinematic broth over to an army of cooks. Griffith's one-man system is idea—but unfortunately it depends on the one man being that rarest of all creatures, a REAL genius.

FARM SUBSIDIES

It is estimated that approximately 25 per cent of the families in the United States are now living beyond their incomes, are supplementing their incomes with savings or borrowed money to meet the cost of living. That is a most serious matter. The way things are now going, this percentage will likely increase. What will happen when their savings are used up and their borrowing power comes to an end?

Our present high cost of living has been brought on by a number of causes. One of them is the matter of farm subsidies. Take Irish potatoes as an illustration. The government guarantees the grower a certain price. In order to support this price, the government levies taxes on the people, uses this tax money to go into the market and buy these potatoes—uses some more tax money to buy some kerosene, soaks the potatoes with the kerosene, and burns them. The people are not only denied a lower price on potatoes; their own money is used to make certain that relief from the high cost of living is not obtained. Neither is the production of potatoes governed by the law of supply and demand; it makes no difference to the potato grower if there is a great overproduction, he gets a guaranteed price just the same—and the poor consumer, he never knows whether there is a good crop or not.

This is just one illustration; it runs all down the line—to wheat and corn and cotton and tobacco and many other commodities that have a lot to do with the high cost of living. The corn crop for this year is now estimated at one billion bushels over last year. What a boon this would be in bringing succor to the family budget—if it were allowed to do so, if the government did not step in and take some more of the people's tax money and buy enough of this corn to make sure that the family budget couldn't benefit from lower corn prices. Maybe they won't burn the corn, maybe they'll just give it away—the cost of living remains high.

The total cash receipts from farm crops in the United States during 1946 amounted to $10 billion; government payments amounted to $800 million. This means that the people are being taxed 8 per cent of the value of farm crops to see that they get no relief in their cost of living, so far as food is concerned. Perhaps it would help if the people just realized that, in effect, when they buy $1 worth of groceries, 8 cents of this is used to make sure they cannot buy the groceries for less than $1. Let's at least know what is happening to us!

And will such government support help even the farmers in the long run? Not if it is to be one of the agencies that drags the whole nation down to ruin! It is more than regrettable — it is tragic — that this problem should be made a political football to be kicked about by the politicians of both parties. This is something too fundamental to the happiness of the people to be handled in any such manner.

Yet the appeal of votes is so strong to the politicians that we find no relief in either party. The nominee of the Democratic party says the farmers should be worse than ingrates if they do not vote for him in the forthcoming election, claiming that his party is responsible for this greater income to the American farmers. Then he turns right around and calls a special session of congress to do something about high prices; and in doing so he asks for rationing and methods entirely inexcusable in a free democratic country in time of peace! And the Republicans, in this connection at least, are only giving lip service to combating inflation. They talk vociferously about the need for increased production and lower prices, and yet one of the last acts of the eightieth congress was a measure containing farm price subsidies, and their platform is innocuous in this respect.

It is still up to the people of this country to inform themselves as to what is going on; it is up to the people to demand of those they employ to run their government for them—the president and the congress and all the others—that they shall conduct it in the interest of the general welfare.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Bible Comment For August 8
By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

During the year of the 172nd anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, a new state of Israel is struggling for existence.

The time seems appropriate to review the history of the Jews in their homeland, their original settlement, their exiles, their efforts for return and restoration, their dispersion throughout the world, their persistency under centuries of persecution, and the dream of re-establishing a national life once more in the land so marked by long experiences of tragedy and glory.

The life of Israel in Palestine began when Abraham, forsaking his home and idolatrous environment in far-off Ur of Chaldea, in the pioneer spirit, established a new civilization in the way that the Book of Genesis so vividly describes.

That civilization took root and lasted until famine took the people of Egypt, where Joseph, the child of tragedy, had become the man of destiny and power. There under his favor and protection the Jewish people flourished. But their traditional prosperity brought enemies, and when a Pharaoh arose who "knew not Joseph," enslavement and oppression began.

The story of deliverance under Moses and of leadership back to their homeland is written in history and in glowing pages of the Bible. Like the return of today, it had sad as well as noble aspects. That was the first return, and the land had to be reconquered.

Then came the long development through various vicissitudes, until the Kingdom of Israel became strong and consolidated under Kings David and Solomon. The glory of Solomon tarnished in the division and disruption into two kingdoms of all that he had built. Both kingdoms were to fall shortly, the one in dispersion never to be restored, the other in exile to Babylon.

The return from that exile and the rebuilding, described in the Books of Ezra and Nehemiah, was the second return. That re-establishment of the Jewish people lasted, amid various changes and conflicts, until 70 A.D., when the Roman legions besieged and destroyed Jerusalem, and the seemingly final dispersion of the Jews began. Will it really be final, or will the new Jewish state of Israel be established in ultimate security and peace?

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

WALLACE ON CHINA

Rebecca West, reporting on Wallace's press conference in Philadelphia, reaches the sad conclusion that Wallace does not know what he is talking about on the subject of Yugoslavia. I wish to report that Henry Wallace does not know what he is talking about on the subject of China. This is what he says:

"Educated Chinese, who know that Chiang's days are numbered, nevertheless fear that U. S. foreign policy will finally result, after Chiang's fall, in America's controlling what might be called a 'Co-Misery Sphere,' consisting of Japan, the port cities of China and Dutch Indonesia. They fear that in the final showdown it would be Japan that would dominate this area rather than the U. S. Others ask what difference it makes whether Chinese slavery is continued directly, through the U. S. and Chiang, or indirectly, through Japan. The Chinese students who have been demonstrating against the American policy of rebuilding Japan have been told by the U. S. ambassador that they must stop or 'prepare to take the consequences.' The mayor of Shanghai told the students, 'America's policy toward Japan is concentrated on preventing the spread of Communism. Your protest will not benefit China, but the Soviet Union'."

First question: Who are these educated Chinese? What are their names? Has he spoken to them, communicated with them, or did he get this information from the Cominform?

Second question: Wallace's premise is that should Chiang Kai-shek fall, the United States would be in charge, to use his treacherous phrase, of a "Co-Misery Sphere, consisting of Japan, the port cities of China and Dutch Indonesia." In a word, if Chiang falls, China will be a political vacuum which some power will take over. Why, and this is my question, is Soviet Russia preferable to the United States of America from any standpoint?

The Chinese Communists have, within the past month, declared themselves part of Stalin's international machinery by a normal Cominform device. All the Stalinist parties were required to declare that Tito was wrong. The Chinese Communists signed on the dotted line, proving their obedient orthodoxy.

Therefore, should the Chinese Communist conquer China, they would act as the Czech and Hungarian Communists acted in their countries—namely as puppets of the Cominform. Why, and this is the third question, does Henry Wallace prefer that? Is it because he also is a puppet, and birds of a feather flock together? Does he believe that world peace will be achieved if all the nations of the earth are members of the Cominform, presided over by Andrei Zhdanov?

His quotation from the mayor of Shanghai is accurate and the mayor's views are accurate, but Henry Wallace's mind is so distorted that he really does not understand what he says and picks a quotation to disprove his point. That is all right with Henry because in his argument at Philadelphia with Westbrook Pegler and H. L. Mencken, he established that he was wrong and they were right and that he did not know it.

Wallace in this same article attacks the Christian missionaries in China. He says:

". . . Some are said to serve as spies for the Kuomintang or for the American embassy, and these are looked on with increasing suspicion. . . . When Christians get into politics against the people they must always expect trouble, because they then cease to be Christians."

I do not wish to enter into a discussion with Wallace on the application of Christianity to politics. He once wrote on this subject and said just the opposite of his implications in this article. Henry not only changes his tune but forgets that he is singing.

However, the magazine, "China Missionary," publishes the names of the Catholic missionaries who have been murdered by the Communists in China since the end of the war with Japan. The list gives 45 victims of authenticated murder (shooting, bayonetting, beating, dragged to death), 24 who died in prison, 2 who died immediately after release from prison, 11 who were led off into captivity and have never been heard from since, and presumed dead, and 4 listed as probably dead or executed in prison.

Henry Wallace says nothing about that. Maybe he now believes that murder is a fine thing done by the right people in the right cause.

SWARTZ CHURCH TO HOLD REVIVAL

The Baptist Church at Swartz will start a revival today and will continue through the eleventh of the month. There will be services daily at 10 a.m. and 7:45 p.m.

The pastor, Rev. Horace J. Taylor, reports they have completed a week of prayer meetings in homes with six units meeting nightly.

On next Sunday there will be a homecoming held and the former pastor, Rev. Miley will preach and there will be old-time singing.

BIBLE THOUGHTS

Therefore thou shalt love the Lord thy God, and keep his charge, and his statutes, and his judgments, and his commandments, always. — Deuteronomy 11:1.

Let the ground of all thy religious actions be obedience; examine not why it is commanded, but observe it because it is commanded. True obedience neither procrastinates nor questions.—Francis Quarles.

What Others Say

Editors' Roundtable

U. S. VS. COMMUNISTS

Confidence in F. B. I. investigation leads the large majority of editors to believe that the government has a real case against the Communist party leaders indicted for conspiracy against the United States form of government. Majority opinion is that announcement of the indictments on the eve of the Progressive (Wallace) party convention and while the Berlin crisis continues is not a "coincidence." However, only a very small minority fears that the government might be rushing out on an unsafe legal limb in a gesture against communism and Russia.

MANCHESTER (N. H.) Morning Union (Ind.): "There is no guesswork in the action against the 12 ranking Communists named in the present indictment. A federal grand jury has been working on this case for more than a year. Moreover the F. B. I. knows what it is doing; it does not act without the facts. . . . It has been working for a long time on Communist purposes and activities in the United States and it has abundant evidence for the charges of conspiracy which have now been made."

GREENSBORO (N. C.) Daily News (Ind.): "The indictment has two counts. The first charges that the defendants violated the Smith act by conspiring to overthrow the government and by teaching its overthrow by force and violence. The second charges them with being members of a group advocating such overthrow. . . . If . . . there were no overt acts, the gist of the government's case may be that the defendants belonged to an organization which taught overthrow of the government by force and violence as a tenet of its belief. But the United States supreme court is reluctant to allow conviction for belief."

COMMUNIST DAILY WORKER, New York City: "The Communist party . . . has been a public party for 30 years. Despite a thousand slanders and lies hurled against it, no one has ever been able to prove that it advocates conspiracy, or 'overthrow of the government by force and violence.' No one will ever be able to prove it, because it is false."

CANTON (Ohio) Repository (Rep.): "In the forthcoming trial of the 12 American Communists charged with conspiracy to overthrow this government . . . the U. S. department of justice . . . says it will use statements out of the mouths of the accused to show their intention. It also will bring into evidence their overt acts to show what they have been doing. The Communist party of the United States, according to Benjamin Gitlow, old-time Commie who was expelled from the party in 1929, received financial grants from Moscow when it was still known as the Workers' party. It was openly the American section of the Communist International."

PHILADELPHIA (Pa.) Bulletin (Ind.): "The Smith act of 1940 provides a maximum penalty of ten years in prison and $10,000 fine for anyone proved to have knowingly advocated or abetted the government's overthrow by violence. It isn't necessary to have committed actual acts of sabotage under this law, and the grand jury found that none that would hold up in court could be attributed to the 12 accused. There is no doubt about the ends sought by the Communists. . . . Wherever Communists have protested their democratic intentions, and have subsequently gained power, it hasn't taken them long to show that they were blandly lying. Their violent aims are written into fundamental party doctrine."

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) Post-Dispatch (Ind.-Dem.): "In this sense (timing with Berlin crisis) the grand jury's action is an encroachment on foreign policy. It might seriously embarrass the state department. Peoples in other lands . . . might easily be led to believe—and the Soviet press is sure to try to convince them—that the grand jury's action represents official American policy. So we're from Missouri. We want to be shown that the 12 Communist leaders have committed treasonable acts before we believe that the grand jury is justified in its action."

DENVER (Colo.) Post (Ind.): "The indictment and arrest of the entire top leadership of the Communist party in the United States shows how serious the Berlin 'seige' has become in the eyes of Washington leaders. It can hardly be a coincidence that the indictments came just at this time. . . . It may seem inconceivable to us, but Russia apparently has received from her operatives such a distorted idea of the strength of the Wallaceite appeasers in this country that she does not fully realize she is gambling on the chance of atomic war by taking such an unyielding attitude toward Berlin."

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Pitching Horseshoes

By Billy Rose

If any freak show proprietor is looking for a two-headed man, I know where he can hire one cheap.

This believe-it-or-noddity has an interesting case history. When he was born on the east side 48 years ago, he had only one head. But right after his 21st birthday, he began to sprout another. Today, he's a badly confused man—his two brains seldom agree on anything. As a result, he doesn't know whose corner he's in, what team he's rooting for, which cheering section he belongs to.

Billy Rose

Let me give you a for-instance. He owns ten shares of Standard Oil of New Jersey. Therefore, head No. 1 wants the price of gasoline to go up. But he also owns a car. Ergo, head No. 2 wants the price of gas to go down.

Consider his tax problem: This fellow fancies himself a liberal. He's in favor of more social security, more T. V. A.'s, socialized medicine, old age pensions, and so on. This, of course, involves a high tax rate. Head No. 1 says it doesn't mind. Head No. 2 says it'll be darned if it's going to knock itself out working and have a tax collector wind up with the dough on March 15.

What are the political beliefs of this curio? Is he a Communist? Yes and no. Is he a Republican? No and yes. After talking the matter over with him, it's my hunch that he's a Communist-Republican. He thinks Wallace has some good, economic notions, but he wants Dewey to carry them out.

The personal problem of this two-headed bozo are even more pathetic. When he was a youth, he used to press his nose against Sulka's window on Fifth Avenue and dream of the day when he could afford a hand-painted cravat. Now that he has enough scratch to fill several drawers with them, his new head tells him that hand-painted cravats are corny and not in keeping with the dignity of his station.

At mealtimes, the poor chap is in an even worse quandary. When he was a kid, he could eat potatoes and butter all day long and still have a figure like an ironing board. At the time, he was lucky to have mustard to put on his hot dog. Today, when he can buy the goodies he used to long for, he's got a built-in cantaloupe under his vest, and his wife warns him that the hot rolls he loves are crawling with calories. Head No. 1 tells him that everybody loves a fat man. Head No. 2 spouts insurance statistics about fat men dying young. Consequently, he dines on Ry-Krisp and buttermilk and has a box of candy stashed away under the bed.

Consider his love-life. He's married to a pretty girl and likes to show her off. When they go to a party, he wants her to knock everybody's eyes out. But his wife's idea of being well-dressed is to wear a hat that looks like a lop-sided bird cage—price tag, $49. When he gets the bills at the end of the month, his two heads give him a bad time. Head No. 1 says it's silly to let her spend 49 fish for some twisted wire and a few tassels. Head No. 2 says, "Stop beefing, you cheapskate. Wives are a lot happier with $49 bird cages than they are with the ones that cost $3.95 in a bargain basement."

In addition to having to put up with two heads, of late this freak has been standing on one foot, wondering which way to jump. His awkward stance has been brought on by the war talk in the newspapers. Head No. 1 advises, "Relax, old boy, and live the good life. You've got a house, a missus to share it with, a television set and a few bob in the bank." But head No. 2 says, "You're living on borrowed time, chum. Cash in your bonds and get drunk. Any day now, someone will drop an atom bomb. . . ."

Side-show entrepreneurs who are interested in the services of this two-headed citizen can address their inquiries to the Ziegfeld Theater, Sixth Avenue and 54th Street, New York 18, N. Y.

Corporate Financial Success

The current issue of the C. I. O.'s "Outlook" is devoted to proving that a "mere handful" of persons control this nation's big corporations. About one out of every 20 adults owns corporation stock. the C. I. O.'s department of research and education reports belittlingly.

So what is that designed to prove? That ordinary Americans are a have-not people? Name some other country in which one out of 20 owns corporate stock, and there'll be at least ground for debate.

Is the C. I. O. trying to make it appear that the American worker doesn't have enough, after existing, to invest in stocks? The enormous investment in insurance, savings accounts, war bonds makes that silly. So does the almost unbelievable spending on amusements, recreation, travel, liquor, race track gambling and the like.

The real reason for this report, in the midst of third round wage demands, looks rather clear. It seems to be an attempt to suggest that the average American, having no corporate stock in his name, shouldn't worry if wage boosts squeeze profits out of company operations.

That is hitting below the belt. The C. I. O.'s economists are smart, well-informed men. They know that every American has a direct stake in the profitable operation of this country's industry and commerce.

They know that there would be no wages at all, big or small, if there weren't employment. They know that there can be employment only as long as business can make—or look forward to making—enough profit to attract capital to finance the maintenance and replacement and expension of plant.

And they know more than that. They know that tens of millions have savings accounts, and that the savings banks mostly are mutual—which means that they are owned by their depositors. They know that huge chunks of assets are invested in corporate bonds and stocks—that the monthly interest, and even the safety of the principal—depends on corporate profits.

The life insurance companies have $46,500,000,000 invested. That money is not J. P. Morgan's, or John D. Rockefeller's, or U. S. Steel's. It is yours and your neighbor's. The poorer your neighbor is, the more probability that this money of his, saved and invested through an insurance company, is his protection against an unmarked grave in Potter's Field.

Of that money of yours, $15,700,000,000 is in corporate stocks and bonds. Its income is from corporate profits. Its safety depends upon profitable corporate operation.

Don't let the C. I. O. or anybody else persuade you that the American wage-earner doesn't have a direct, selfish interest in corporate profits, merely because he chooses to put his money into savings, insurance, government bonds, instead of common stocks. Whoever tries to tell you that is either ignorant or vicious.

GOVERNMENT IN BUSINESS

The federal government, through its legislative enactments, executive enforcement and judicial interpretations, now has substantial control of the coal mines and the railroads.

This is theoretically a free enterprise nation, but disputes between contending factions have been carried to the point that the national economy is threatened. Old laws covering the ground are being applied more vigorously, and stiffer ones are proposed.

The whole trend today is toward more and more government decision in industrial affairs. At the end of that road is either complete government control or government ownership. There is little difference between the two.

It is strange that this trend continues against what both sides regard as their best interests. Industrial management always has striven for a minimum of government interference. Labor should be aware that the stronger government becomes, the more danger there is of suppression of the labor movement or of channeling it so that labor has no voice.

The only way in which this trend can be reversed is for management and labor to find enough common ground so they can settle their own affairs amicably. If, as management contends, labor is given unfair advantages by present laws, and interpretation of them, it is the duty of congress to legislate.

SUPER-SUPER-DUPER

In California, with its immense vistas and its vast, misty ideas, a practical food merchant comes out with a proposal for the super-duper market of the future.

Under a single roof, which would presumably be about a mile square, the shopper could get a filet of sole, a half-sole job, a bunch of roses, a shave, a sack of potatoes, a savings bond, a fifth of Scotch, a hat, a box of candy, a hairdo, a ham, a fur coat, a batch of stamps, and any other little items he might want.

He, or she, could park his car in an underground garage (still under the same roof), make a bank deposit, leave his laundry, park his children at a free nursery, pay all his bills.

He could ride around the place in an electric go-cart, with space in back for packages and in front for Junior to sit and pretend he's driving the contraption.

We wonder what congressmen who fear chain stores will end by putting everyone in chains will make of this super-colossal proposition. Why, the man's market of the future will be bigger than the Pentagon Building.

It has everything—with one exception. There's no provision for search parties to find people who have been lost in the place for more than three days.

IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, July 31 — Veteran character star, Eugene Pallette, ill for the past year, has discarded his make-up kit for keeps and will retire to his Washington ranch. . . . Time out for Willard Parker, recuperating from an emergency appendectomy. . . . I hear that Cara Williams and Gene Wesson have revived marriage plans and set Thanksgiving Day for the ceremoney. . . . Ha! Artie Shaw, currently toiling on his autobiography, has passed the 90,000-word mark but insists the tome is only one-third done! . . . Joan Davis "isn't talking," but rumor insists that she's given Danny Elman the brush and canceled wedding plans.

Annabella has hung "For Sale" signs on her Paris house and decided to make Hollywood her permanent home; pals say she'll try, again, for a career in American pictures. . . . Reconciled: Doris Day and her estranged spouse, Georg. Weidler. . . . Maria Montez can't be too serious about staying in France "indefinitely;" she engaged one of Hollywood's most expensive press agents to keep her name in the limelight here while she's gone.

Dutch Actress Joanne de Bergh ("Call Northside 777") is bedded with a severe case of sulfa poisoning. . . . Look for wholesale firings at MGM within the next few weeks, with many of the studio's high-salaried players and executives getting the axe in the interest of economy. . . . That much-publicized romance twixt Mickey Rooney and M'liss McClure is colder than a mint julep. . . . Sorry to report that veteran Character Actor George E. Stone is seriously ill.

PREVIEW NIGHTS: Pic of the week: Allied Artists' "The Babe Ruth Story" (William Bendix-Claire Trevor-Charles Bickford). A cinematic home-run that will appeal to every type of audience. . . . RECOMMENDED: RKO's "The Velvet Touch" (Rosalind Russell-Leo Genn-Claire Trevor-Sidney Greenstreet). Comedy-drama, perfectly tailored to complement Rosalind Russell's talents. . . . GOOD: Republic's "Daredevils of the Clouds" (Robert Livingston-Mae Clark-Grant Withers). A "Class B" thriller that will steal the spotlight from the majority of "colossals" teamed with it. . . . SO-SO: Republic's "Eyes of Texas" (Roy Rogers-Lynne Roberts-Andy Devine). A low spot in a western series which seldom sags. . . . LOW BRIDGE: Eagle-Lion's "Lady at Midnight" (Richard Denning-Frances Rafferty). Six reels of yawn. . . . BEST PERFORMANCE: Rosalind Russell in "The Velvet Touch."

I hear that the Johnston Office is making irate inquiries in an effort to find out how one Brenda Allen, recently convicted on a morals charge, happens to be listed in the official "Players Directory" as a "leading lady" despite the fact that she has never played a movie lead and is not a professional actress. It seems that the Johnston Office gentry are concerned because they fear such a phony listing casts discredit on the movie industry. Personally I think they're putting the cart before the horse. The American public is quite sane in the way it makes its judgments. It's not the Brenda Allens, who falsely claim an affiliation with the industry, but rather the actual members of the industry who persist in scandalous peccadillos, that cast discredit on the film colony.

In today's publicity barrage is the following delectable tidbit: "Cameraman Don Hayes, shooting stills of John Wayne and Adele Mara at Badlwin Lake, where Republic is filming 'Wake of the Red Witch,' placed all of his used flash bulbs in a remote spot among the tall marsh grasses, carefully heeding the company's policy to keep the location uncluttered. The following day a duck was observed sitting patiently on the flash bulbs. Speculation is rife as to just what is going to hatch out."

I think I can hazard a guess. If that story gets wide enough publication, the wistful duck is practically sure to hatch out dozens of similar yarns.

The death of D. W. Griffith, despite the fact that he had been inactive in the picture industry for many years, called forth the usual deluge of "tributes" from industry toppers. Certainly, Griffith deserved the praise so tardily bestowed, for his early day pictures were milestones of screen progress. But I'm wondering if the studio bosses who lauded him took time out to evaluate the No. 1 reason for his greatness as a producer-director. It lies, I think, in the fact that his pictures were always "one-man" productions. Griffith was the supreme individualist, a man who insisted on making all the decisions himself. In short, he was the all-round genius that Orson Welles wants to be. He would have been completely frustrated by the big studio system of today which turns every bowl of cinematic broth over to an army of cooks. Griffith's one-man system is idea—but unfortunately it depends on the one man being that rarest of all creatures, a REAL genius.

FARM SUBSIDIES

It is estimated that approximately 25 per cent of the families in the United States are now living beyond their incomes, are supplementing their incomes with savings or borrowed money to meet the cost of living. That is a most serious matter. The way things are now going, this percentage will likely increase. What will happen when their savings are used up and their borrowing power comes to an end?

Our present high cost of living has been brought on by a number of causes. One of them is the matter of farm subsidies. Take Irish potatoes as an illustration. The government guarantees the grower a certain price. In order to support this price, the government levies taxes on the people, uses this tax money to go into the market and buy these potatoes—uses some more tax money to buy some kerosene, soaks the potatoes with the kerosene, and burns them. The people are not only denied a lower price on potatoes; their own money is used to make certain that relief from the high cost of living is not obtained. Neither is the production of potatoes governed by the law of supply and demand; it makes no difference to the potato grower if there is a great overproduction, he gets a guaranteed price just the same—and the poor consumer, he never knows whether there is a good crop or not.

This is just one illustration; it runs all down the line—to wheat and corn and cotton and tobacco and many other commodities that have a lot to do with the high cost of living. The corn crop for this year is now estimated at one billion bushels over last year. What a boon this would be in bringing succor to the family budget—if it were allowed to do so, if the government did not step in and take some more of the people's tax money and buy enough of this corn to make sure that the family budget couldn't benefit from lower corn prices. Maybe they won't burn the corn, maybe they'll just give it away—the cost of living remains high.

The total cash receipts from farm crops in the United States during 1946 amounted to $10 billion; government payments amounted to $800 million. This means that the people are being taxed 8 per cent of the value of farm crops to see that they get no relief in their cost of living, so far as food is concerned. Perhaps it would help if the people just realized that, in effect, when they buy $1 worth of groceries, 8 cents of this is used to make sure they cannot buy the groceries for less than $1. Let's at least know what is happening to us!

And will such government support help even the farmers in the long run? Not if it is to be one of the agencies that drags the whole nation down to ruin! It is more than regrettable — it is tragic — that this problem should be made a political football to be kicked about by the politicians of both parties. This is something too fundamental to the happiness of the people to be handled in any such manner.

Yet the appeal of votes is so strong to the politicians that we find no relief in either party. The nominee of the Democratic party says the farmers should be worse than ingrates if they do not vote for him in the forthcoming election, claiming that his party is responsible for this greater income to the American farmers. Then he turns right around and calls a special session of congress to do something about high prices; and in doing so he asks for rationing and methods entirely inexcusable in a free democratic country in time of peace! And the Republicans, in this connection at least, are only giving lip service to combating inflation. They talk vociferously about the need for increased production and lower prices, and yet one of the last acts of the eightieth congress was a measure containing farm price subsidies, and their platform is innocuous in this respect.

It is still up to the people of this country to inform themselves as to what is going on; it is up to the people to demand of those they employ to run their government for them—the president and the congress and all the others—that they shall conduct it in the interest of the general welfare.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Bible Comment For August 8
By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

During the year of the 172nd anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, a new state of Israel is struggling for existence.

The time seems appropriate to review the history of the Jews in their homeland, their original settlement, their exiles, their efforts for return and restoration, their dispersion throughout the world, their persistency under centuries of persecution, and the dream of re-establishing a national life once more in the land so marked by long experiences of tragedy and glory.

The life of Israel in Palestine began when Abraham, forsaking his home and idolatrous environment in far-off Ur of Chaldea, in the pioneer spirit, established a new civilization in the way that the Book of Genesis so vividly describes.

That civilization took root and lasted until famine took the people of Egypt, where Joseph, the child of tragedy, had become the man of destiny and power. There under his favor and protection the Jewish people flourished. But their traditional prosperity brought enemies, and when a Pharaoh arose who "knew not Joseph," enslavement and oppression began.

The story of deliverance under Moses and of leadership back to their homeland is written in history and in glowing pages of the Bible. Like the return of today, it had sad as well as noble aspects. That was the first return, and the land had to be reconquered.

Then came the long development through various vicissitudes, until the Kingdom of Israel became strong and consolidated under Kings David and Solomon. The glory of Solomon tarnished in the division and disruption into two kingdoms of all that he had built. Both kingdoms were to fall shortly, the one in dispersion never to be restored, the other in exile to Babylon.

The return from that exile and the rebuilding, described in the Books of Ezra and Nehemiah, was the second return. That re-establishment of the Jewish people lasted, amid various changes and conflicts, until 70 A.D., when the Roman legions besieged and destroyed Jerusalem, and the seemingly final dispersion of the Jews began. Will it really be final, or will the new Jewish state of Israel be established in ultimate security and peace?

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

WALLACE ON CHINA

Rebecca West, reporting on Wallace's press conference in Philadelphia, reaches the sad conclusion that Wallace does not know what he is talking about on the subject of Yugoslavia. I wish to report that Henry Wallace does not know what he is talking about on the subject of China. This is what he says:

"Educated Chinese, who know that Chiang's days are numbered, nevertheless fear that U. S. foreign policy will finally result, after Chiang's fall, in America's controlling what might be called a 'Co-Misery Sphere,' consisting of Japan, the port cities of China and Dutch Indonesia. They fear that in the final showdown it would be Japan that would dominate this area rather than the U. S. Others ask what difference it makes whether Chinese slavery is continued directly, through the U. S. and Chiang, or indirectly, through Japan. The Chinese students who have been demonstrating against the American policy of rebuilding Japan have been told by the U. S. ambassador that they must stop or 'prepare to take the consequences.' The mayor of Shanghai told the students, 'America's policy toward Japan is concentrated on preventing the spread of Communism. Your protest will not benefit China, but the Soviet Union'."

First question: Who are these educated Chinese? What are their names? Has he spoken to them, communicated with them, or did he get this information from the Cominform?

Second question: Wallace's premise is that should Chiang Kai-shek fall, the United States would be in charge, to use his treacherous phrase, of a "Co-Misery Sphere, consisting of Japan, the port cities of China and Dutch Indonesia." In a word, if Chiang falls, China will be a political vacuum which some power will take over. Why, and this is my question, is Soviet Russia preferable to the United States of America from any standpoint?

The Chinese Communists have, within the past month, declared themselves part of Stalin's international machinery by a normal Cominform device. All the Stalinist parties were required to declare that Tito was wrong. The Chinese Communists signed on the dotted line, proving their obedient orthodoxy.

Therefore, should the Chinese Communist conquer China, they would act as the Czech and Hungarian Communists acted in their countries—namely as puppets of the Cominform. Why, and this is the third question, does Henry Wallace prefer that? Is it because he also is a puppet, and birds of a feather flock together? Does he believe that world peace will be achieved if all the nations of the earth are members of the Cominform, presided over by Andrei Zhdanov?

His quotation from the mayor of Shanghai is accurate and the mayor's views are accurate, but Henry Wallace's mind is so distorted that he really does not understand what he says and picks a quotation to disprove his point. That is all right with Henry because in his argument at Philadelphia with Westbrook Pegler and H. L. Mencken, he established that he was wrong and they were right and that he did not know it.

Wallace in this same article attacks the Christian missionaries in China. He says:

". . . Some are said to serve as spies for the Kuomintang or for the American embassy, and these are looked on with increasing suspicion. . . . When Christians get into politics against the people they must always expect trouble, because they then cease to be Christians."

I do not wish to enter into a discussion with Wallace on the application of Christianity to politics. He once wrote on this subject and said just the opposite of his implications in this article. Henry not only changes his tune but forgets that he is singing.

However, the magazine, "China Missionary," publishes the names of the Catholic missionaries who have been murdered by the Communists in China since the end of the war with Japan. The list gives 45 victims of authenticated murder (shooting, bayonetting, beating, dragged to death), 24 who died in prison, 2 who died immedately after release from prison, 11 who were led off into captivity and have never been heard from since, and presumed dead, and 4 listed as probably dead or executed in prison.

Henry Wallace says nothing about that. Maybe he now believes that murder is a fine thing done by the right people in the right cause.

SWARTZ CHURCH TO HOLD REVIVAL

The Baptist Church at Swartz will start a revival today and will continue through the eleventh of the month. There will be services daily at 10 a.m. and 7:45 p.m.

The pastor, Rev. Horace J. Taylor, reports they have completed a week of prayer meetings in homes with six units meeting nightly.

On next Sunday there will be a homecoming held and the former pastor, Rev. Miley will preach and there will be old-time singing.

BIBLE THOUGHTS

Therefore thou shalt love the Lord thy God, and keep his charge, and his statutes, and his judgments, and his commandments, always. — Deuteronomy 11:1.

Let the ground of all thy religious actions be obedience; examine not why it is commanded, but observe it because it is commanded. True obedience neither procrastinates nor questions.—Francis Quarles.

What Others Say

U. S. VS. COMMUNISTS

Confidence in F. B. I. investigation leads the large majority of editors to believe that the government has a real case against the Communist party leaders indicted for conspiracy against the United States form of government. Majority opinion is that announcement of the indictments on the eve of the Progressive (Wallace) party convention and while the Berlin crisis continues is not a "coincidence." However, only a very small minority fears that the government might be rushing out on an unsafe legal limb in a gesture against communism and Russia.

MANCHESTER (N. H.) Morning Union (Ind.): "There is no guesswork in the action against the 12 ranking Communists named in the present indictment. A federal grand jury has been working on this case for more than a year. Moreover the F. B. I. knows what it is doing; it does not act without the facts. . . . It has been working for a long time on Communist purposes and activities in the United States and it has abundant evidence for the charges of conspiracy which have now been made."

GREENSBORO (N. C.) Daily News (Ind.): "The indictment has two counts. The first charges that the defendants violated the Smith act by conspiring to overthrow the government and by teaching its overthrow by force and violence. The second charges them with being members of a group advocating such overthrow. . . . If . . . there were no overt acts, the gist of the government's case may be that the defendants belonged to an organization which taught overthrow of the government by force and violence as a tenet of its belief. But the United States supreme court is reluctant to allow conviction for belief."

COMMUNIST DAILY WORKER, New York City: "The Communist party . . . has been a public party for 30 years. Despite a thousand slanders and lies hurled against it, no one has ever been able to prove that it advocates conspiracy, or 'overthrow of the government by force and violence.' No one will ever be able to prove it, because it is false."

CANTON (Ohio) Repository (Rep.): "In the forthcoming trial of the 12 American Communists charged with conspiracy to overthrow this government . . . the U. S. department of justice . . . says it will use statements out of the mouths of the accused to show their intention. It also will bring into evidence their overt acts to show what they have been doing. The Communist party of the United States, according to Benjamin Gitlow, old-time Commie who was expelled from the party in 1929, received financial grants from Moscow when it was still known as the Workers' party. It was openly the American section of the Communist International."

PHILADELPHIA (Pa.) Bulletin (Ind.): "The Smith act of 1940 provides a maximum penalty of ten years in prison and $10,000 fine for anyone proved to have knowingly advocated or abetted the government's overthrow by violence. It isn't necessary to have committed actual acts of sabotage under this law, and the grand jury found that none that would hold up in court could be attributed to the 12 accused. There is no doubt about the ends sought by the Communists. . . . Wherever Communists have protested their democratic intentions, and have subsequently gained power, it hasn't taken them long to show that they were blandly lying. Their violent aims are written into fundamental party doctrine."

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) Post-Dispatch (Ind.-Dem.): "In this sense (timing with Berlin crisis) the grand jury's action is an encroachment on foreign policy. It might seriously embarrass the state department. Peoples in other lands . . . might easily be led to believe—and the Soviet press is sure to try to convince them—that the grand jury's action represents official American policy. So we're from Missouri. We want to be shown that the 12 Communist leaders have committed treasonable acts before we believe that the grand jury is justified in action."

DENVER (Colo.) Post (Ind.): "The indictment and arrest of the entire top leadership of the Communist party in the United States shows how serious the Berlin 'seige' has become in the eyes of Washington leaders. It can hardly be a coincidence that the indictments came just at this time. . . . It may seem inconceivable to us, but Russia apparently has received from her operatives such a distorted idea of the strength of the Wallaceite appeasers in this country that she does not fully realize she is gambling on the chance of atomic war by taking such an unyielding attitude toward Berlin."

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Pitching Horseshoes

By Billy Rose

If any freak show proprietor is looking for a two-headed man, I know where he can hire one cheap.

This believe-it-or-noddity has an interesting case history. When he was born on the east side 48 years ago, he had only one head. But right after his 21st birthday, he began to sprout another. Today, he's a badly confused man—his two brains seldom agree on anything. As a result, he doesn't know whose corner he's in, what team he's rooting for, which cheering section he belongs to.

Billy Rose

Let me give you a for-instance. He owns ten shares of Standard Oil of New Jersey. Therefore, head No. 1 wants the price of gasoline to go up. But he also owns a car. Ergo, head No. 2 wants the price of gas to go down.

Consider his tax problem: This fellow fancies himself a liberal. He's in favor of more social security, more T. V. A.'s, socialized medicine, old age pensions, and so on. This, of course, involves a high tax rate. Head No. 1 says it doesn't mind. Head No. 2 says it'll be darned if it's going to knock itself out working and have a tax collector wind up with the dough on March 15.

What are the political beliefs of this curio? Is he a Communist? Yes and no. Is he a Republican? No and yes. After talking the matter over with him, it's my hunch that he's a Communist-Republican. He thinks Wallace has some good economic notions, but he wants Dewey to carry them out.

The personal problem of this two-headed bozo are even more pathetic. When he was a youth, he used to press his nose against Sulka's window on Fifth Avenue and dream of the day when he could afford a hand-painted cravat. Now that he has enough scratch to fill several drawers with them, his new head tells him that hand-painted cravats are corny and not in keeping with the dignity of his station.

At mealtimes, the poor chap is in an even worse quandary. When he was a kid, he could eat potatoes and butter all day long and still have a figure like an ironing board. At the time, he was lucky to have mustard to put on his hot dog. Today, when he can buy the goodies he used to long for, he's got a built-in cantaloupe under his vest, and his wife warns him that the hot rolls he loves are crawling with calories. Head No. 1 tells him that everybody loves a fat man. Head No. 2 spouts insurance statistics about fat men dying young. Consequently, he dines on Ry-Krisp and buttermilk and has a box of candy stashed away under the bed.

Consider his love-life. He's married to a pretty girl and likes to show her off. When they go to a party, he wants her to knock everybody's eyes out. But his wife's idea of being well-dressed is to wear a hat that looks like a lop-sided bird cage—price tag, $49. When he gets the bills at the end of the month, his two heads give him a bad time. Head No. 1 says it's silly to let her spend 49 fish for some twisted wire and a few tassels. Head No. 2 says, "Stop beefing, you cheapskate. Wives are a lot happier with $49 bird cages than they are with the ones that cost $3.95 in a bargain basement."

In addition to having to put up with two heads, of late this freak has been standing on one foot, wondering which way to jump. His awkward stance has been brought on by the war talk in the newspapers. Head No. 1 advises, "Relax, old boy, and live the good life. You've got a house, a missus to share it with, a television set and a few bob in the bank." But head No. 2 says, "You're living on borrowed time, chum. Cash in your bonds and get drunk. Any day now, someone will drop an atom bomb. . . ."

Side-show entrepreneurs who are interested in the services of this two-headed citizen can address their inquiries to the Ziegfeld Theater, Sixth Avenue and 54th Street, New York 18, N. Y.

WHAT'S IN A NAME!....

Offhand, we could mention dozens of things . . . but the important ones are quickly and simply said . . . PRESTIGE and INTEGRITY. These are but two of the enduring values which have made the name of PEACOCK'S stand forth as the North Louisiana's leading jewelers. It's Prestige that adds the extra lilt of pride to a girl's announcement, "He chose my rings at PEACOCK'S." Prestige again that makes it the traditional place for gifts for every occasion. And Integrity . . . the very foundation of PEACOCK'S reputation . . . that has won the respect and confidence of men seeking honest value. Reputation is not a thing you can just jump up and claim, but something you must earn over many years of fair dealing. Yes, that is why you'll find these nationally famous names that are quickly recognized as the leaders in their respective fields at PEACOCK'S.

JES' RAMBLIN'

he remembers the kindly Mother deBethany, founder of St. Francis, who recently died in Ireland, admitting him and preparing him for the operating room. Mother deBethany was born in Ireland and since Mr. O'Sullivan is also of Irish descent, you can just bet he made a good listener to the stories she told him about the old country.

Of the three doctors attending him only one, Dr. J. Q. Graves, still survives. The young Dr. Faulk was killed in World War I, and Dr. O'Donnell passed on a number of years ago.

Yes, Monroe has made a lot of progress in the past thirty-five years, and Dan O'Sullivan, now retired from civil service, can tell you St. Francis Sanitarium has kept right up with the times.

It's going to be a baby show of different nature, for instead of proud papa and mama showing off their offspring, this time bigger brother and sister will place on exhibit their younger brothers and sisters. All playgrounds will stage such a show Friday at 10 a.m., and it won't be a "Beauty Contest" either. The entrants must not be more than three years of age, and they will be graded not for pulchritude but one will be deemed the most curly-headed; another the noisiest; and so down the line. There will be no less than a dozen classifications and everybody will have fun, even dad and mother in the far background.

Judge Frank Voelker, of Lake Providence, has been given the Silver Beaver award o fthe Boy Scouts of America for distinguished service to boyhood. He is a member of the juvenile court commission of Louisiana and has been actively engaged in Boy Scout work for 25 years, and at present is vice-president of the Ouachita Valley Council and chairman of the district leadership training commission.

"There is nothing funny about money," Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane warns in a booklet addressed to the investing public, released here yesterday by H. C. Mize, manager of the local office.

Merrill Lynch strips away the mystery that surrounds investment in the minds of many Americans. "How To nvest," the title of the booklet, makes no attempt to paint investment as a sure road to riches. In fact, Merrill Lynch says that if you do not have adequate insurance, cash reserves and a surplus in your yearly account you should not even consider investing.

"There is nothing funny about anything so hard to get and yet so easy to get rid of as money," the book states. "There are millions of Americans, however, who let themselves drift into money habits that are just plain ludicrous. They will work forty hours a week, fifty weeks a year, for a whole lifetime, to make money and yet they resent taking a couple of hours now and then to work seriously at the problem of using their money wisely."

Mr. Mize explained his company's conservative policy this way: "American industry needs billions of dollars for new equipment so that it can increase production and increase jobs. Our function as a brokerage and investment banking firm is to bring the industry that needs dollars and the man who has dollars together. But we believe that the man putting up his money should fully understand what he is doing. "How To invest" gives him the full story, the risks as well as the opportunities. America needs more doctors, and medicine is a fine and well-paying profession, yet it would be unfair to encourage every young man to try and become a doctor. We feel the same way about becoming an investor."

"'How to invest' tells the new investor the pitfalls to be avoided and the proper method of working out an investment plan. If investors followed the principles in this booklet we believe that they would save themselves not only money, but peace of mind," Mr. Mize said.

Little DeWitt Becket, favorite nephew of Mrs. D. T. Milam, 1704 Island drive, is grieving his young heart out because he has lost his pet Cocker Spaniel. It was to replace "Bitsey" who was killed by a speeding car in front of the Milam home. The new dog of the same breed was greeted with deep interest by his youthful possessor but in a single day's time it was stolen or wandered away from its new home. Mrs. Milam has advertised for its return but thus far has no response. She now asks Jes' Ramblin to get busy on the case. The dog is a black female and wears a tag which bears license number 202111. Who now will find and return this canine?

The most serious charge, that of conspiring aggressive war, was dismissed after a month's testimony for lack of evidence. The main reason for the dismissal was that the prosecution had aimed most of its evidence at old Gustav Krupp, then found him too ill to face trial. Alfried Krupp is his son. He entered active participation in the firm in 1943.

Those convicted, and their sentences, were:

Krupp, convicted on both remaining counts, 12 years.

Ewald O. Loeser, 60, finance and administration chief, convicted on both counts, seven years. (Loeser was absent today because of illness.)

Eduard Hourdemont, 52, Luxembourg-born metalurgist, convicted on both counts, 10 years.

Erich Mueller, 56, designer of the "Gustav" gun which blasted Stalingrad, convicted on both counts, 12 years.

Friedrich W. Janssen, 62, head of the Krupp Berlin office, convicted of both counts, 10 years.

Karl F. Eberhardt, 54, head of machine sales and war material, convicted on both counts, nine years.

Max Otto Ihn, 58, personnel chief, convicted on slave labor charge, nine years.

Heinrich L. Korschan, 54, director of Bertha Works in Breslau, convicted on slave labor charge, six years.

Friedrich Von Buelow, 59, Krupp liaison man with the Gestapo, convicted on slave labor charge, 12 years.

Werner L. Lehmann, 44, labor procurement official, convicted on slave labor charge, six years.

Hans Gustav Kupke, 63, head of foreign workers camps and experimental firing ranges, convicted on slave labor charge, two years, 10 months and 10 days.

In the case of Kupke, who received the mildest sentence, it was timed exactly to the length of time he has been imprisoned while the trial was prepared and conducted. Consequently he was ordered released immediately.

Officers attending the camp include: Col. George W. Trousdale, of Monroe, who is in command of the 199th; Col. James B. Hipple, executive officer, and Major John A. Carstarphen, regimental supply officer.

Activities of the two-week training will consist of advanced basic training in the morning, instruction of individual and crew-served weapons, and athletics.

The last two days of the camp will be devoted to the actual firing of all weapons, including rifles, carbines, pistols, mortars, machine guns and bazookas.

The 199th and 145th infantry regiments will train individually in tactical maneuvers.

Piling sensation on sensation, Miss Bentley named several other former government employes. She said there were two principal "groups" in the government with which she dealt: The Silvermaster group and the Perlo group. The latter, she said, was headed by Victor Perlo, formerly employed by the war production board.

She testified that the Perlo group included:

Allen Rosenberg of the foreign economic administration.

Donald Wheeler of the office of strategic services.

Edward Fitzgerald of the war production board.

Harry Magidoff of the Commerce department.

Charles Cramer, whom she identified as a former employe of a senate eeducation and labor subcommittee.

She said Cramer told her he was a long-time member of the Communist party, and she added that Rosenberg, Wheeler and Fitzgerald also belonged to it.

(Robert E. Stripling, counsel for the un-American activities committee, said later that Cramer's real name is Krivitsky, and that he worked at one time in the office of Senator Pepper (D.-Fla.).

Miss Bentley named as one member of the "Silvermaster group" William Taylor, a treasury employe whose position she did not know. She said he served in Portugal at one time.

She listed some of the other members of what she called the Silvermaster group as George Silverman, Frank Coe, William Gold and his wife, Irving Kaplan, and Norman Bursler. She said she believed that Silverman originally was employed by the railroad retirement board, and said that during the war he held an important civilian post with the air crops. She described Silverman as a dues-paying Communist who was a "proflific" source of information.

Miss Bentley also described Coe and Gold as Communists. All, she said, worked for the federal government.

The witness testified that John Abt of the CIO-PAC was in charge of "the Perlo group" before she came in contact with it. Other members of the Perlo group, she said, included Sol Leshinsky, an employe of the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration, and Harold Glasser of the treasury department. She said Glasser "never produced any information and we didn't consider him too valuable."

Miss Bentley testified yesterday to Ferguson's senate subcommittee, concentrating on her asserted dealings with young Remington when he was with the War Production Board early in the war. It was only before the house group, however, that she began reeling off the names of other government officials who served, she testified, as sources of information sought by the Kremlin.

Remington told the senators he would have left the government long ago except for "a firm conviction in my innocence."

Remington, who has been drawing $9,975 a year from the commerce department until placed on "indefinite leave" a month ago by Secretary Sawyer, has held several other positions with the government.

He startled the senate subcommittee today by testifying that he was offered a post with the super-secret atomic energy commission at the very time the F. B. I. was investigating his associations with Miss Bentley.

Although he said he was recommended for the atomic job by Arthur MacMahon, now a member of President Truman's loyaly board, he turned it down because of the F. B. I. investigation.

But, while that same inquiry was in progress, he swore that he served on a White House staff—President Truman's council of economic advisers—where he handled top secret data. Remington said that before he was placed on the White House staff he was interviewed by Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, Leon H. Keyserling, and other top-rank economic advisers to the president.

The commerce department post, which he took last spring, carried the title of "director of the export programs staff of the office of international trade." In that position, he testified, he presided over a committee which decided what "war potential" goods should be prohibited from export to Russia.

Remington told the senators that he resigned a naval reserve commission "by request" before he got his job with the commerce department. He explained that while he knew the F. B. I. was investigating his dealings with Miss Bentley at the time, he did not connect the navy's request for his resignation with the F. B. I. inquiry.

When Remington told of his responsibilities on the committee passing on the export of potential war equipment to Russia, Senator Ferguson asked "if Russia desired to place a spy in the American government do you know a more important spot to put him than that committee?"

The witness said he could think of "several thousand" places of more importance.

He told the senators he served in the navy as an ensign during the war, and received instruction then in the Russian language to enable him to translate Russian weather reports.

He said he stayed in the naval reserve after the war until April 2, 1947, when he resigned after conversations with two captains concerning his failure to answer a letter asking personnel information.

While Remington has denied turning over wartime secrets to Miss Bentley for the Russians, he acknowleged to the committee that he was associated with Communist sympathizers while attending Columbia University in New York City, after gradutaing from Darmouth.

He also testified that he believes his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Moos of Croton on Hudson, N. Y., to be a Communist, and that through her he became acquainted with Miss Bentley. Mrs. Moos, he said, was director of the Hessian Hill School at Croton on Hudson, and he expressed the belief that she became a Communist in late 1939 or 1940.

Her conduct at the school changed, he said—

"She became, God forbid, even more arbitrary."

He also said that Mrs. Moos distributed Communist literature at the school to six-year-olds.

Remington said that when he met Miss Bentley (whom he also knew as Helen Johnson) he thought her a newspaperwoman.

"It turned out she is a Communist, apparently the most dangerous kind of a Communist," he added.

Remington said he and his wife now are separated.

There was some conflict between testimony the committee got from Remington and that received yesterday from Thomas C. Blaisdell, Jr., acting asistant secretary of commerce.

Blaisdell had testified that at the time Remington was appointed, he did not tell him he had been under investigation by the FBI and a grand jury in connection with his association with Miss Bentley.

Remington said under oath that he had told Blaisdell about both matters. He added, however, that Blaisdell might not have listened to what he said. Pressed hard by the senators' questions, Remington finally acknowledged that he does not believe the words he used to Blaisdell "sunk in."

"To my very great regret I now feel that I misled him," Remington said.

The grand jury to which he referred was impanelled in New York months ago. It is the same one before which Miss Bentley appeared. Twelve Communist leaders have been indicted on charges of conspiring to destroy the United States government by force, as a result of the jury's investigation.

Miss Bentley testified that she became a Russian espionage agent as a result of a love affair with Russian-born Acob Golos. After he suffered a heart attack in 1942, she took over some of his work. But he died in 1944, and she said she became afraid and decided to quit working for the Communists.

A year later, she testified, she went to the FBI in New Haven, Conn., with her story, and on the advice of FBI agents, maintained her spy contacts for another year while they kept a close watch.

In addition to the persons she named on the "Silvermaster" and "Perlo" groups, Miss Bentley told the senators today that a number of other government employes supplied information to her.

These, she testified, included:

Duncan Lee, whom she identified as one of the legal advisers to Gen. William Donovan of the office of strategic services.

Helen Tenney, in the Spanish section of OSS.

J. Julius Joseph, once with the war manpower commission and later in the Japanese division of Oss; also Joseph's wife in the publicity division of CSS; also Joseph's wife in the publicity division of OSS.

Maurice Halperin, research and analysis branch of OSS.

Robert Miller, head of research for the coordinator of inter-American affairs.

Joseph Gregg, also employed by the CIAA.

Bernard Redmond, of the CIAA press division.

Michael Greenburg, whom she identified as working with Currie.

Asked what types of information Duncan Lee supplied, Miss Bentley said all types of information, highly secret, on what OSS was doing."

Senator Ferguson disclosed that his subcommittee has written Secretary of Commerce Sawyer asking for commerce department records showing how Remington happened to be given his latest government job.

Remington told reporters following the hearing that he had been planning for some time to resign from the government to enter private business.

"But I'm not resigning now," he said. I'm fighting this thing through."

HIGH PROFITS

the increase fell in the range of 25-55 per cent. Some very few boosted earnings three and four times higher than last year.

Steel companies ranged all the way from a modest fraction of one per cent to more than 100 per cent in gains over 1947. Most of them, however, showed a low rate of gain and a lot of them no gain at all in the first six months. In the latter class, profits in the second quarter seemed to turn upward from the 1947 level.

Construction organizations, including making of building materials and equipment, raced ahead of last year by 25 to 55 per cent, and some gains were even higher, including one company registering a rise of 505.4 per cent over thin profits a year ago. Two companies fell below a year ago by 49 and 65 per cent.

Utilities are almost evenly divided between those increasing their margin of profit over last year and those dropping below the 1947 level. On the extremes, the movement above or below 1947 is almost the same.

Automobile manufacturers made notable gains from a year ago when they were troubled with strikes and shortages of materials.

In many a miscellaneous industry, the trend was the same—healthy gains over last year. This pattern followed through samples of textiles, paper, carpets and makers of consumer goods.

A small group of early reports from food processors and distillers showed profits receding from 1947 in almost every instance.

The reason for the upswing is found in higher prices and expanded sales.

UNEXPECTED MOVE

men he could not predict when he will leave the Russian capital.

(In London, a responsible British diplomat said the U. S., Britain and France had given to Russia in writing their terms for entering into four-power negotiations to end the east-west cold war.

(He said when Smith, Roberts and Chataigneau saw Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin last night, they left aide memoires with him. They were written versions of their oral statements to him.

(The British diplomat said the western statements to Zorin made it clear that:

1—They reject Russia's argument that their right to remain in Berlin has been forfeited by their decision to set up a west German government.

(2—They intend to stay in Berlin.

(3—They are prepared to talk things over with the Russians, not only on Berlin and other German problems, but also on east-west differences all over Europe.

(4—While ready for these talks on the highest levels, they first expect Russia to restore traffic links between Berlin and the western occupation zones, and to drop other forms of pressure against the western powers.)

Moltov apparently returned from a vacation in view of the urgency of the subjects being pressed by the western powers. When the western representatives requested interviews with him yesterday they were informed by the Russian foreign office that Molotov was "out of town."

DEMOCRATS

Wallace, Progressive presidential candidate, "a man willing to face the abuse, the red-baiting, the villification and ridicule and speak out against this madness."

Of himself, he said:

"I don't know what the outcome of this political campaign is going to be. I know that I will be fortunate if I retain my liberty and freedom of action because we have gone a long way down the road toward fascism • • •."

Taylor opened his speech with a blistering attack on the press, which he accused of distorting news, omitting news "contrary to the big business point of view and deliberate falsehoods which are fed to the people by syndicated writers and editorial columns."

"I am forced to state," he said, "that some of the syndicated columnists (which he did not name) have reached an all time low in the way they have deliberately misrepresented the events which transpired at that (the recent Progressive) convention. Their flat statements that Communists were in control for example had no foundation in fact."

"• • • In view of the degeneration of the press into a tool of special interests, we can be thankful for the development of radio. • • • I believe that television will be an even greater instrument for the enlightenment of the American people. Neither an editorializing columnist or a radio commentator can distort the facts when the people can both see and hear what is transpiring."

SHERIFF CLOSES CATAHOULA BAR

JONESVILLE, La., July 31.—(Special)—The Veterans Bar, located on highway 84 near the Catahoula-LaSalle parish line, has been closed by Sheriff Fred Fairbanks because of numerous violations of the law.

The sheriff said the bar was selling whiskey and beer to minors, selling to persons already intoxicated, retailing whiskey by the drink on a package liquor store license and allowing package goods to be opened and drunk on the premises.

Fairbanks has asked the Louisiana division of the United States Brewers Foundation and the Wine and Spirits Foundation of the state to halt the supply of all beer and liquors to the establishment.

However, Louis Davis, operator of the Veterans Bar, already has moved his stock and fixtures and the place remains closed.

DEEPEST LA. WELL HIT IN LAFOURCHE

HOUSTON, Tex., July 31.—(AP)—The Texas Company today claimed the deepest producing well in Louisiana, with completion of the Leeville L. L. and E. No. 111 at 14,087 feet in the Leeville field, LaFourche parish.

Located a quarter-mile off the southeast flank of the field, the well flowed at the rate of 303 barrels daily through a 5/32-inch choke.

Tubing pressure was 1,900 pounds, the oil and gas ratio 909 to 1, and the corrected gravity 29.5.

Total depth was 14,473, with perforations at 14,074 to 14,087 feet.

The company announcement said the previously reported deepest Louisiana producer was Shell's Smith State Unit B, well No. 2, Weeks Island, completed June 12 at 14,015 to 14,040 feet.

SHREVEPORT MAN NAMED LA. L. O. C. C. ENVOY

BATON ROUGE, La., July 31.—(AP)—Norman V. Kensey of Shreveport today was named to represent Louisiana on the interstate oil compact commission.

Gov. Earl K. Long appointed Kensey, a gas engineer who has been active in the industry both in Louisiana and Texas. Kensey succeeds Leland Richardson of Baton Rouge, appointed by Former Gov. Jimmie H. Davis.

The commission consists of representatives of 21 oil and gas producing states. It works towards prevention of waste of the resources.

Kensey is scheduled to attend the next meeting, Aug. 30 in New York City.

Louisiana Oil And Gas News

CONCORDIA PARISH CLAIMS WEEK'S LARGEST PRODUCER

Additional Yielders Also Brought In In Union, Franklin And Richland Parishes; Three New Locations Sited

Five new producers were brought in last week by drillers in Union, Franklin, Richland, and Concordia parishes, according to the Louisiana dpartment of conservation's weekly report revealed here yesterday.

New locations were footed out in two parishes, while no wells were reported abandoned in the past seven days.

The Lake St. John field in Concordia parish claimed the top producer, the Midstates Corporation's Hannah Sellars No. 2 in 51-9-10E. Drills penetrated to a total depth of 9,148 feet before coming up with a 265-barrel-a-day yield.

In the South Big Creek Field, the Ashland Oil and Refining Company's Sutler No. 3 in 20-16-8E, reached at a depth of 3,392 feet, came in with a yield of 260 barrels per day.

The Newton Oil Company's Nale No. 4 in 30-23-1E of the Truxno Field in Union parish, yielded a flow of 194 barrels per day at 2,273 feet.

Also in the Truxno Field, the Bagley and L. M. Calhoun Company's J. H. Nale No. 1 in 19-23-1E, came in with a yield of 120 barrels per day.

In 12-16-7E of the Big Creek Field in Richland parish, the Stanolind Oil and Gas Company's F. Roy Williams No. B-3, gave out with a yield of 111 barrels per day at 3,045 feet.

New locations last week were staked out in LaSalle and Union parishes. They were:

In the Urania Field of LaSalle parish, the Nelson & Edward Norris and A. M. Lloyd Company sited their King Estate No. 1 in 36-10-1E, and their L. Tullos No. 1 in 26-10-1E.

The Bagley and Calhoun Company established a new location in 19-23-1E of the Truxno Field of Union parish.

There were no abandonments over the past week.

OIL EXPLORATION SETS NEW RECORD

June Drilling, Exploration Peaks Sets New All-Time Record In Nation

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 31.—(Special)—Cil well drilling and exploration activities throuhout the nation set a new all-time record during June, according to figures compiled by the Interstate Oil Compact Commission.

As of the end of June, 2,314 rotary drilling rigs were in active operation and 623 geophysical and core drill crews working in the area covered by the commisison's report. This compares with a previous high of 2,203 active rotary drilling rigs and 562 geophysical and core drill crews reported at the end of April. In June, 1947, a total of 1,873 rotary drilling rigs were reported active and 355 geophysical and core drill crews engaged in exploratory work.

Oklahoma showed the largest increase in rotary drilling in June as compared with the previous month, the commission's report shows, there being 304 rigs running in the state in June as compared with 268 in May. This, however, is a slight decline from the peak of 312 rigs which were active in April.

In West Texas, New Mexico and North Texas, there were 587 rigs active in June, against 576 in May; in Gulf Coast area, 572 in June, compared with 524 in May; North Louisiana, East Texas and Arkansas, 166 in June, against 165 in May; California 193 in June, 172 in May; Kansas, 137 each month and Rocky Mountains, 156 each month. In Western Canada, 51 rigs were running in June, compared with 40 in May.

A steady gain in geophysical and core drilling activity is noted in statistics compiled by the Compact, there being 468 crews reported in January, 532 in February, 544 in March, 562 in April, 556 in May and 623 in June.

U. S. OIL YIELD GAINS OVER WEEK

Average Increase Is 7,580 Barrels Daily Over Previous 7-Day Figure

The Journal gave the week's total daily average production as 5,447,455 barrels.

Listed as areas with the greatest gains were:

Mississippi, up 12,745 barrels to 132,485 barrels, a new high for the year for that state; Michigan, up 2,200 barrels to 45,900; Colorado, 1,580 to 46,310, and Wyoming 1,730 to 150,410.

Increases of 430 barrels or less were credited to Alabama, Arkansas and Montana.

Principal declines were in Kansas, down 7,450 barrels to 292,900; Oklahoma off 3,250 to 420,200, and Indiana, Kentucky and California, all down 550 barrels or less.

Production was unchanged in Florida, Louisiana, Illinois, Nebraska, New Mexico and Texas.

The daily averages:

	July 24 Crude Oil	B of M July Demand	July17 Crude Oil
Louisiana	476,450	492,000	476,450
N. Louisiana ..	113,350		113,350
S. Louisiana ..	363,100		363,100
Mississippi ...	132,485	125,000	119,740

MISS. UPS OIL, GAS PRODUCTION

State Adds 124 Crude Wells, 14 Gassers During First Six Months

LAUREL, Miss., July 31.—(AP)—Mississippi has added 124 commercial oil wells and 14 gas wells to its production total so far this year. Seventy-five tests were abandoned as dry holes.

Eight tests, seven in proven fields and one in wildcat territory, were completed last week.

Testing is underway in the Springs Cottage area of Marion county on Humble Oil and Refining Company's Ernest R. Ford, et al No. 2.

The company is seeking to determine if the well can be made a commercial producer and open a new field in the state.

The well flowed at the rate of 4,480,000 cubic feet of gas and 53.5 barrels of 53 gravity condensate per day through a quarter-inch choke.

Other new producers were in the Baxterville, Yellow Creek, Mallalieu and Lagrange field.

All playgrounds will stage such a show Friday at 10 a.m., and it won't be a "Beauty Contest" either. The entrants must not be more than three years of age, and they will be graded not for pulchritude but one will be deemed the most curly-headed; another the noisiest; and so down the line. There will be no less than a dozen classifications and everybody will have fun, even dad and mother in the far background.

"There is nothing funny about money," Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane warns in a booklet addressed to the investing public, released here yesterday by H. C. Mize, manager of the local office.

Merrill Lynch strips away the mystery that surrounds investment in the minds of many Americans. "How To nvest," the title of the booklet, makes no attempt to paint investment as a sure road to riches. In fact, Merrill Lynch says that if you do not have adequate insurance, cash reserves and a surplus in your yearly account you should not even consider investing.

"There is nothing funny about anything so hard to get and yet so easy to get rid of as money," the book states. "There are millions of Americans, however, who let themselves drift into money habits that are just plain ludicrous. They will work forty hours a week, fifty weeks a year, for a whole lifetime, to make money and yet they resent taking a couple of hours now and then to work seriously at the problem of using their money wisely."

Mr. Mize explained his company's conservative policy this way: "American industry needs billions of dollars for new equipment so that it can increase production and increase jobs. Our function as a brokerage and investment banking firm is to bring the industry that needs dollars and the man who has dollars together. But we believe that the man putting up his money should fully understand what he is doing. "How To invest" gives him the full story, the risks as well as the opportunities. America needs more doctors, and medicine is a fine and well-paying profession, yet it would be unfair to encourage every young man to try and become a doctor. We feel the same way about becoming an investor."

"'How to invest' tells the new investor the pitfalls to be avoided and the proper method of working out an investment plan. If investors followed the principles in this booklet we believe that they would save themselves not only money, but peace of mind," Mr. Mize said.

countries and exploiting slave labor.

The most serious charge, that of conspiring aggressive war, was dismissed after a month's testimony for lack of evidence. The main reason for the dismissal was that the prosecution had aimed most of its evidence at old Gustav Krupp, then found him too ill to face trial. Alfried Krupp is his son. He entered active participation in the firm in 1943.

Those convicted, and their sentences, were:

Krupp, convicted on both remaining counts, 12 years.

Ewald O. Loeser, 60, finance and administration chief, convicted on both counts, seven years. (Loeser was absent today because of illness.)

Eduard Hourdemont, 52, Luxembourg-born metalurgist, convicted on both counts, 10 years.

Erich Mueller, 56, designer of the "Gustav" gun which blasted Stalingrad, convicted on both counts, 12 years.

Friedrich W. Janssen, 62, head of the Krupp Berlin office, convicted of both counts, 10 years.

Karl F. Eberhardt, 54, head of machine sales and war material, convicted on both counts, nine years.

Max Otto Ihn, 58, personnel chief, convicted on slave labor charge, nine years.

Heinrich L. Korschan, 54, director of Bertha Works in Breslau, convicted on slave labor charge, six years.

Friedrich Von Buelow, 59, Krupp liaison man with the Gestapo, convicted on slave labor charge, 12 years.

Werner L. Lehmann, 44, labor procurement official, convicted on slave labor charge, six years.

Hans Gustav Kupke, 63, head of foreign workers camps and experimental firing ranges, convicted on slave labor charge, two years, 10 months and 10 days.

In the case of Kupke, who received the mildest sentence, it was timed exactly to the length of time he has been imprisoned while the trial was prepared and conducted. Consequently he was ordered released immediately.

Neither Currie nor White, both of whom now live in New York, could be reached for immediate comment.

Piling sensation on sensation, Miss Bentley named several other former government employes. She said there were two principal "groups" in the government with which she dealt: The Silvermaster group and the Perlo group. The latter, she said, was headed by Victor Perlo, formerly employed by the war production board.

She testified that the Perlo group included:

Allen Rosenberg of the foreign economic administration.

Donald Wheeler of the office of strategic services.

Edward Fitzgerald of the war production board.

Harry Magidoff of the Commerce department.

Charles Cramer, whom she identified as a former employe of a senate eeducation and labor subcommittee.

She said Cramer told her he was a long-time member of the Communist party, and she added that Rosenberg, Wheeler and Fitzgerald also belonged to it.

(Robert E. Stripling, counsel for the un-American activities committee, said later that Cramer's real name is Krivitsky, and that he worked at one time in the office of Senator Pepper (D.-Fla.).

Miss Bentley named as one member of the "Silvermaster group" William Taylor, a treasury employe whose position she did not know. She said he served in Portugal at one time.

She listed some of the other members of what she called the Silvermaster group as George Silverman, Frank Coe, William Gold and his wife, Irving Kaplan, and Norman Bursler. She said she believed that Silverman originally was employed by the railroad retirement board, and said that during the war he held an important civilian post with the air crops. She described Silverman as a dues-paying Communist who was a "proflific" source of information.

Miss Bentley also described Coe and Gold as Communists. All, she said, worked for the federal government.

The witness testified that John Abt of the CIO-PAC was in charge of "the Perlo group" before she came in contact with it. Other members of the Perlo group, she said, included Sol Leshinsky, an employe of the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration, and Harold Glasser of the treasury department. She said Glasser "never produced any information and we didn't consider him too valuable."

Miss Bentley testified yesterday to Ferguson's senate subcommittee, concentrating on her asserted dealings with young Remington when he was with the War Production Board early in the war. It was only before the house group, however, that she began reeling off the names of other government officials who served, she testified, as sources of information sought by the Kremlin.

Remington told the senators he would have left the government long ago except for "a firm conviction in my innocence."

Remington, who has been drawing $9,975 a year from the commerce department until placed on "indefinite leave" a month ago by Secretary Sawyer, has held several other positions with the government.

He startled the senate subcommittee today by testifying that he was offered a post with the super-secret atomic energy commission at the very time the F. B. I. was investigating his associations with Miss Bentley.

Although he said he was recommended for the atomic job by Arthur MacMahon, now a member of President Truman's loyaly board, he turned it down because of the F. B. I. investigation.

But, while that same inquiry was in progress, he swore that he served on a White House staff—President Truman's council of economic advisers—where he handled top secret data. Remington said that before he was placed on the White House staff he was interviewed by Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, Leon H. Keyserling, and other top-rank economic advisers to the president.

The commerce department post, which he took last spring, carried the title of "director of the export programs staff of the office of international trade." In that position, he testified, he presided over a committee which decided what "war potential" goods should be prohibited from export to Russia.

Remington told the senators that he resigned a naval reserve commission "by request" before he got his job with the commerce department. He explained that while he knew the F. B. I. was investigating his dealings with Miss Bentley at the time, he did not connect the navy's request for his resignation with the F. B. I. inquiry.

When Remington told of his responsibilities on the committee passing on the export of potential war equipment to Russia, Senator Ferguson asked "if Russia desired to place a spy in the American government do you know a more important spot to put him than that committee?"

The witness said he could think of "several thousand" places of more importance.

He told the senators he served in the navy as an ensign during the war, and received instruction then in the Russian language to enable him to translate Russian weather reports.

He said he stayed in the naval reserve after the war until April 2, 1947, when he resigned after conversations with two captains concerning his failure to answer a letter asking personnel information.

While Remington has denied turning over wartime secrets to Miss Bentley for the Russians, he acknowleged to the committee that he was associated with Communist sympathizers while attending Columbia University in New York City, after gradutaing from Darmouth.

He also testified that he believes his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Moos of Croton on Hudson, N. Y., to be a Communist, and that through her he became acquainted with Miss Bentley. Mrs. Moos, he said, was director of the Hessian Hill School at Croton on Hudson, and he expressed the belief that she became a Communist in late 1939 or 1940.

Her conduct at the school changed, he said—

"She became, God forbid, even more arbitrary."

He also said that Mrs. Moos distributed Communist literature at the school to six-year-olds.

Remington said that when he met Miss Bentley (whom he also knew as Helen Johnson) he thought her a newspaperwoman.

"It turned out she is a Communist, apparently the most dangerous kind of a Communist," he added.

Remington said he and his wife now are separated.

There was some conflict between testimony the committee got from Remington and that received yesterday from Thomas C. Blaisdell, Jr., acting asistant secretary of commerce.

Blaisdell had testified that at the time Remington was appointed, he did not tell him he had been under investigation by the FBI and a grand jury in connection with his association with Miss Bentley.

Remington said under oath that he had told Blaisdell about both matters. He added, however, that Blaisdell might not have listened to what he said. Pressed hard by the senators' questions, Remington finally acknowledged that he does not believe the words he used to Blaisdell "sunk in."

"To my very great regret I now feel that I misled him," Remington said.

The grand jury to which he referred was impanelled in New York months ago. It is the same one before which Miss Bentley appeared. Twelve Communist leaders have been indicted on charges of conspiring to destroy the United States government by force, as a result of the jury's investigation.

Miss Bentley testified that she became a Russian espionage agent as a result of a love affair with Russian-born Acob Golos. After he suffered a heart attack in 1942, she took over some of his work. But he died in 1944, and she said she became afraid and decided to quit working for the Communists.

A year later, she testified, she went to the FBI in New Haven, Conn., with her story, and on the advice of FBI agents, maintained her spy contacts for another year while they kept a close watch.

In addition to the persons she named on the "Silvermaster" and "Perlo" groups, Miss Bentley told the senators today that a number of other government employes supplied information to her.

These, she testified, included:

Duncan Lee, whom she identified as one of the legal advisers to Gen. William Donovan of the office of strategic services.

Helen Tenney, in the Spanish section of OSS.

J. Julius Joseph, once with the war manpower commission and later in the Japanese division of Oss; also Joseph's wife in the publicity division of OSS; also Joseph's wife in the publicity division of OSS.

Maurice Halperin, research and analysis branch of OSS.

Robert Miller, head of research for the coordinator of inter-American affairs.

Joseph Gregg, also employed by the CIAA.

Bernard Redmond, of the CIAA press division.

Michael Greenburg, whom she identified as working with Currie.

Asked what types of information Duncan Lee supplied, Miss Bentley said all types of information, highly secret, on what OSS was doing."

Senator Ferguson disclosed that his subcommittee has written Secretary of Commerce Sawyer asking for commerce department records showing how Remington happened to be given his latest government job.

Remington told reporters following the hearing that he had been planning for some time to resign from the government to enter private business. "But I'm not resigning now," he said. I'm fighting this thing through."

HIGH PROFITS

the increase fell in the range of 25-55 per cent. Some very few boosted earnings three and four times higher than last year.

Steel companies ranged all the way from a modest fraction of one per cent to more than 100 per cent in gains over 1947. Most of them, however, showed a low rate of gain and a lot of them no gain at all in the first six months. In the latter class, profits in the second quarter seemed to turn upward from the 1947 level.

Construction organizations, including making of building materials and equipment, raced ahead of last year by 25 to 55 per cent, and some gains were even higher, including one company registering a rise of 505.4 per cent over thin profits a year ago. Two companies fell below a year ago by 49 and 65 per cent.

Utilities are almost evenly divided between those increasing their margin of profit over last year and those dropping below the 1947 level. On the extremes, the movement above or below 1947 is almost the same.

Automobile manufacturers made notable gains from a year ago when they were troubled with strikes and shortages of materials.

In many a miscellaneous industry, the trend was the same—healthy gains over last year. This pattern followed through samples of textiles, paper, carpets and makers of consumer goods.

A small group of early reports from food processors and distillers showed profits receding from 1947 in almost every instance.

The reason for the upswing is found in higher prices and expanded sales.

men he could not predict when he will leave the Russian capital.

(In London, a responsible British diplomat said the U. S., Britain and France had given to Russia in writing their terms for entering into four-power negotiations to end the east-west cold war.

(He said when Smith, Roberts and Chataigneau saw Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin last night, they left aide memoires with him. They were written versions of their oral statements to him.

(The British diplomat said the western statements to Zorin made it clear that:

1—They reject Russia's argument that their right to remain in Berlin has been forfeited by their decision to set up a west German government.

(2—They intend to stay in Berlin.

(3—They are prepared to talk things over with the Russians, not only on Berlin and other German problems, but also on east-west differences all over Europe.

(4—While ready for these talks on the highest levels, they first expect Russia to restore traffic links between Berlin and the western occupation zones, and to drop other forms of pressure against the western powers.)

Taylor opened his speech with a blistering attack on the press, which he accused of distorting news, omitting news "contrary to the big business point of view and deliberate falsehoods which are fed to the people by syndicated writers and editorial columns."

"I am forced to state," he said, "that some of the syndicated columnists (which he did not name) have reached an all time low in the way they have deliberately misrepresented the events which transpired at that (the recent Progressive) convention. Their flat statements that Communists were in control for example had no foundation in fact."

SHERIFF CLOSES CATAHOULA BAR

JONESVILLE, La., July 31.—(Special)—The Veterans Bar, located on highway 84 near the Catahoula-La-Salle parish line, has been closed by Sheriff Fred Fairbanks because of numerous violations of the law.

The sheriff said the bar was selling whiskey and beer to minors, selling to persons already intoxicated, retailing whiskey by the drink on a package liquor store license and allowing package goods to be opened and drunk on the premises.

Fairbanks has asked the Louisiana division of the United States Brewers Foundation and the Wine and Spirits Foundation of the state to halt the supply of all beer and liquors to the establishment.

However, Louis Davis, operator of the Veterans Bar, already has moved his stock and fixtures and the place remains closed.

DEEPEST LA. WELL HIT IN LAFOURCHE

HOUSTON, Tex., July 31.—(AP)—The Texas Company today claimed the deepest producing well in Louisiana, with completion of the Leeville L. L. and E. No. 111 at 14,087 feet in the Leeville field, LaFourche parish.

Located a quarter-mile off the southeast flank of the field, the well flowed at the rate of 303 barrels daily through a 5/32-inch choke.

Tubing pressure was 1,900 pounds, the oil and gas ratio 909 to 1, and the corrected gravity 29.5.

Total depth was 14,473, with perforations at 14,074 to 14,087 feet.

The company announcement said the previously reported deepest Louisiana producer was Shell's Smith State Unit B, well No. 2, Weeks Island, completed June 12 at 14,015 to 14,040 feet.

SHREVEPORT MAN NAMED LA. L. O. C. C. ENVOY

BATON ROUGE, La., July 31.—(AP)—Norman V. Kensey of Shreveport today was named to represent Louisiana on the interstate oil compact commission.

Gov. Earl K. Long appointed Kensey, a gas engineer who has been active in the industry both in Louisiana and Texas. Kensey succeeds Leland Richardson of Baton Rouge, appointed by Former Gov. Jimmie H. Davis.

The commission consists of representatives of 21 oil and gas producing states. It works towards prevention of waste of the resources.

Kensey is scheduled to attend the next meeting, Aug. 30 in New York City.

CONCORDIA PARISH CLAIMS WEEK'S LARGEST PRODUCER

Additional Yielders Also Brought In In Union, Franklin And Richland Parishes; Three New Locations Sited

Five new producers were brought in last week by drillers in Union, Franklin, Richland, and Concordia parishes, according to the Louisiana dpartment of conservation's weekly report revealed here yesterday.

New locations were footed out in two parishes, while no wells were reported abandoned in the past seven days.

The Lake St. John field in Concordia parish claimed the top producer, the Midstates Corporation's Hannah Sellars No. 2 in 51-9-10E. Drills penetrated to a total depth of 9,148 feet before coming up with a 265-barrel-a-day yield.

In the South Big Creek Field, the Ashland Oil and Refining Company's Sutler No. 3 in 20-16-8E, reached at a depth of 3,392 feet, came in with a yield of 260 barrels per day.

The Newton Oil Company's Nale No. 4 in 30-23-1E of the Truxno Field in Union parish, yielded a flow of 194 barrels per day at 2,273 feet.

Also in the Truxno Field, the Bagley and L. M. Calhoun Company's J. H. Nale No. 1 in 19-23-1E, came in with a yield of 120 barrels per day.

In 12-16-7E of the Big Creek Field in Richland parish, the Stanolind Oil and Gas Company's F. Roy Williams No. B-3, gave out with a yield of 111 barrels per day at 3,045 feet.

New locations last week were staked out in LaSalle and Union parishes. They were:

In the Urania Field of LaSalle parish, the Nelson & Edward Norris and A. M. Lloyd Company sited their King Estate No. 1 in 36-10-1E, and their L. Tullos No. 1 in 26-10-1E.

The Bagley and Calhoun Company established a new location in 19-23-1E of the Truxno Field of Union parish.

There were no abandonments over the past week.

OIL EXPLORATION SETS NEW RECORD

June Drilling, Exploration Peaks Sets New All-Time Record In Nation

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 31.—(Special)—Oil well drilling and exploration activities throuhout the nation set a new all-time record during June, according to figures compiled by the Interstate Oil Compact Commission.

As of the end of June, 2,314 rotary drilling rigs were in active operation and 623 geophysical and core drill crews working in the area covered by the commision's report. This compares with a previous high of 2,203 active rotary drilling rigs and 562 geophysical and core drill crews reported at the end of April. In June, 1947, a total of 1,873 rotary drilling rigs were reported active and 355 geophysical and core drill crews engaged in exploratory work.

Oklahoma showed the largest increase in rotary drilling in June as compared with the previous month, the commission's report shows, there being 304 rigs running in the state in June as compared with 268 in May. This, however, is a slight decline from the peak of 312 rigs which were active in April.

In West Texas, New Mexico and North Texas, there were 587 rigs active in June, against 576 in May; in Gulf Coast area, 572 in June, compared with 524 in May; North Louisiana, East Texas and Arkansas, 166 in June, against 165 in May; California 193 in June, 172 in May; Kansas, 137 each month and Rocky Mountains, 156 each month. In Western Canada, 51 rigs were running in June, compared with 40 in May.

A steady gain in geophysical and core drilling activity is noted in statistics compiled by the Compact, there being 468 crews reported in January, 532 in February, 544 in March, 562 in April, 556 in May and 623 in June.

U. S. OIL YIELD GAINS OVER WEEK

The Journal gave the week's total daily average production as 5,447,455 barrels.

Listed as areas with the greatest gains were:

Mississippi, up 12,745 barrels to 132,485 barrels, a new high for the year for that state; Michigan, up 2,200 barrels to 45,900; Colorado, 1,580 to 46,310, and Wyoming 1,730 to 150,410.

Increases of 430 barrels or less were credited to Alabama, Arkansas and Montana.

Principal declines were in Kansas, down 7,450 barrels to 292,900; Oklahoma off 3,250 to 420,200, and Indiana, Kentucky and California, all down 550 barrels or less.

Production was unchanged in Florida, Louisiana, Illinois, Nebraska, New Mexico and Texas.

The daily averages:

	July 24 Crude Oil	B of M July Demand	July17 Crude Oil
Louisiana	476,450	492,000	476,450
N. Louisiana	113,350		113,350
S. Louisiana	363,100		363,100

MISS. UPS OIL, GAS PRODUCTION

State Adds 124 Crude Wells, 14 Gassers During First Six Months

LAUREL, Miss., July 31.—(AP)—Mississippi has added 124 commercial oil wells and 14 gas wells to its production total so far this year. Seventy-five tests were abandoned as dry holes.

Eight tests, seven in proven fields and one in wildcat territory, were completed last week.

Testing is underway in the Springs Cottage area of Marion county on Humble Oil and Refining Company's Ernest R. Ford, et al No. 2.

The company is seeking to determine if the well can be made a commercial producer and open a new field in the state.

The well flowed at the rate of 4,480,000 cubic feet of gas and 53.5 barrels of 53 gravity condensate per day through a quarter-inch choke.

Other new producers were in the Baxterville, Yellow Creek, Mallalieu and Lagrange field.

Baby eels hatched into flat, transparent bits of life, grow into flat cigar-shaped forms, and then change into their adult form.

WESTERN

quoted the Thierry statement and then flung out his arms and exclaimed:

"In other words we are facing an ultimatum.

"This is the language of dictators, of bosses, of corporations.

"We will not accept such ultimatums. We will disregard them. We will pass them by."

He then opened the door for the western powers to walk out.

He charged the western powers with using "pressure to get their way" and of "daily violations of international agreements."

He cited the treaty of 1921 on the Danube and said the big western powers had excluded Russia from participation in that conference, and had changed it twice without abiding by stipulations requiring a two-thirds majority.

Thierry and Sir Charles Peake for Britain argued that under international law the old treaty must be abrogated by all signers before it can be replaced.

Vishinsky retorted that Germany, Austria, Italy, were original signers. "Such a convention could not be changed without their approval. Why didn't you insist that they be invited?"

Turning to the British delegation, he said, "you, Sir Charles, must recognize that times have changed. For new times, new tunes are written, and in new times no one should sing old tunes."

The United States has announced its interest in the conference is as an occupying power in Germany, which has a direct interest in the Danube.

The Balkan peace treaties provided for a Danube conference to implement treaty provisions calling for free navigation and commerce on the international waterway.

On the other hand the eastern bloc has taken up the slogan, "The Danube for the Danubians."

The vote on Austria demonstrated again that the Russians and Yugoslavs are keeping their quarrel strictly within Communist party bounds and are not allowing it to spread to a governmental level.

Ales Bebler, assistant foreign minister for Yugoslavia, told a reporter today that relations between the Yugoslav and Russian delegations had been extremely cordial both in and out of the conference.

GOOD NEWS FOR SICK PEOPLE

RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS
STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS,
and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite, Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

Drugless Health

IF YOU ARE a sufferer of these ailments, try GEO-MINERAL. You may be astounded at the results. You need not guess—you will see facts. GEO-MINERAL comes from the earth — Nature's Laboratory. Contains NO dope, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. Lack of minerals in the blood causes anemia, headaches, nervousness. Minerals generate mental brilliancy, give sparkling eyes, red cheeks, fight disease, build up health.

Wonder Minerals

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there regularly twice a year.

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

Amazing Results

GEO-MINERAL contains minerals you get at the world's best springs. Watch your elimination from your bowels a day or two after using it. The waste, black as the color of your shoes, will start to break away, and you will SEE it. Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, relieving you. And then realize the priceless value of GEO-MINERAL.

GEO-MINERAL is not a physic and does not interfere with the foods in the stomach. It cleans and purifies the intestines, thoroughly relieving gas, toxins, acids, and bloating. After these poisons are out of the system and the kidneys purified, we begin to feel the arthritis and rheumatism leaving, and Nature starting to complete the recovery.

We Guarantee

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Come to this drug store today. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money in full.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

WIN SUIT AGAINST LAKE PROVIDENCE

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La., July 31. (Special)—W. T. Mitchiner, and brother S. K. Mitchiner and Olivedell Planting Company were awarded payment of $40,662 with 5 percent interest from January 1, 1945, in the lawsuit of the Mitchiners versus the Town of Lake Providence. The suit grew out of a fire on Olivedell Planting Company, Jan. 15, 1944, when the homes of W. T. Mitchiner and S. K. Mitchiner and the Olivedell Planting Company store were destroyed by fire.

The court concluded that losses incurred by the plaintiffs were the result of the negligent acts of the Town of Lake Providence, as there was negligence in not maintaining adequate vertical clearance of wires running over highway 45, as wiring was only 11 feet above the public highway and national safety code and the Louisiana department of highways state it must be 20, and further negligence was in not making proper and periodic checks to find a broken wire lying across and against a highly charged primary circuit.

RICHLAND'S FIRST COTTON BALE

Shown above are W. H. Eddins (left) and L. J. Downes (right) who purchased the bale for an all time high for Rayville at 51 cents a pound. It was the first to be ginned in the parish July 30, the earliest in many years. It weighed 554 pounds and was middling grade inch and one-thirty-second staple DPL 14 variety. The producer was Ellis Vaughn, north of Rayville, where the first open boll was found July 12.

In The Air
Over Monroe
By Margaret Gambrell

With increased facilities at our Municipal airports Monroe will enjoy limitless benefits. In fact, with the development of our own landing facilities, many benefits will undoubtedly develop that can not possibly be foreseen at this time.

Not only does landing facilities stimulate knowledge of flying, but it creates an actual desire to fly.

This in turn, leads to wider ownership of aircrafts, more buyers of aircraft parts and more pilots in this area. The younger generation is made alert to the potentialities offered by aviation as both an avocation and a vocation.

These landing facilities bring business men, and pleasure seekers into Monroe and it all sums up to a mark of progressiveness for our city.

Our airports bring greater patronage to community activities—such as fairs, plays, sports and other local events. In addition our landing facilities enable us to secure talent from distant points for activities in Monroe.

Merchants also benefit from our airport facilities. Customers who would be forced to shop elsewhere are often retained by Monroe merchants since these articles can be flown to Monroe within a few hours.

With certain types of merchandise, particularly in higher priced range, merchants can fill his customer's demand by having the article flown in. A merchant can also carry a small stock by ordering certain articles only when there is an actual customer demand. Often this type sale can be consumated in about the time it would take to dig an article out of the warehouse.

Just as the automobile turned the cycle and buggy shops into auto repair and sales organizations our airport will bring brand new business to Monroe.

Monroe has opened the way for many specialized services among which are radio, electric, battery, tire and accessory shops. Ultimately our project will include storage hangers, gas pumps, service hangars and information booths in terminal buildings. Eventually cabins, amusement places and other establishments will be included with these.

Our own local landing fields may well be the influence that will persuade new industries to locate in Monroe. It certainly is encouraging our local industries to expand. Executive personnel testify that Monroe airports serve as an excellent transportation convenience. The direct air mail service that our landing facilities make possible not only benefits industry, but everyone in the community.

Local airports render the same public service as streets and highways do and naturally as our town becomes a part of the vast national airways system our transient trade will greatly increase.

Grandma Solos

Mrs. Loyce Demasterson, the only grandmother ever to take flying in Monroe, soloed this past week and according to her instructors at Monroe Airpark made a three point landing.

Grandma is even more enhusiastic about her flying since she soloed and upon receiving her private license she will have the distinction of being the only grandmother in Monroe to have completed flying school.

In addition to grandma, two other Monroe Airpark students, Prentice H. May and E. F. Smith soloed.

Students at Sunbird Seaplane Service who made their first solos this week were B. O. Reno, J. H. Rainer, Gus Bernheim, and G. O. Hibbard.

J. L. Bailey, soloed at Northeast Aviation Sunday.

Students Cross Country

Four Monroe Airpark students made their first solo cross country flights this week. They were William C. Fuller, Norman D. Coates, William Rockett and Vernon Maxwell.

The cross-country flights at Sunbird Seaplane base this past week were as follows:

L. L. Rosedale flew to Hot Springs and Pine Bluff, Ark.; C. A. Hill traveled to Greenville, Miss., and Lake Providence; P. J. Henley cross-countried to Pine Bluff, Ark.; J. J. Swinney flew to Greenville, Miss.; R. D. Purcell cross countried to Lake Providence.

W. A. Foreman and Leonard Pratt cross-countried to Shreveport this past week in ships from the Northeast Aviation Service.

R. A. Evans and Allen Emmons, Sunbird Seaplane students, received their private pilots license this past week.

C. Flint received his commercial pilot single-engine rating Tuesday at Northeast Aviation Co.

Cotton dusters at Monroe Airpark were brought out of the hangers this past week for cotton dusting and seeding.

Over 350 acres of cotton was dusted for boll weevils at J. D. Johnson and H. W. McSherry's farms.

John T. Carroll's cotton field near Gilbert was also dusted.

Approximately 100 acres of vetch was seeded at Bish Johnston's farm near Sterlington.

At Local Fields

E. A. Williams, of Oklahoma City, Okla., stopped over at Monroe Airpark during the week and stayed in Monroe over night.

Armond F. Rabun, of Farmerville, chartered a ship from Monroe Airpark to Memphis Friday.

John F. Sanders, of Winnsboro, Tex., visited Monroe Airpark this past week with three business men in a Cessna 195.

Dr. Bron Clifford, prominent Baptist minister, spent several days this past week with "Doc" Cole, manager of Sunbird Seaplane Service, during which time he flew several hours in Sunbird's seaplanes. Even though Dr. Clifford was on his honeymoon and had only been married a few days, he couldn't resist the opportunity to come by Monroe and spend some of his time flying.

Mr. W. W. Smith, of New Orleans, arrived in Monroe by seaplane this week and spent several days here.

Mr. Paulette Pipes, manager of Northeast Aviation Service, flew to Barksdale field Thursday on an official business trip.

votes in the electoral college and that the election will be thrown into the house of representatives.

"This is the best method of defeating both Dewey and Truman."

The civil rights program, Thurmond said, is "filled with false promises" and is "so full of narcotics that the American people are in danger of being lulled to sleep by it."

Support for the program, he continued, comes from "smart little political tycoons who are working like beavers to turn this nation into a socialistic state," from "those who favor a powerful and centralized government," from "those who are dedicated to the proposition that federal power should reach down and control every act of every American," from "the advocates of a totalitarian socialistic government," and from "politicians who do not care what happens to American liberty so long as they remain in power."

These groups "have chosen the south as a whipping-boy in an effort to gain minority votes," he charged.

"But * * * the south would not be worthy of its heritage if it lay down and took this whipping any longer.

"And in their feeble attempt to stop us, they are trying once again to fasten upon us the badges of bigotry, of racial hatreds, of dark prejudice. They are trying to convince the nation that the south is banded together to wipe out the rights of human beings."

cans and they reported the same lack of response.

At the same time, however, the Democratic national committee said: "President Truman's program for the special session of congress made sense to almost everybody but the Republican congress and the journalistic trained seals and editorial writers dedicated to the defense of that do-nothing legislative body."

Capehart said the banking committee may be able to get down by midweek to drafting legislation leaders expect to bring before the senate by Thursday or Friday. Senator Taft (R-Ohio) has said congress probably will adjourn next Saturday.

Capehart said he thinks a committee majority might be willing to recommend a return of installment buying controls and the tightening of bank credit. The senate passed installment curb legislation which now is pending before the house.

There has been no indication, however, that the representatives will act on it. They may take up later in the week, however, a senate-approved measure to authorize a $65,000,000 loan to build a permanent headquarters for the United Nations in New York City.

The senate, tied up in a southern filibuster against the anti-poll tax bill, may see some action on that score Monday.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, acting GOP leader, told reporters he will file a petition to limit the anti-poll tax debate early in the week.

Such a petition called cloture, requires the signatures of 16 senators. If approved by a two-thirds debate it would limit each senator to an hour's talk.

"We might as well recognize there is a filibuster and take whatever steps we can to end it," Wherry said.

If the cloture move fails--as many believe that it will--Wherry said the next Republican move may be to try to change the senate rules.

The cloture petition seemed likely to be rejected by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), the senate presiding officer, as out-of-order under the rules. Wherry said the Republicans could appeal the ruling.

The appeal is debatable. It would have the effect of providing the southerners with a new subject for their talkathon.

CONFEDERATE FLAG OWNER IS LOCATED

SHREVEPORT, La., July 31.—(AP)—Persons who swamped the chamber of commerce in Birmingham, Ala., with requests for Confederate States' flags after a recent states' rights meeting there might be able to buy the flags from Robert H. Rogers of Shreveport.

Rogers, who operates a decorating business in his home in his spare time, says he has about 1,000 of the flags.

If the rights' fighters didn't know to go to Rogers for the flags, though, they would have a difficult time finding a Confederate States' flag for sale here.

It took calls to 27 Shreveport stores —retailers of gifts, toys, novelties, books, and office supplies—and to dozens of individuals to find Rogers and his flags.

Rogers decorates halls and streets for reunions and meetings, makes floats, and decorates for the annual Louisiana State Fair.

In 1940 he did the decorating for a reunion of Confederate Veterans in Washington, D. C., and it was then that he secured most of the flags he has. Some of them are the first flag of the Confederacy, with two red and one white bar and white stars in a blue union. Others are the battle flag of the Confederacy, which is of the same colors as the first flag, but which has a cross of stars diagonally across it.

quoted the Thierry statement and then flung out his arms and exclaimed:

"In other words we are facing an ultimatum.

"This is the language of dictators, of bosses, of corporations.

"We will not accept such ultimatums. We will disregard them. We will pass them by."

He then opened the door for the western powers to walk out.

He charged the western powers with using "pressure to get their way" and of "daily violations of international agreements."

He cited the treaty of 1921 on the Danube and said the big western powers had excluded Russia from participation in that conference, and had changed it twice without abiding by stipulations requiring a two-thirds majority.

Thierry and Sir Charles Peake for Britain argued that under international law the old treaty must be abrogated by all signers before it can be replaced.

Vishinsky retorted that Germany, Austria, Italy, were original signers. "Such a convention could not be changed without their approval. Why didn't you insist that they be invited?"

Turning to the British delegation, he said, "you, Sir Charles, must recognize that times have changed. For new times, new tunes are written, and in new times no one should sing old tunes."

The United States has announced its interest in the conference is as an occupying power in Germany, which has a direct interest in the Danube.

The Balkan peace treaties provided for a Danube conference to implement treaty provisions calling for free navigation and commerce on the international waterway.

On the other hand the eastern bloc has taken up the slogan, "The Danube for the Danubians."

The vote on Austria demonstrated again that the Russians and Yugoslavs are keeping their quarrel strictly within Communist party bounds and are not allowing it to spread to a governmental level.

Ales Bebler, assistant foreign minister for Yugoslavia, told a reporter today that relations between the Yugoslav and Russian delegations had been extremely cordial both in and out of the conference.

WIN SUIT AGAINST LAKE PROVIDENCE

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La., July 31. (Special)—W. T. Mitchiner, and brother S. K. Mitchiner and Olivedell Planting Company were awarded payment of $40,662 with 5 percent interest from January 1, 1945, in the lawsuit of the Mitchiners versus the Town of Lake Providence. The suit grew out of a fire on Olivedell Planting Company, Jan. 15, 1944, when the homes of W. T. Mitchiner and S. K. Mitchiner and the Olivedell Planting Company store were destroyed by fire.

The court concluded that losses incurred by the plaintiffs were the result of the negligent acts of the Town of Lake Providence, as there was negligence in not maintaining adequate vertical clearance of wires running over highway 45, as wiring was only 11 feet above the public highway and national safety code and the Louisiana department of highways state it must be 20, and further negligence was in not making proper and periodic checks to find a broken wire lying across and against a highly charged primary circuit.

Shown above are W. H. Eddins (left) and L. J. Downes (right) who purchased the bale for an all time high for Rayville at 51 cents a pound. It was the first to be ginned in the parish July 30, the earliest in many years. It weighed 554 pounds and was middling grade inch and one-thirty-second staple DPL 14 variety. The producer was Ellis Vaughn, north of Rayville, where the first open boll was found July 12.

In The Air

Over Monroe

By Margaret Gambrell

With increased facilities at our Municipal airports Monroe will enjoy limitless benefits. In fact, with the development of our own landing facilities, many benefits will undoubtedly develop that can not possibly be foreseen at this time.

Not only does landing facilities stimulate knowledge of flying, but it creates an actual desire to fly.

This in turn, leads to wider ownership of aircrafts, more buyers of aircraft parts and more pilots in this area. The younger generation is made alert to the potentialities offered by aviation as both an avocation and a vocation.

These landing facilities bring business men, and pleasure seekers into Monroe and it all sums up to a mark of progressiveness for our city.

Our airports bring greater patronage to community activities—such as fairs, plays, sports and other local events. In addition our landing facilities enable us to secure talent from distant points for activities in Monroe.

Merchants also benefit from our airport facilities. Customers who would be forced to shop elsewhere are often retained by Monroe merchants since these articles can be flown to Monroe within a few hours.

With certain types of merchandise, particularly in higher priced range, merchants can fill his customer's demand by having the article flown in. A merchant can also carry a small stock by ordering certain articles only when there is an actual customer demand. Often this type sale can be consumated in about the time it would take to dig an article out of the warehouse.

Just as the automobile turned the cycle and buggy shops into auto repair and sales organizations our airport will bring brand new business to Monroe.

Monroe has opened the way for many specialized services among which are radio, electric, battery, tire and accessory shops. Ultimately our project will include storage hangers, gas pumps, service hangars and information booths in terminal buildings. Eventually cabins, amusement places and other establishments will be included with these.

Our own local landing fields may well be the influence that will persuade new industries to locate in Monroe. It certainly is encouraging our local industries to expand. Executive personnel testify that Monroe airports serve as an excellent transportation convenience. The direct air mail service that our landing facilities make possible not only benefits industry, but everyone in the community.

Local airports render the same public service as streets and highways do and naturally as our town becomes a part of the vast national airways system our transient trade will greatly increase.

Grandma Solos

Mrs. Loyce Demasterson, the only grandmother ever to take flying in Monroe, soloed this past week and according to her instructors at Monroe Airpark made a three point landing.

Grandma is even more enhusiastic about her flying since she soloed and upon receiving her private license she will have the distinction of being the only grandmother in Monroe to have completed flying school.

In addition to grandma, two other Monroe Airpark students, Prentice H. May and E. F. Smith soloed.

Students at Sunbird Seaplane Service who made their first solos this week were B. O. Reno, J. H. Rainer, Gus Bernheim, and G. O. Hibbard.

J. L. Bailey, soloed at Northeast Aviation Sunday.

Students Cross Country

Four Monroe Airpark students made their first solo cross country flights this week. They were William C. Fuller, Norman D. Coates, William Rockett and Vernon Maxwell.

The cross-country flights at Sunbird Seaplane base this past week were as follows:

L. L. Rosedale flew to Hot Springs and Pine Bluff, Ark.; C. A. Hill traveled to Greenville, Miss., and Lake Providence; P. J. Henley cross-countried to Pine Bluff, Ark.; J. J. Swinney flew to Greenville, Miss.; R. D. Purcell cross countried to Lake Providence.

W. A. Foreman and Leonard Pratt cross-countried to Shreveport this past week in ships from the Northeast Aviation Service.

R. A. Evans and Allen Emmons, Sunbird Seaplane students, received their private pilots license this past week.

C. Flint received his commercial pilot single-engine rating Tuesday at Northeast Aviation Co.

GOOD NEWS FOR SICK PEOPLE

RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS
STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS,
and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite, Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

Drugless Health

IF YOU ARE a sufferer of these ailments, try GEO-MINERAL. You may be astounded at the results. You need not guess—you will see facts. GEO-MINERAL comes from the earth — Nature's Laboratory. Contains NO dope, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. Lack of minerals in the blood causes anemia, headaches, nervousness. Minerals generate mental brilliancy, give sparkling eyes, red cheeks, fight disease, build up health.

Wonder Minerals

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there regularly twice a year.

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

Amazing Results

GEO-MINERAL contains minerals you get at the world's best springs. Watch your elimination from your bowels a day or two after using it. The waste, black as the color of your shoes, will start to break away, and you will SEE it. Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, relieving you. And then realize the priceless value of GEO-MINERAL.

GEO-MINERAL is not a physic and does not interfere with the foods in the stomach. It cleans and purifies the intestines, thoroughly relieving gas, toxins, acids, and bloating. After these poisons are out of the system and the kidneys purified, we begin to feel the arthritis and rheumatism leaving, and Nature starting to complete the recovery.

FAMED JAX GIRLS PLAY SPATAFORA TODAY

WORLD'S CHAMPS SHOW IN BENEFIT SOFTBALL SCRAP

Battle At Casino Park Here Will Aid Annual Goodfellows' Fund

The World Champion Jax Girls of New Orleans and Spatafora's Pharmacy, northeast Louisiana's defending champions and kingpins of Monroe's City League, clash here this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Casino Park in what promises to be the greatest softball spectacle ever presented here.

The contest is being played for the benefit of the Goodfellows' Fund which operates solely for the distribution of Christmas cheer among needy families of Ouachita parish at Christmas time.

The Jax Girls, organized in 1938 by Heard J. Regas with the backing of the Jackson Brewing Company of New Orleans, have won the Louisiana state championship every year since. They comprise one of the few softball teams ever invited to play in New York City's Madison Square Garden. Playing approximately 100 games per season, exclusive of the war years, the Jax outfit has never lost more than eight games in a single season.

The feminine stars, in demand throughout the United States and Canada where they appeared in the Canadian Exposition spent the war period closer to home, entertaining soldiers and sailors in the army and navy posts in the coastal area. They won 90 per cent of their war years' games against military teams composed of men, the most sensational of their victories against military clubs being a 2-1 thriller against Zeke Bonura's All-Star aggregation composed of many major and minor league players at Camp Shelby Miss., in September, 1942.

In 1942 the Jax Girls won their first national title and repeated in 1943. In 1944 they were dethroned by Portland, Ore., but came back to sweep all national titles since. The first girls World Series was held last year with Jax, as representatives of the Amateur Softball Association, defeating the Phoenix, Ariz., Queens, National Softball Congress champs.

Regas, after eight years as manager of the Jax club, this year steps down, turning the job over to Miss Freda Savona the team's field captain for seven years. Mary Pembo, a nine-year veteran, takes over as captain at Miss Savona's promotion.

JAX PERSONNEL

LOTTIE JACKSON—Native of Nashville, Tenn. At 31 she has been playing ball for ten years, seven of them with Jax. A bookkeeper at Jackson Brewing Company, she is one of the nation's outstanding pitchers, and in addition excells in bowling, swimming, and basketball. Last year she was named on the All-America girls basketball team at St. Joseph, Mo.

NINA KORGAN—A veteran of 14 years in softball and from Council Bluffs, Iowa. She has been on five world championship teams, winning in 1941 with the Higgins Midgets of Tulsa, Okla. She's 31 and also a Jax bookkeeper. She's tagged for third base but can play anywhere.

ANNIE STARUSKA—A relative newcomer to the team which she joined last year. She's 21 and from Houston, Tex. She is a pitcher with a fine fastball and curve.

ELLOUISE STECH—Affectionately known as "Puddin," she's enjoying a second good season with Jax. Age 23, from Houston, Tex., and a clerk for J. B. C., she's also studying on the side to be a pharmacist. She is a catcher.

SELMA MEINECKE—Born at Stillwater, Okla., she's 26 and has been on the Jax team for five years and was formerly with the champion Higgins Midgets. The outfield is her specialty.

MARY PEMBO—Captain of the team at 24, she's one of the three oldest members of the team in point of service. Playing first base, she has been with the club since its organization in 1939.

FREDA SAVONA—Captain for eight years, coach last year and now manager. She's also one of the nation's greatest women basketball players and was formerly with the Rochester Filarets who boasted a 176-game victory stretch without defeat over a nine-year period. She's a shortstop and the club's leading hitter.

EDITH DAUL—Once a star athlete at Gretna High School, she's a native of Louisiana and 24 years old. "Skipper" plays the infield or outfield and is also one of the Jax basketball team's outstanding players.

HAZEL GILL—Another native of the state from Bogalusa. A member of the team for five years, Hazel is 23 and plays second base.

KATHLEEN WHITE—Born at Orange, Tex, Kathleen is 21 and playing her second season with Jax. Secretary to the retiring manager, Regas, she was formerly a member of the famous Bengal Guards drum and bugle corps of Orange. She plays the infield or outfield.

EVELYN CASE—A native of New Orleans and 24 years old. This is her second year with the Jax team but she is employed by a New Orleans candy company. "Casey" plays the infield and outfield.

OLYMPIA SAVONA—Considered one of the most versatile players in the country, "Lymp" was born in Malvern, Ohio, 25 years ago. She has a powerful arm and is a long ball hitter with an average always above .350. She plays any position well.

The Jax girls have a record of 64 victories against 15 defeats this season, and twelve of their wins have been against men's clubs. They have lost only three of 15 games played against men this year. Their overall record

10-GAME GRIDIRON SLATE FOR BLOCK

Bears Open Football Season Against L. T. I. Pels On September 17

JONESVILLE, La., July 31.—(Special)—A rugged 10-game schedule with the probability of another contest being added has been announced for the 1948 Block High School gridiron Bears by Coach Frank Bishop.

Six new schools have been added to the schedule, including Olla, Columbia, Jena, Ferriday, Jefferson Military College of Washington, Miss., and Sicily Island. The Block eleven played Columbia "B" team last season but will take on the regulars in the 1948 campaign.

All the new teams are under two-year contracts and will be on the 1949 slate.

The Bears will open Sept. 17 with a night game in Jonesville against the Louisiana Training Institute Pelicans and the follow-up Sept. 24 with another home game under the lights against Sarepta.

An open date occurs on Oct. 1, but Bishop stated he hopes to have it filled within a few weeks. The vacancy occurred when Mangham refused to play host to the Bears in return for a 1947 tilt.

Olla's Tigers play in Jonesville Oct. 8 and then the Bears take to the road to play at Crowville Oct. 15 and at Columbia Oct. 22. The following week, Oct. 29, the Blocksters take on their long-time LaSalle parish athletic rivals the Jena Giants, at Jena.

One of the largest crowds of the season is expected to witness the Nov. 5 tilt in Jonesville aganst Ferriday's Bulldogs. Wisner will play in Jonesville Nov. 12, and the Bears go to Washington, Miss., to tangle with the Jefferson Military College Cadets.

Sicily Island, longtime parish rivals of the Bears, will invade Jonesville Nov. 26 for the first annual Turkey Day classic.

Louisiana Training Institute and the News-Star Publishers devided a double header yesterday to continue their deadlock for second place in the Recreation Baseball League.

The Pelicans won the opener, 3 to 0, behind the two-hit pitching of Oliver Smart, and the Publishers came back to take the second, 6 to 4.

The Pels backed Smart with errorless ball in the first game, and News-Star, committing only one error, got a good five-hitter from Henry. No player got more than one hit in the opener. LaGrange was the L. T. I. catcher, and Bayles di dthe backstopping for News-Star in the second, and Fissette and Smart, sharing the pitching for L. T. I., allowed only six hits for each club. Smart and Scroggins led L. T. I. with two safe blows, and Bayles hit safely twice for the Publishers. Blanchard caught for L. T. I., and Bayles did the News-Star catching.

Monroe Exterminating extended its league lead to two full games by claiming a default from Red Shield Club.

Jack Curtis Gives Austiro Shot At World's Title Tuesday Night

Light-Heavy Crown At Stake At Kallio's; Kali Pasha, Sandow Meet

Angelo Austiro, the rowdy New York Greek, has become quite ambitious since lifting the Louisiana state light heavyweight wrestling title from Johnny Carlin here last week, and he goes out for bigger game Tuesday night when he shoots for the world's title as well in a match with Champion Jack Curtis at Gus Kallio's Arena.

Promoter Kallio last night announced the signing of the state and world's champions for his main event on this week's card. Curtis, however, is the only man risking anything since Austiro's state belt will be quite safe if he is unable to dethrone Curtis.

"This match is for the world's title only," Promoter Kallio explained. "Austiro has been seeking a world's chaimpionship match for some time, and when he won the state belt from Carlin he put himself in a position that can't be ignored."

Curtis and Austiro will battle over a 90-minute time limit distance with two falls to win, and the referee will be Bill Barney.

The semi-final attraction will bring together Billy Sondow, Miami, Fla. and Kali Pasha, the Persian battler from Chicago.

Sandow is of the classical type of wrestler, while Persian is about as rough and tough as they come. The curtain-raiser, opening the program at 8:30 o'clock, promises to have as much action as the main event is expected to produce.

Pasha and Sandow will meet in an hour time limit match, also two falls to win.

TWO FOOTBALL PLAYERS IN JEEP-AUTO ACCIDENT

MACON, Miss., July 31.—(AP)—Two Mississippi National Guardsmen were injured—one seriously—in a jeep-automobile accident near here today.

Jim Hinton, of Jasper, Ala., received serious internal injuries and Joe Morgan, of Port Arthur, Texas, suffered minor cuts and bruises.

Morgan said they were en route from Hattiesburg, where they attend Mississippi Southern College, to intercept a National Guard convoy at Tupelo, Miss. A car darted in front of them, he said, and the Guardsmen had "to take to the ditch. The jeep overturned several times but didn't pin us under because we were thrown clear."

He said he believed Hinton suffered a ruptured spleen and other internal injuries and is now under the influence of drugs.

Morgan a 250-pound tackle, transferred to Mississippi Southern last February from McNeese Junior College at Lake Charles, La.

Hinton, a 220-pound tackle, entered Southern at the same time after having played football at Auburn in 1945

Both are members of the 3,656th Ordnance Medium Maintenance Company and were to accompany one of six convoys of Guardsmen to Fort Benning, Ga., for training.

WESTERN JUNIOR TITLE AGAIN WON BY TRABERT

SOUTH BEND, Ind., July 31.—(AP)—Tony Trabert of Cincinnati won his second straight Western Junior tennis championship today despite brilliant play by Runner-up Dick Mouledous of New Orleans. The score was 8-6, 6-0, 8-6.

Third-seeded Mouledous had two set points in the first set. Each time it was Trabert's service and the Ohioan charged to the net and put the ball out of the southerner's reach.

Top-seeded singles and doubles players were beaten in championship matches of the boys' division.

Third-seeded Hamilton Richardson, Baton Rouge, La., defeated Robert Perry of Los Angeles, the defending champion, 11-9, 6-3. Richardson's game featured a strong backhand and he had four service aces.

Unseeded Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., and Wally Clarke of San Francisco upset Perry and Alan Cleveland, Santa Monica, Calif., in the boys' doubles finals, 6-4, 6-3.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

by Hugh S. Fullerton, jr.

NEW YORK, July 31.—(AP)—It was 20 years ago this week that Gene retired as undefeated heavyweight champion after his fight with Tom Heeny drew "only" $500,000 . . . If you look back at the records you'll find the situation was much the same as it is today with Joe Louis trying to retire . . . In retrospect, Jack Sharkey, Young Stribling, George Godfrey, Paulino Uzcudun, Johnny Risko, Jack Dempsey and Tommy Loughran sound like a pretty fair group of fighters. That's not what the experts and fans thought in 1928 . . . Dempsey was about to start a comeback but his condition was doubtful; Loughran wasn't convinced he should give up the light heavy title to try for bigger game; Godfrey had lots of boosters but couldn't get the matches. Max Schmeling still was in Germany and it was two years before he won the title sitting down in his famous scrap with Sharkey.

Quote, Unquote

Here's what one writer, whose words were reproduced in the 1929 boxing record, had to say: "The fans have inspected the line of goods offered by the current run of heavyweights and have not been overly impressed. * * * There is nothing to enthuse over in their work . . . There isn't a real punch in the lot." . . . They're saying about the same thing now about the Walcotts, Charleses, Savolds, Bettinas, Bivinses, etc . . . Wonder how they'll be rated in another 20 years?

Profitable Purchase

F. S. Myerscough, who bought a yearling named Phoenix for 300 pounds some 16 years ago, can show a profit of nearly 160,000 pounds with more to come . . . Phoenix won the Irish Derby and Irish 2,000 Guineas in 1934 and went on to become an outstanding stud . . . Myerscough recently syndicated the stallion to 30 English breeders at 4,000 pounds a share and kept ten shares for himself. . . . Suppose you could call him the Irish Hirsch Jacobs?

Week End Notes

Garrard Ramsey, William and Mary-Chicago Cardinals, will be making his third appearance in the Chicago all-star football game this year. His kid brother, Knox, who belongs to the Los Angeles Dons, will be playing on the college side of the field . . . Georgia Tech is looking for Dan Bradich, who was on the bench most of the time last fall playing "behind" Bobby Davis, to play a lot of football this season instead of playing solitaire . . . Dont' be surprised if Utah U. starts passing up garden basketball dates in favor of west coast trips in another season or two . . . If the Braves win the National League pennant, some 200 of Al Dark's hometown fans are planning a Boston visit—bringing that Louisiana coffee that's strong enough to make Al hit .500 in the world series.

SOUTHERNERS, COLONELS SIGN GRIDIRON CONTRACT

MOBILE, Ala., July 31.—(AP)—Powerful little Mississippi Southern College and the University of Louisville signed a four-year football contract here today.

The first game of the series will be played Thanksgiving week, 1949, in Ladd Memorial Stadium here. Mississippi Southern has two and perhaps three games scheduled this fall in the still incomplete structure.

Both schools are members of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Louisville was undefeated last year. Mississippi Southern beat Auburn while winning seven and losing three starts in the 1947 season.

The Hattiesburg, Miss., college was represented by its president, Dr. R. C. Cook, and by Reid Green, head coach and athletic director.

The Louisville, Ky., school's representatives were Head Coach Frank Camp and Business Manager Bovard Clayton.

5 FIRST PLACES PUT U. S. STARS AHEAD OF FIELD

American Force Establishes Three New Records; Foreign Aces Tie Two

LONDON, July 31.—(AP)—America's vaunted track and swim specialists snapped out of the doldrums today with a record-smashing surge that brought them five gold medals and a tremendous lead in the unofficial point standings of the 14th Olympic games.

Almost shut out in yesterday's first final events, Uncle Sam's men and women made up for it today with a vengeance.

Besides taking five first places—by Sprinter Harrison Dillard, 400-meter Hurdler Roy Cochran, Broad Jumper Willie Steele, Swim Sprinter Wally Ris and Springboard Diver Bruce Harlan—the American forces broke three Olympic records and tied another. Foreign athletes accounted for two more Olympic marks in the standard-smashing spree.

All told eight individual finals in track and field and in swimming were held today and the U. S. scored in seven, very heavily in six, to run up a huge overall total of 101 points.

Far behind in second place came France with 28, followed by Sweden 25, Australia 17, Hungary 14, the host British squad 12, and Czechoslovakia, Austria, and Norway, 10 each. In all 21 nations have broken into the point column.

The first American to have the Stars and Stripes hoisted on the victory platform was Harlan of Ohio State. The Buckeye diver captured the springboard diving gold medal to pace a one-two-three U. S. sweep of the event.

As the American contingents in Wembley Stadium and in the Empire Exposition poolhouse roared in approval, the red white and blue banners were raised four more times.

The other swimming final almost brought another American sweep. Ris of Iowa splashed to a record-breaking victory in the 100-meter free style followed by Alan Ford of Yale in second place and Keith Carter of Purdue in fourth. Alex Jany, the famed French champion, wound up in fifth place. Ris was clocked in 57.3 seconds, two-tenths of a second better than the existing standard.

Cochran, of the Los Angeles athletic club captured the first American gold medal in track and field, and he did it in record-breaking fashion. The former Indiana university ace, won the 400 meter hurdles by five yards in 51.1 seconds, eight-tenths of a second under the standard he and Rune Larsson of Sweden established yesterday.

Larsson could do no better than finish third today, trailing Duncan White, an unknown from Ceylon, who took the silver medal.

Dick Ault of Missouri gave the U. S. an unexpected three points by nabbing fourth position.

Then came the most dramatic moment so far for the U. S. forces. Dillard, the great negro hurdler from Baldwin-Wallace who couldn't make the team in his specialty, equalled Eddie Tolan's Olympic record of 10.3 seconds to win the 100 meter dash by a nose over Barney Ewell of Lancaster, Pa. Mel Patton, the southern California flash, came in a disappointing fifth behind Panama's Lloyd La-Beach and Great Britain's Alan McCorquordale.

Another negro luminary, Steele of San Diego State, came home with the last gold medal of the day for Uncle Sam by taking the broad jump with a leap of 25 feet 8 inches. Herb Douglas of Pittsburgh and Lorenzo Wright of Wayne finished third and fourth behind T. Bruce of Australia to help the U. S. rack up 17 points in the event.

The final record-breaking performance by an American, was accomplished by Jimmy McLane, the sensational 17-year-old distance swimmer from Andover Academy and Akron, O. McLane clipped 2.3 seconds off the Olympic mark to win his heat of the 400 meter free style swim in 4 minutes, 42.2 seconds.

Austria, Hungary and Sweden annexed the other three gold medals today while Holland expected one as a result of Nel Van Vliet's record-shattering performance in the semi-finals of the 200-meter breast stroke.

H. Baume of Austria, won the women's javelin with an Olympic record throw of 149 feet, 6 inches. And it was in this event that the disappointing American women's squad finally came through with its first points. After all three American women had been eliminated in the 100-meter trials, Dorothy Dodson of Mundelein, Ill., scored three points by winding up fourth with 137 feet, 7 1/2 inches.

Hungary's Irmy Nemeth won the hammer throw final with a toss of 183 feet, 11 1/2 inches, and Sweden's J. A. Ljunggren took first in the 50,000 meter road walk, only final today in which Uncle Sam failed to score. Ljunggren was timed in 4 hours, 41:52.

In the hammer, Bob Bennett of Brown (176 ft., 3 1/2 inches) and Sam Felton of Harvard (176 ft., 1/2 inch), gave America seven points with third and fourth places.

Miss Van Vliet was caught in 2:57 today, four-tenths of a second less than the Olympic mark she hung up in a trial yesterday.

In the springboard dive, Harlan was followed by an Ohio State teammate, Miller Anderson, and Dr. Sammy Lee of Pasadena, Calif., a performance good for 19 points.

There were good prospects of a

NIGHT BASEBALL FOR JONESVILLE

JONESVILLE, La., July 31.—(Special)—Night baseball will come to Jonesville Tuesday night when the Jonesville Blues face the Clarks Lumberjacks beneath the new $10,000 lighting system which has been completed in the town's $45,000 municipal park.

The contest will be a regularly scheduled game of the North Central Louisiana League and will be the first of a three-game series which will determine whether Jonesville will take over the second spot in the loop now occupied by the Lumberjacks.

Town officials state the new all-steel grandstand will be completed in time for the game, offering plenty of seating space. No formal ceremonies are planned for this game though official dedication is expected to take place later.

In earlier meetings of the two teams, Clarks has held the edge with 3-2 and 4-0 scores. The last tilt was called because of darkness after a 13-inning 6-6 deadlock.

Buddy Ware, newly-acquired pitcher, will be on the mound for the Blues in the Tuesday night game.

PAPA REDBIRD WINS ARLINGTON CLASSIC

CHICAGO, July 31.—(AP)—Papa Redbird, at odds of 8 to 1, scored a surprise victory in winning the $88,900 Arlington Classic today.

The winner led from start to finish, winning by six lengths. Shy Guy was second, Lou Jac third and the 4 to 5 favorite, My Request, fourth in a six horse field.

The victory was worth $66,600 to Owner Joseph A. Goodwin of Lexington, Ky. Papa Redbird, ridden by Jockey R. L. Baird, ran the mile and a quarter over a fast track in 2:03.

Papa Redbird returned $19.00, $7.20 and $4.60 with Shy Guy paying $5.00 and $4.00. Lou Jac paid $6.40 to show.

SOUTHERN 4-BALL TOURNAMENT SET FOR SEPTEMBER

Course At Savannah, Ga., To Be Seen Of Eighth Annual Event

SAVANNAH, Ga., July 31.—(Special)—The Southern Golf Association's eighth annual Four-Ball Championship will be decided over Savannah's famous General Oglethorpe Hotel golf course on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 16-17-18, it was announced today.

One of the most popular golf tournaments in the south since its inception in 1937, this year's renewal of the fairway classic is expected to reach a new peak of popularity over the tree-studded and well-trapped par 72 General Oglethorpe course which is 6,800 yards long and will present a stiff challenge to the invading Dixie shotmakers.

In order to accommodate a larger field and to assure entrants of a better chance at the championship, the Four-Ball method of play has been changed. Instead of match play, team vs. team, the tournament will find the teams competing against par with the scores to be computed on a plus and minus basis. Each team will play four 18-hole rounds, one each on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 16-17, and two on Saturday, Sept. 18.

Any amateur golfer belonging to a member club is eligible to compete. The only other entrance requirement is that the field is restricted to players with a 5 or less handicap. Entrants may choose their own partners. It is not necessary for both players on a team to be a member of the same club, but they must be from the same state. Each state may have several teams. In the past, each state belonging to the Southern Golf Association (14 states) has officially appointed one or two teams to represent

Battle At Casino Park Here Will Aid Annual Goodfellows' Fund

The World Champion Jax Girls of New Orleans and Spatafora's Pharmacy, northeast Louisiana's defending champions and kingpins of Monroe's City League, clash here this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Casino Park in what promises to be the greatest softball spectacle ever presented here.

The contest is being played for the benefit of the Goodfellows' Fund which operates solely for the distribution of Christmas cheer among needy families of Ouachita parish at Christmas time.

The Jax Girls, organized in 1938 by Heard J. Regas with the backing of the Jackson Brewing Company of New Orleans, have won the Louisiana state championship every year since. They comprise one of the few softball teams ever invited to play in New York City's Madison Square Garden. Playing approximately 100 games per season, exclusive of the war years, the Jax outfit has never lost more than eight games in a single season.

The feminine stars, in demand throughout the United States and Canada where they appeared in the Canadian Exposition spent the war period closer to home, entertaining soldiers and sailors in the army and navy posts in the coastal area. They won 90 per cent of their war years' games against military teams composed of men, the most sensational of their victories against military clubs being a 2-1 thriller against Zeke Bonura's All-Star aggregation composed of many major and minor league players at Camp Shelby Miss., in September, 1942.

In 1942 the Jax Girls won their first national title and repeated in 1943. In 1944 they were dethroned by Portland, Ore., but came back to sweep all national titles since. The first girls World Series was held last year with Jax, as representatives of the Amateur Softball Association, defeating the Phoenix, Ariz., Queens, National Softball Congress champs.

Regas, after eight years as manager of the Jax club, this year steps down, turning the job over to Miss Freda Savona the team's field captain for seven years. Mary Pembo, a nine-year veteran, takes over as captain at Miss Savona's promotion.

JAX PERSONNEL

LOTTIE JACKSON—Native of Nashville, Tenn. At 31 she has been playing ball for ten years, seven of them with Jax. A bookkeeper at Jackson Brewing Company, she is one of the nation's outstanding pitchers, and in addition excells in bowling, swimming, and basketball. Last year she was named on the All-America girls basketball team at St. Joseph, Mo.

NINA KORGAN—A veteran of 14 years in softball and from Council Bluffs, Iowa. She has been on five world championship teams, winning in 1941 with the Higgins Midgets of Tulsa, Okla. She's 31 and also a Jax bookkeeper. She's tagged for third base but can play anywhere.

ANNIE STARUSKA—A relative newcomer to the team which she joined last year. She's 21 and from Houston, Tex. She is a pitcher with a fine fastball and curve.

ELLOUISE STECH—Affectionately known as "Puddin," she's enjoying a second good season with Jax. Age 23, from Houston, Tex., and a clerk for J. B. C., she's also studying on the side to be a pharmacist. She is a catcher.

SELMA MEINECKE—Born at Stillwater, Okla., she's 26 and has been on the Jax team for five years and was formerly with the champion Higgins Midgets. The outfield is her specialty.

MARY PEMBO—Captain of the team at 24, she's one of the three oldest members of the team in point of service. Playing first base, she has been with the club since its organization in 1939.

FREDA SAVONA—Captain for eight years, coach last year and now manager. She's also one of the nation's greatest women basketball players and was formerly with the Rochester Filarets who boasted a 176-game victory stretch without defeat over a nine-year period. She's a shortstop and the club's leading hitter.

EDITH DAUL—Once a star athlete at Gretna High School, she's a native of Louisiana and 24 years old. "Skipper" plays the infield or outfield and is also one of the Jax basketball team's outstanding players.

HAZEL GILL—Another native of the state from Bogalusa. A member of the team for five years, Hazel is 23 and plays second base.

KATHLEEN WHITE—Born at Orange, Tex, Kathleen is 21 and playing her second season with Jax. Secretary to the retiring manager, Regas, she was formerly a member of the famous Bengal Guards drum and bugle corps of Orange. She plays the infield or outfield.

EVELYN CASE—A native of New Orleans and 24 years old. This is her second year with the Jax team but she is employed by a New Orleans candy company. "Casey" plays the infield and outfield.

OLYMPIA SAVONA—Considered one of the most versatile players in the country, "Lymp" was born in Malvern, Ohio, 25 years ago. She has a powerful arm and is a long ball hitter with an average always above .350. She plays any position well.

The Jax girls have a record of 64 victories against 15 defeats this season, and twelve of their wins have been against men's clubs. They have lost only three of 15 games played against men this year. Their overall record

10-GAME GRIDIRON SLATE FOR BLOCK

Bears Open Football Season Against L. T. I. Pels On September 17

JONESVILLE, La., July 31.—(Special)—A rugged 10-game schedule with the probability of another contest being added has been announced for the 1948 Block High School gridiron Bears by Coach Frank Bishop.

Six new schools have been added to the schedule, including Olla, Columbia, Jena, Ferriday, Jefferson Military College of Washington, Miss., and Sicily Island. The Block eleven played Columbia "B" team last season but will take on the regulars in the 1948 campaign.

All the new teams are under two-year contracts and will be on the 1949 slate.

The Bears will open Sept. 17 with a night game in Jonesville against the Louisiana Training Institute Pelicans and the follow-up Sept. 24 with another home game under the lights against Sarepta.

An open date occurs on Oct. 1, but Bishop stated he hopes to have it filled within a few weeks. The vacancy occurred when Mangham refused to play host to the Bears in return for a 1947 tilt.

Olla's Tigers play in Jonesville Oct. 8 and then the Bears take to the road to play at Crowville Oct. 15 and at Columbia Oct. 22. The following week, Oct. 29, the Blocksters take on their long-time LaSalle parish athletic rivals the Jena Giants, at Jena.

One of the largest crowds of the season is expected to witness the Nov. 5 tilt in Jonesville aganst Ferriday's Bulldogs. Wisner will play in Jonesville Nov. 12, and the Bears go to Washington, Miss., to tangle with the Jefferson Military College Cadets.

Sicily Island, longtime parish rivals of the Bears, will invade Jonesville Nov. 26 for the first annual Turkey Day classic.

Louisiana Training Institute and the News-Star Publishers devided a double header yesterday to continue their deadlock for second place in the Recreation Baseball League.

The Pelicans won the opener, 3 to 0, behind the two-hit pitching of Oliver Smart, and the Publishers came back to take the second, 6 to 4.

The Pels backed Smart with errorless ball in the first game, and News-Star, committing only one error, got a good five-hitter from Henry. No player got more than one hit in the opener. LaGrange was the L. T. I. catcher, and Bayles di dthe backstopping for News-Star in the second, and Fissette and Smart, sharing the pitching for L. T. I., allowed only six hits for each club. Smart and Scroggins led L. T. I. with two safe blows, and Bayles hit safely twice for the Publishers. Blanchard caught for L. T. I., and Bayles did the News-Star catching.

Monroe Exterminating extended its league lead to two full games by claiming a default from Red Shield Club.

Jack Curtis Gives Austiro Shot At World's Title Tuesday Night

Light-Heavy Crown At Stake At Kallio's; Kali Pasha, Sandow Meet

Angelo Austiro, the rowdy New York Greek, has become quite ambitious since lifting the Louisiana state light heavyweight wrestling title from Johnny Carlin here last week, and he goes out for bigger game Tuesday night when he shoots for the world's title as well in a match with Champion Jack Curtis at Gus Kallio's Arena.

Promoter Kallio last night announced the signing of the state and world's champions for his main event on this week's card. Curtis, however, is the only man risking anything since Austiro's state belt will be quite safe if he is unable to dethrone Curtis.

"This match is for the world's title only," Promoter Kallio explained. "Austiro has been seeking a world's chaimpionship match for some time, and when he won the state belt from Carlin he put himself in a position that can't be ignored."

Curtis and Austiro will battle over a 90-minute time limit distance with two falls to win, and the referee will be Bill Barney.

The semi-final attraction will bring together Billy Sondow, Miami, Fla. and Kali Pasha, the Persian battler from Chicago.

Sandow is of the classical type of wrestler, while Persian is about as rough and tough as they come. The curtain-raiser, opening the program at 8:30 o'clock, promises to have as much action as the main event is expected to produce.

Pasha and Sandow will meet in an hour time limit match, also two falls to win.

TWO FOOTBALL PLAYERS IN JEEP-AUTO ACCIDENT

MACON, Miss., July 31.—(AP)—Two Mississippi National Guardsmen were injured—one seriously—in a jeep-automobile accident near here today.

Jim Hinton, of Jasper, Ala., received serious internal injuries and Joe Morgan, of Port Arthur, Texas, suffered minor cuts and bruises.

Morgan said they were en route from Hattiesburg, where they attend Mississippi Southern College, to intercept a National Guard convoy at Tupelo, Miss. A car darted in front of them, he said, and the Guardsmen had "to take to the ditch. The jeep overturned several times but didn't pin us under because we were thrown clear."

He said he believed Hinton suffered a ruptured spleen and other internal injuries and is now under the influence of drugs.

Morgan a 250-pound tackle, transferred to Mississippi Southern last February from McNeese Junior College at Lake Charles, La.

Hinton, a 220-pound tackle, entered Southern at the same time after having played football at Auburn in 1945

Both are members of the 3,656th Ordnance Medium Maintenance Company and were to accompany one of six convoys of Guardsmen to Fort Benning, Ga., for training.

WESTERN JUNIOR TITLE AGAIN WON BY TRABERT

SOUTH BEND, Ind., July 31.—(AP)—Tony Trabert of Cincinnati won his second straight Western Junior tennis championship today despite brilliant play by Runner-up Dick Mouledous of New Orleans. The score was 8-6, 6-0, 8-6.

Third-seeded Mouledous had two set points in the first set. Each time it was Trabert's service and the Ohioan charged to the net and put the ball out of the southerner's reach.

Top-seeded singles and doubles players were beaten in championship matches of the boys' division.

Third-seeded Hamilton Richardson, Baton Rouge, La., defeated Robert Perry of Los Angeles, the defending champion, 11-9, 6-3. Richardson's game featured a strong backhand and he had four service aces.

Unseeded Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., and Wally Clarke of San Francisco upset Perry and Alan Cleveland, Santa Monica, Calif., in the boys' doubles finals, 6-4, 6-3.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

by Hugh S. Fullerton, jr.

NEW YORK, July 31.—(AP)—It was 20 years ago this week that Gene retired as undefeated heavyweight champion after his fight with Tom Heeny drew "only" $500,000 . . . If you look back at the records you'll find the situation was much the same as it is today with Joe Louis trying to retire . . . In retrospect, Jack Sharkey, Young Stribling, George Godfrey, Paulino Uzcudun, Johnny Risko, Jack Dempsey and Tommy Loughran sound like a pretty fair group of fighters, That's not what the experts and fans thought in 1928 . . . Dempsey was about to start a comeback but his condition was doubtful; Loughran wasn't convinced he should give up the light heavy title to try for bigger game; Godfrey had lots of boosters but couldn't get the matches. Max Schmeling still was in Germany and it was two years before he won the title sitting down in his famous scrap with Sharkey.

Quote, Unquote

Here's what one writer, whose words were reproduced in the 1929 boxing record, had to say: "The fans have inspected the line of goods offered by the current run of heavyweights and have not been overly impressed. * * * There is nothing to enthuse over in their work . . . There isn't a real punch in the lot." . . . They're saying about the same thing now about the Walcotts, Charleses, Savolds, Bettinas, Bivinses, etc . . . Wonder how they'll be rated in another 20 years?

Profitable Purchase

F. S. Myerscough, who bought a yearling named Phoenix for 300 pounds some 16 years ago, can show a profit of nearly 160,000 pounds with more to come . . . Phoenix won the Irish Derby and Irish 2,000 Guineas in 1934 and went on to become an outstanding stud . . . Myerscough recently syndicated the stallion to 30 English breeders at 4,000 pounds a share and kept ten shares for himself. . . . Suppose you could call him the Irish Hirsch Jacobs?

Weak End Notes

Garrard Ramsey, William and Mary-Chicago Cardinals, will be making his third appearance in the Chicago all-star football game this year. His kid brother, Knox, who belongs to the Los Angeles Dons, will be playing on the college side of the field . . . Georgia Tech is looking for Dan Bradich, who was on the bench most of the time last fall playing "behind" Bobby Davis, to play a lot of football this season instead of playing solitaire . . . Dont' be surprised if Utah U. starts passing up garden basketball dates in favor of west coast trips in another season or two . . . If the Braves win the National League pennant, some 200 of Al Dark's hometown fans are planning a Boston visit—bringing that Louisiana coffee that's strong enough to make Al hit .500 in the world series.

SOUTHERNERS, COLONELS SIGN GRIDIRON CONTRACT

MOBILE, Ala., July 31.—(AP)—Powerful little Mississippi Southern College and the University of Louisville signed a four-year football contract here today.

The first game of the series will be played Thanksgiving week, 1949, in Ladd Memorial Stadium here. Mississippi Southern has two and perhaps three games scheduled this fall in the still incomplete structure.

Both schools are members of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Louisville was undefeated last year. Mississippi Southern beat Auburn while winning seven and losing three starts in the 1947 season.

The Hattiesburg, Miss., college was represented by its president, Dr. R. C. Cook, and by Reid Green, head coach and athletic director.

The Louisville, Ky., school's representatives were Head Coach Frank Camp and Business Manager Bovard Clayton.

American Force Establishes Three New Records; Foreign Aces Tie Two

LONDON, July 31.—(AP)—America's vaunted track and swim specialists snapped out of the doldrums today with a record-smashing surge that brought them five gold medals and a tremendous lead in the unofficial point standings of the 14th Olympic games.

Almost shut out in yesterday's first final events, Uncle Sam's men and women made up for it today with a vengeance.

Besides taking five first places—by Sprinter Harrison Dillard, 400-meter Hurdler Roy Cochran, Broad Jumper Willie Steele, Swim Sprinter Wally Ris and Springboard Diver Bruce Harlan—the American forces broke three Olympic records and tied another. Foreign athletes accounted for two more Olympic marks in the standard-smashing spree.

All told eight individual finals in track and field and in swimming were held today and the U. S. scored in seven, very heavily in six, to run up a huge overall total of 101 points.

Far behind in second place came France with 28, followed by Sweden 25, Australia 17, Hungary 14, the host British squad 12, and Czechoslovakia, Austria, and Norway, 10 each. In all 21 nations have broken into the point column.

The first American to have the Stars and Stripes hoisted on the victory platform was Harlan of Ohio State. The Buckeye diver captured the springboard diving gold medal to pace a one-two-three U. S. sweep of the event.

As the American contingents in Wembley Stadium and in the Empire Exposition poolhouse roared in approval, the red white and blue banners were raised four more times.

The other swimming final almost brought another American sweep. Ris of Iowa splashed to a record-breaking victory in the 100-meter free style followed by Alan Ford of Yale in second place and Keith Carter of Purdue in fourth. Alex Jany, the famed French champion, wound up in fifth place. Ris was clocked in 57.3 seconds, two-tenths of a second better than the existing standard.

Cochran, of the Los Angeles athletic club captured the first American gold medal in track and field, and he did it in record-breaking fashion. The former Indiana university ace, won the 400 meter hurdles by five yards in 51.1 seconds, eight-tenths of a second under the standard he and Rune Larsson of Sweden established yesterday.

Larsson could do no better than finish third today, trailing Duncan White, an unknown from Ceylon, who took the silver medal.

Dick Ault of Missouri gave the U. S. an unexpected three points by nabbing fourth position.

Then came the most dramatic moment so far for the U. S. forces. Dillard, the great negro hurdler from Baldwin-Wallace who couldn't make the team in his specialty, equalled Eddie Tolan's Olympic record of 10.3 seconds to win the 100 meter dash by a nose over Barney Ewell of Lancaster, Pa. Mel Patton, the southern California flash, came in a disappointing fifth behind Panama's Lloyd LaBeach and Great Britain's Alan McCorquordale.

Another negro luminary, Steele of San Diego State, came home with the last gold medal of the day for Uncle Sam by taking the broad jump with a leap of 25 feet 8 inches. Herb Douglas of Pittsburgh and Lorenzo Wright of Wayne finished third and fourth behind T. Bruce of Australia to help the U. S. rack up 17 points in the event.

The final record-breaking performance by an American, was accomplished by Jimmy McLane, the sensational 17-year-old distance swimmer from Andover Academy and Akron, O. McLane clipped 2.3 seconds off the Olympic mark to win his heat of the 400 meter free style swim in 4 minutes, 42.2 seconds.

Austria, Hungary and Sweden annexed the other three gold medals today while Holland expected one as a result of Nel Van Vliet's record-shattering performance in the semi-finals of the 200-meter breast stroke.

H. Baume of Austria, won the women's javelin with an Olympic record throw of 149 feet, 6 inches. And it was in this event that the disappointing American women's squad finally came through with its first points. After all three American women had been eliminated in the 100-meter trials, Dorothy Dodson of Mundelein, Ill., scored three points by winding up fourth with 137 feet, 7 1/2 inches.

Hungary's Irmy Nemeth won the hammer throw final with a toss of 183 feet, 11 1/2 inches, and Sweden's J. A. Ljunggren took first in the 50,000 meter road walk, only final today in which Uncle Sam failed to score. Ljunggren was timed in 4 hours, 41:52.

In the hammer, Bob Bennett of Brown (176 ft., 3 1/2 inches) and Sam Felton of Harvard (176 ft., 1/2 inch), gave America seven points with third and fourth places.

Miss Van Vliet was caught in 2:57 today, four-tenths of a second less than the Olympic mark she hung up in a trial yesterday.

In the springboard dive, Harlan was followed by an Ohio State teammate, Miller Anderson, and Dr. Sammy Lee of Pasadena, Calif., a performance good for 19 points.

There were good prospects of a

NIGHT BASEBALL FOR JONESVILLE

JONESVILLE, La., July 31.—(Special)—Night baseball will come to Jonesville Tuesday night when the Jonesville Blues face the Clarks Lumberjacks beneath the new $10,000 lighting system which has been completed in the town's $45,000 municipal park.

The contest will be a regularly scheduled game of the North Central Louisiana League and will be the first of a three-game series which will determine whether Jonesville will take over the second spot in the loop now occupied by the Lumberjacks.

Town officials state the new all-steel grandstand will be completed in time for the game, offering plenty of seating space. No formal ceremonies are planned for this game though official dedication is expected to take place later.

In earlier meetings of the two teams, Clarks has held the edge with 3-2 and 4-0 scores. The last tilt was called because of darkness after a 13-inning 6-6 deadlock.

Buddy Ware, newly-acquired pitcher, will be on the mound for the Blues in the Tuesday night game.

PAPA REDBIRD WINS ARLINGTON CLASSIC

CHICAGO, July 31.—(AP)—Papa Redbird, at odds of 8 to 1, scored a surprise victory in winning the $88,900 Arlington Classic today.

The winner led from start to finish, winning by six lengths. Shy Guy was second, Lou Jac third and the 4 to 5 favorite, My Request, fourth in a six horse field.

The victory was worth $66,600 to Owner Joseph A. Goodwin of Lexington, Ky. Papa Redbird, ridden by Jockey R. L. Baird, ran the mile and a quarter over a fast track in 2:03.

Papa Redbird returned $19.00, $7.20 and $4.60 with Shy Guy paying $5.00 and $4.00. Lou Jac paid $6.40 to show.

SOUTHERN 4-BALL TOURNAMENT SET FOR SEPTEMBER

Course At Savannah, Ga., To Be Seen Of Eighth Annual Event

SAVANNAH, Ga., July 31.—(Special)—The Southern Golf Association's eighth annual Four-Ball Championship will be decided over Savannah's famous General Oglethorpe Hotel golf course on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 16-17-18, it was announced today.

One of the most popular golf tournaments in the south since its inception in 1937, this year's renewal of the fairway classic is expected to reach a new peak of popularity over the tree-studded and well-trapped par 72 General Oglethorpe course which is 6,800 yards long and will present a stiff challenge to the invading Dixie shotmakers.

In order to accommodate a larger field and to assure entrants of a better chance at the championship, the Four-Ball method of play has been changed. Instead of match play, team vs. team, the tournament will find the teams competing against par with the scores to be computed on a plus and minus basis. Each team will play four 18-hole rounds, one each on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 16-17, and two on Saturday, Sept. 18.

Any amateur golfer belonging to a member club is eligible to compete. The only other entrance requirement is that the field is restricted to players with a 5 or less handicap. Entrants may choose their own partners. It is not necessary for both players on a team to be a member of the same club, but they must be from the same state. Each state may have several teams. In the past, each state belonging to the Southern Golf Association (14 states) has officially appointed one or two teams to represent

GORDON KNOCKS IN WINNING RUN FOR CLEVELAND

Athletics Trounce Tigers, 8 To 3; Yankees Overoome White Sox

CLEVELAND, July 31.—(AP)—Cleveland's Indians, battling desperately to remain in the thick of the dog fight for the American League pennant, came from behind three times today and finally defeated the pace-setting Boston Red Sox 10 to 9 in an 11-inning slugging match that lasted three and a half hours.

Joe Gordon

A single by Joe Gordon with two out in the 11th scored Joe Tipton with the winning marker and sliced Boston's lead over the second place Philadelphia Athletics to half a game. The Indians, who play the Sox again tomorrow in a double header, remained in third place, two games off the pace.

Bob Feller started for the Indians, but Ed Klieman, Russ Christopher and Steve Gomek were pressed into service, with Gromek getting credit for the victory.

Joe Dobson was the Boston starter, but he was followed by Earl Johnson, Earl Caldwell and finally Mel Parnell, who was charged with the loss.

Farmerville To Play Bohn Motors In Legion Finals

DATES OF SERIES WILL BE DECIDED EARLY THIS WEEK

Gretna Loses Out To New Orleans Club In Semi-Final Contest, 14-3

The Farmerville American Legion Junior baseball club will appear in the state championship finals against Bohn Motors of New Orleans in a series this week, but dates and sites of the championship games are yet to be decided.

Bohn qualified to meet the Preaus Motors outfit of Farmerville last night by defeating Gretna, 14 to 3, in the fourth game of their three-out-of-five semi-final series.

Coach "Doc" Elliott's Union parish boys gained the title finals earlier in the week by taking two straight from the Lake Charles Skippers by scores of 11 to 10 and 8 to 7.

Coach Elliott, who has sent his Farmerville club further along the state championship trail than any other Fifth District team in about 15 years, was in New Orleans last night to see the final between Gretna and Bohn.

An effort is already underway here to have at least one of the state final games played at Monroe's Casino Park. The rival club officials, when they meet to decide where and when the games will be played, will have Monroe's invitation:

Winner of the Farmerville-New Orleans series will qualify for the national regional series between state champions of Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi and Arkansas sometime after August 15.

BOHN TRIUMPHS

NEW ORLEANS, July 31.—(AP)—Bohn Motors of New Orleans tonight became South Louisiana Champs in American Legion Junior baseball by defeating Claverie Motors of Gretna, 14-3.

It was Bohn's third win out of four games in the three-out-of-five series.

Bohn will meet Farmerville, North Louisiana champs, at a time and place to be determined next week. Farmerville won the North Louisiana title by defeating Lake Charles.

Don Hecker hurled Bohn to its victory, allowing eight hits, walking one and striking out 12. Virgil Rodriquez, Claverie hurler, allowed seven hits, walked 12 and struck out 10.

Mississippi, Louisiana Semi-Pro Champs Meet for Bi-State Title

Winnsboro Red Sox Host To Cleveland Indians Tomorrow, Tuesday

WINNSBORO, La., July 31.—(Special)—The bi-state championship playoff between semi-pro title holders of Louisiana and Mississippi will open here Monday night when the Winnsboro Red Sox, kingpins of Louisiana, engage the Cleveland Indians of Mississippi. The contest begins at 8 o'clock at Memorial Park, and the rival clubs will also play their second game of their three-out-of-five series here Tuesday night.

The Red Sox won the Louisiana championship, held last year by the Barksdale Field Sky Raiders, when they beat out Heflers of New Orleans in the final battle of the state tournament here Friday night.

Cleveland beat out the Laurel Jaycees in the Mississippi finals.

Winner of the Louisiana-Mississippi series will represent the two states in the National Semi-Pro Congress Tournament at Wichita, Kan.

Plans to have all but the first two games of the Cleveland-Winnsboro series played at Hattiesburg, Miss., have been changed. After the games here Monday and Tuesday, all other games to determine the bi-state champion will be played instead at Drew, Miss.

Announcement of the change was made by J. W. Wright, Jr., acting Mississippi semi-pro commissioner, for Commissioner J. A. Stiglets, who underwent an emergency operation the past week.

Wright said the shift was made at the request of the Cleveland Indians.

After the games here, the teams will travel Wednesday and resume their play with the third game Thursday night. A possible fourth game is slated for Friday night, and, if a fifth game is necessary it will be played next Sunday afternoon.

Manager W. E. Marionneaux boasts one of the finest teams this year Winnsboro has ever had, passing all tournament competition in district and state meets without defeat and losing only six games to semi-pro rivals during regular season play.

"Buck" Hollis, who shut out the Heflers with two hits Friday night, is likely to get the call again Monday. "Dub" Stewart, who has hit successfully in the last 25 games for the Sox, will be out to make it 26 in a row.

ZONE SOFTBALL TOURNEY OPENS HERE SATURDAY

Deadline For Accepting Entries In District Meet Is Tomorrow

Northeast Louisiana's second annual district softball tournament opens here next Saturday and continues with the finals Sunday with all softball clubs throughout this section of the state eligible to compete.

The deadline for accepting entries is tomorrow, and all teams desiring to compete in the event won last year by Spatafora's Pharmacy of Monroe are urged to get their team registration and entry fee of $7.50 in the hands of Monroe Recreation department officials not later than tomorrow.

Among teams already entered or expected to enter are Spatafora's defending champions, Jitney Jungle of Tallulah, Monroe Red Sox, Fairbanks, Square Deal Motors of Monroe, Gay Clothing of Monroe, Exchange Club Greenies of Monroe, and others.

Official American Softball Association rules will govern play in the tournament. No player can compete with more than one team, but there is no player limit on team rosters.

Each club will be required to furnish one new ball for each game, and official league balls will be the 12-inch flat stitch oval turned out by Rawlings, Higgins, Double Header, Goldsmith 100, Spaulding or Horwood.

Cups will be given the district champion and runner-up, and only the championship team will be eligible to compete in the state tournament although the runner-up may compete in the state if the district champ declines.

In the event of rain next Saturday, the tournament will be postponed until the following weekend.

LEGION TO MEET

L. B. Faulk Post No. 13, American Legion, will meet here tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the Legion Home. James Trousdale will preside for the first time as the post's new commander.

In all about 8600 species of birds are known, belonging to more than 140 different families.

U. S. TRACKMEN, ACQUATIC STARS COMMAND SHOW

Americans Come Back Strong After Weak Opening Day Start In Olympics

By Gayle Talbot

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Wembley, Enland, July 31.—(AP)—America's Olympic forces, led by an ebony comet named Harrison Dillard, swept three of the most coveted track and field championships today to grasp the undisputed leadership in that phase of the 1948 World games.

Coming back brilliantly after yesterday's weak start, Uncle Sam's lads gave a capacity throng of 83,000 a thrilling display as they won the 100 meter dash, the 400-meter hurdles and the broad jump, broke one Olympic record and tied another.

Dillard, already recognized as the world's greatest hurdler, scored the day's most sensational triumph when he beat his famous teammate, Barney Ewell, by a whisker in the 100 meters and matched the Olympic mark of 10.3 seconds set by another American negro, Eddie Tolan at Los Angeles in 1932.

Contesting with him for individual honors was Roy Cochran, a quiet instructor from the University of Southern California, who raced to an easy victory in the 400-meter hurdles. He finished four yards ahead of his closest rival in the new Olympic time of 51.1 seconds.

Willie Steele, negro star from San Diego State College, capped the American comeback by winning the broad jump with a mighty leap of 25 feet, 8 inches. Two of his teammates, Herbert Douglas of Pitt and Lorenzo Wright of Wayne, took third and fourth, respectively, behind Tom Bruce, an Australian.

Over in the Olympic pool, meanwhile, the American aquatic stars were making a clean sweep of the men's springboard diving championships and placing first, second and fourth in the finals of the men's 100 meter freestyle swimming.

Wally Ris of the University of Iowa captured the 100 meter swim in 57.3 seconds to clip two-tenths off the Olympic record as all three Americans finished ahead of the highly favored Frenchman, Alex Jany.

Alan Ford, former Yale star, was second, with Geza Kadas of Hungary third, while Keith Carter of Purdue nosed out Jany for the fourth spot.

Bruce Harlan of Ohio State won the

The Senior League title series, tied up at two wins each for the Exchange Club Greenies, defending champs, and Red Shield Club, which led the league at the close of the schedule, will be resumed Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at Barkdull Faulk, and their next meeting is slated for Friday night at 8 o'clock on the Missouri Pacific diamond.

Coleman Construction Corporaton, already in the finals of the Junior League, awaits the deciding game result in the semi-final playoff between L. T. I. and Red Shield Club before getting an opponent in the final series. L. T. I. and Red Shield, with one win each, decide their playoff in a game tomorrow night at 6 o'clock at Missouri Pacific. The opening final game between tomorrow's winner and Coleman Construction will be played Thursday night at 6 o'clock at Missouri Pacific.

The Midget American semi-final opens Wednesday with Guerriero meeting Memorial Methodists at 6 p. m., and Red Shield playing Terminix at 7:30, both games at Missouri Pacific. Second games are slated for Friday night with Red Shield-Terminix opening at 6 o'clock, and the Guerriero-Methodist game at 7:30, both at Sherrouse.

Th Midget American All-Stars, the best players of the league, play with West Monroe Midget All-Stars in an exhibition Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock at Sherrouse.

BEGIN SELECTION C. Y. O. BOWLING EVENT TEAMS

The Catholic Youth Organization's bowling school, in progress here for the past few weeks, now moved to select a team to represent the Monroe district in the C. Y. O. Bowling Tournament to be conducted the latter part of August, according to an announcement by Ed Marshall, lay director of C. Y. O., Alexandria.

Similar teams are being selected at Alexandria and Shreveport. The teams, to be chosen from 190 bowlers attending the school, will meet in a tournament, the dates of which are yet to be fixed.

Classes here are being conducted at Snappy Bowling Lanes.

IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT
VOLUNTEERING and the DRAFT

EVERY able-bodied young American who did not bear arms in World War II has a direct, personal interest in the new Selective Service Law. Here are the facts:

The most important thing to remember is that the U. S. Army will continue to rely on voluntary enlistments as its primary source of manpower.

Selective Service will be used only to make up the difference between authorized strength and the number of volunteers. If there are not enough volunteers to do the job, young men of 19 to 25 will be subject to call for 21 months of service, with an additional 5 years in inactive reserve status.

You may prefer to choose from a number of other courses open to you.

First, if you are 18 you may volunteer within limited monthly quotas, for one year's training with the Army of the United States. Up to 110,000 men, in monthly increments of 10,000, in this classification can be accepted. Following active duty you must, if offered the assignment, serve 4 years in an organized unit of the Reserve or National Guard; or, if not offered such assignment, serve 6 years in the inactive reserve. Either of these requirements may be met by enlisting for 2 or more years in the Regular Army.

Second, if you are 19 to 25 you may volunteer for 21 months in the Regular Army. Upon completion of this service you must serve for 3 years with an organized reserve unit or National Guard, or serve 5 years in the inactive reserve. Either requirement may be met by extending your Regular Army enlistment 12 months.

Third—and best, you may enlist in the Regular Army for 3 or more years. There are many advantages to this course. Men of 17 to 34 who measure up to high Regular Army standards can enter on a professional career that has few equals in civilian life. Here are the important facts about these opportunities:

CHOICES OPEN TO 3-YEAR VOLUNTEERS

THE ARMY TECHNICAL SCHOOL PROGRAM permits any young man with a high school education, or the equivalent, between 17 and 34, who enlists for 3 years, to apply for and qualify for one of more than 60 splendid technical school courses taught by the Army, before he enlists. And he can be sure of attending that course after enlistment. If he wins promotion to a technical grade, he can earn the net equivalent of $4000 to $5000 a year in civilian pay.

OVERSEAS SERVICE IN JAPAN OR KOREA is open to any 3-year volunteer who selects it. Famous combat divisions now in the Far East are doing a magnificent job for democracy and world peace. Men who serve with them will have the advantages of travel and 20% increase for overseas pay.

CONTINUED EDUCATION is offered Army volunteers through the hundreds of high school and college courses provided by the U. S. Armed Forces Institute. Most colleges and universities grant credits for courses completed under this educational program.

OFFICER CANDIDATE SCHOOL, leading to a reserve commission in the Army, is open to high school graduates, 20½ to 28, who can qualify. Distinguished OCS graduates are commissioned in the Regular Army.

VETERANS have special choices open to them, depending on their experience and the Military Occupational Specialties they held previously. With the expanded training program, advancement opportunities will be excellent.

GORDON KNOCKS IN WINNING RUN FOR CLEVELAND

Athletics Trounce Tigers, 8 To 3; Yankees Overcome White Sox

CLEVELAND, July 31.—(AP)—Cleveland's Indians, battling desperately to remain in the thick of the dog fight for the American League pennant, came from behind three times today and finally defeated the pace-setting Boston Red Sox 10 to 9 in an 11-inning slugging match that lasted three and a half hours.

Joe Gordon

A single by Joe Gordon with two out in the 11th scored Joe Tipton with the winning marker and sliced Boston's lead over the second place Philadelphia Athletics to half a game. The Indians, who play the Sox again tomorrow in a double header, remained in third place, two games off the pace.

Bob Feller started for the Indians, but Ed Klieman, Russ Christopher and Steve Gomek were pressed into service, with Gromek getting credit for the victory.

Joe Dobson was the Boston starter, but he was followed by Earl Johnson, Earl Caldwell and finally Mel Parnell, who was charged with the loss.

Farmerville To Play Bohn Motors In Legion Finals

DATES OF SERIES WILL BE DECIDED EARLY THIS WEEK

Gretna Loses Out To New Orleans Club In Semi-Final Contest, 14-3

The Farmerville American Legion Junior baseball club will appear in the state championship finals against Bohn Motors of New Orleans in a series this week, but dates and sites of the championship games are yet to be decided.

Bohn qualified to meet the Preaus Motors outfit of Farmerville last night by defeating Gretna, 14 to 3, in the fourth game of their three-out-of-five semi-final series.

Coach "Doc" Elliott's Union parish boys gained the title finals earlier in the week by taking two straight from the Lake Charles Skippers by scores of 11 to 10 and 8 to 7.

Coach Elliott, who has sent his Farmerville club further along the state championship trail than any other Fifth District team in about 15 years, was in New Orleans last night to see the final between Gretna and Bohn.

An effort is already underway here to have at least one of the state final games played at Monroe's Casino Park. The rival club officials, when they meet to decide where and when the games will be played, will have Monroe's invitation:

Winner of the Farmerville-New Orleans series will qualify for the national regional series between state champions of Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi and Arkansas sometime after August 15.

BOHN TRIUMPHS

NEW ORLEANS, July 31.—(AP)—Bohn Motors of New Orleans tonight became South Louisiana Champs in American Legion Junior baseball by defeating Claverie Motors of Gretna, 14-3.

It was Bohn's third win out of four games in the three-out-of-five series.

Bohn will meet Farmerville, North Louisiana champs, at a time and place to be determined next week. Farmerville won the North Louisiana title by defeating Lake Charles.

Don Hecker hurled Bohn to its victory, allowing eight hits, walking one and striking out 12. Virgil Rodriquez, Claverie hurler, allowed seven hits, walked 12 and struck out 10.

Mississippi, Louisiana Semi-Pro Champs Meet for Bi-State Title

Winnsboro Red Sox Host To Cleveland Indians Tomorrow, Tuesday

WINNSBORO, La., July 31.—(Special)—The bi-state championship playoff between semi-pro title holders of Louisiana and Mississippi will open here Monday night when the Winnsboro Red Sox, kingpins of Louisiana, engage the Cleveland Indians of Mississippi. The contest begins at 8 o'clock at Memorial Park, and the rival clubs will also play their second game of their three-out-of-five series here Tuesday night.

The Red Sox won the Louisiana championship, held last year by the Barksdale Field Sky Raiders, when they beat out Heflers of New Orleans in the final battle of the state tournament here Friday night.

Cleveland beat out the Laurel Jaycees in the Mississippi finals.

Winner of the Louisiana-Mississippi series will represent the two states in the National Semi-Pro Congress Tournament at Wichita, Kan.

Plans to have all but the first two games of the Cleveland-Winnsboro series played at Hattiesburg, Miss., have been changed. After the games here Monday and Tuesday, all other games to determine the bi-state champion will be played instead at Drew, Miss.

Announcement of the change was made by J. W. Wright, Jr., acting Mississippi semi-pro commissioner, for Commissioner J. A. Stiglets, who underwent an emergency operation the past week.

Wright said the shift was made at the request of the Cleveland Indians.

After the games here, the teams will travel Wednesday and resume their play with the third game Thursday night. A possible fourth game is slated for Friday night, and, f a fifth game is necessary it will be played next Sunday afternoon.

Manager W. E. Marionneaux boasts one of the finest teams this year Winnsboro has ever had, passing all tournament competition in district and state meets without defeat and losing only six games to semi-pro rivals during regular season play.

"Buck" Hollis, who shut out the Heflers with two hits Friday night, is likely to get the call again Monday. "Dub" Stewart, who has hit successfully in the last 25 games for the Sox, will be out to make it 26 in a row.

ZONE SOFTBALL TOURNEY OPENS HERE SATURDAY

Deadline For Accepting Entries In District Meet Is Tomorrow

Northeast Louisiana's second annual district softball tournament opens here next Saturday and continues with the finals Sunday with all softball clubs throughout this section of the state eligible to compete.

The deadline for accepting entries is tomorrow, and all teams desiring to compete in the event won last year by Spatafora's Pharmacy of Monroe are urged to get their team registration and entry fee of $7.50 in the hands of Monroe Recreation department officials not later than tomorrow.

Among teams already entered or expected to enter are Spatafora's defending champions, Jitney Jungle of Tallulah, Monroe Red Sox, Fairbanks, Square Deal Motors of Monroe, Gay Clothing of Monroe, Exchange Club Greenies of Monroe, and others.

Official American Softball Association rules will govern play in the tournament. No player can compete with more than one team, but there is no player limit on team rosters.

Each club will be required to furnish one new ball for each game, and official league balls will be the 12-inch flat stitch oval turned out by Rawlings, Higgins, Double Header, Goldsmith 100, Spaulding or Horwood.

Cups will be given the district champion and runner-up, and only the championship team will be eligible to compete in the state tournament although the runner-up may compete in the state if the district champ declines.

In the event of rain next Saturday, the tournament will be postponed until the following weekend.

LEGION TO MEET

L. B. Faulk Post No. 13, American Legion, will meet here tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the Legion Home. James Trousdale will preside for the first time as the post's new commander.

In all about 8600 species of birds are known, belonging to more than 140 different families.

MISSISSIPPI STATE ADDS EVANSVILLE TO SCHEDULE

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 31.—(AP)—Mississippi State has added Evansville (Ind.) College to its 1948 football schedule and moved the Maroons' opening game up to Sept. 18, the Knoxville Journal said it had learned today. The game will be played at Starkville, Miss.

Featuring a great running attack built around tailback Tom McWilliams and Wingback Harper Davis, Mississippi State will open the University of Tennessee slate here Sept. 25.

The Journal said State added the game with Evansville "in an effort to get an early line on what replacements will be necessary in their bid for the Southeastern Conference football championship."

HONOR 'MOST VALUABLE' IN COTTON STATES LOOP

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., July 31.—(AP)—A trophy will be presented at the end of the Cotton States League season to the player selected as the loop's "most valuable."

This was announced today by the Hot Springs Junior Chamber of Commerce, which will provide the trophy.

The "most valuable player" will be selected by team presidents, managers and sports writers.

U. S. TRACKMEN, ACQUATIC STARS COMMAND SHOW

By Gayle Talbot

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Wembley, Enland, July 31.—(AP)—America's Olympic forces, led by an ebony comet named Harrison Dillard, swept three of the most coveted track and field championships today to grasp the undisputed leadership in that phase of the 1948 World games.

Coming back brilliantly after yesterday's weak start, Uncle Sam's lads gave a capacity throng of 83,000 a thrilling display as they won the 100 meter dash, the 400-meter hurdles and the broad jump, broke one Olympic record and tied another.

Dillard ,already recognized as the world's greatest hurdler, scored the day's most sensational triumph when he beat his famous teammate, Barney Ewell, by a whisker in the 100 meters and matched the Olympic mark of 10.3 seconds set by another American negro, Eddie Tolan at Los Angeles in 1932.

Contesting with him for individual honors was Roy Cochran, a quiet instructor from the University of Southern California, who raced to an easy victory in the 400-meter hurdles. He finished four yards ahead of his closest rival in the new Olympic time of 51.1 seconds.

Willie Steele, negro star from San Diego State College, capped the American comeback by winning the broad jump with a mighty leap of 25 feet, 8 inches. Two of his teammates, Herbert Douglas of Pitt and Lorenzo Wright of Wayne, took third and fourth, respectively, behind Tom Bruce, an Australian.

Over in the Olympic pool, meanwhile, the American aquatic stars were making a clean sweep of the men's springboard diving championships and placing first, second and fourth in the finals of the men's 100 meter freestyle swimming.

Wally Ris of the University of Iowa captured the 100 meter swim in 57.3 seconds to clip two-tenths off the Olympic record as all three Americans finished ahead of the highly favored Frenchman, Alex Jany.

Alan Ford, former Yale star, was second, with Geza Kadas of Hungary third, while Keith Carter of Purdue nosed out Jany for the fourth spot.

Bruce Harlan of Ohio State won the

IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT

VOLUNTEERING and the DRAFT

EVERY able-bodied young American who did not bear arms in World War II has a direct, personal interest in the new Selective Service Law. Here are the facts:

The most important thing to remember is that the U. S. Army will continue to rely on voluntary enlistments as its primary source of manpower.

Selective Service will be used only to make up the difference between authorized strength and the number of volunteers. If there are not enough volunteers to do the job, young men of 19 to 25 will be subject to call for 21 months of service, with an additional 5 years in inactive reserve status.

You may prefer to choose from a number of other courses open to you.

First, if you are 18 you may volunteer within limited monthly quotas, for one year's training with the Army of the United States. Up to 110,000 men, in monthly increments of 10,000, in this classification can be accepted. Following active duty you must, if offered the assignment, serve 4 years in an organized unit of the Reserve or National Guard; or, if not offered such assignment, serve 6 years in the inactive reserve. Either of these requirements may be met by enlisting for 2 or more years in the Regular Army.

Second, if you are 19 to 25 you may volunteer for 21 months in the Regular Army. Upon completion of this service you must serve for 3 years with an organized reserve unit or National Guard, or serve 5 years in the inactive reserve. Either requirement may be met by extending your Regular Army enlistment 12 months.

Third—and best, you may enlist in the Regular Army for 3 or more years. There are many advantages to this course. Men of 17 to 34 who measure up to high Regular Army standards can enter on a professional career that has few equals in civilian life. Here are the important facts about these opportunities:

CHOICES OPEN TO 3-YEAR VOLUNTEERS

THE ARMY TECHNICAL SCHOOL PROGRAM permits any young man with a high school education, or the equivalent, between 17 and 34, who enlists for 3 years, to apply for and qualify for one of more than 60 splendid technical school courses taught by the Army, before he enlists. And he can be sure of attending that course after enlistment. If he wins promotion to a technical grade, he can earn the net equivalent of $4000 to $5000 a year in civilian pay.

OVERSEAS SERVICE IN JAPAN OR KOREA is open to any 3-year volunteer who selects it. Famous combat divisions now in the Far East are doing a magnificent job for democracy and world peace. Men who serve with them will have the advantages of travel and 20% increase for overseas pay.

CONTINUED EDUCATION is offered Army volunteers through the hundreds of high school and college courses provided by the U. S. Armed Forces Institute. Most colleges and universities grant credits for courses completed under this educational program.

OFFICER CANDIDATE SCHOOL, leading to a reserve commission in the Army, is open to high school graduates, 20½ to 28, who can qualify. Distinguished OCS graduates are commissioned in the Regular Army.

VETERANS have special choices open to them, depending on their experience and the Military Occupational Specialties they held previously. With the expanded training program, advancement opportunities will be excellent.

Brooklyn Castoffs Lead Pittsburgh To Victory In 9th Inning Rally

BROOKLYN, July 31.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates exploded for four runs in the innth inning today to overcome the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5-2, before a crowd of 15,633.

Hank Behrman's wildness along with the batting of former Dodgers Eddie Stevens and Stan Rojek cost the Dodgers the game.

Behrman, who relieved Ervin Palica in the seventh, entered the final frame with a 2-1 lead. He walked the first batter, then Stevens belted a double to tie the score. An infield hit by Rojek and another pass loaded the sacks. Behrman then walked Ralph Kiner to force in what proved to be th winning run. Wally Westlake singled hon.e two more and Behrman was replaced by Paul Minner.

Kirby Higbe, still another ex-Dodger, held his former teammates scoreless in the seventh and eighth to gain credit for his fifth triumph.

BRAVES EDGE CARDS

BOSTON, July 31.—(AP)—The National League leading Boston Braves tonight edged the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-6, thanks to Pinch Hitter Sibby Sisti's base clearing triple in the last of the ninth inning.

A paid audience of 31,841, stood and cheered at the top of their voices for more than a minute as three tribal base runners flashed around the bases and Sisti, utility infielder, slid into third.

GIANTS TAKE 2ND SPOT WITH TWIN WIN OVER BRUINS

Brooklyn Castoffs Lead Pittsburgh To Victory In 9th Inning Rally

BROOKLYN, July 31.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates exploded for four runs in the innth inning today to overcome the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5-2, before a crowd of 15,633.

Hank Behrman's wildness along with the batting of former Dodgers Eddie Stevens and Stan Rojek cost the Dodgers the game.

Behrman, who relieved Ervin Palica in the seventh, entered the final frame with a 2-1 lead. He walked the first batter, then Stevens belted a double to tie the score. An infield hit by Rojek and another pass loaded the sacks. Behrman then walked Ralph Kiner to force in what proved to be the winning run. Wally Westlake singled hon.e two more and Behrman was replaced by Paul Minner.

Kirby Higbe, still another ex-Dodger, held his former teammates scoreless in the seventh and eighth to gain credit for his fifth triumph.

BRAVES EDGE CARDS

BOSTON, July 31.—(AP)—The National League leading Boston Braves tonight edged the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-5, thanks to Pinch Hitter Sibby Sisti's base clearing triple in the last of the ninth inning.

A paid audience of 31,841, stood and cheered at the top of their voices for more than a minute as three tribal base runners flashed around the bases and Sisti, utility infielder, slid into third.

THOMPSON CLARKE ENTERS D. A. RACE

Assistant District Attorney Announces Candidacy For 6th District Post

ST. JOSEPH, La., July 31.—(Special)—Thompson L. Clarke, of St. Joseph, assistant district attorney for the Sixth Judicial District comprising the parishes of East Carroll, Madison, and Tensas, announced his candidacy today for election to the office of district attorney in the Democratic primary to be held August 31.

Clarke is thirty-eight years of age, and was admitted to the practice of law in 1935. Immediately thereafter he became associated with the late George Wesley Smith, attorney of Monroe, remaining with his firm for four years.

In April, 1942, Clarke entered the army, in World War II, serving overseas thirty months with combat units in Africa, Corsica and Italy. The last year and a half of his overseas duty was served with the Fifth army in Italy. Soon after his return home and resumption of his law practice at St. Joseph he was appointed assistant district attorney for the sixth judicial district which position he has filled since.

Thompson Clarke is a native of St. Joseph, and son of the late Dr. and Mrs. George N. Clarke. Graduating with honors from the Joseph M. Davidson High School, he entered the law department at L. S. U., obtaining his law degree from that institution in 1935.

In 1937 Clarke was married to Miss Leah Knott, daughter of the late Senator R. B. Knott, of Ruston. He has established a private law practice, and has a modern and well equipped office near the court house at St. Joseph.

Clarke is a member of the Presbyterian Church at St. Joseph, holding the office of deacon, is a charter member of Tensas Memorial Post No. 5854, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, as well as a member of the Davidson-Perry Post No. 174, The American Legion, Newellton.

Clarke issued the following statement of his candidacy for election to the office of district attorney:

"I respectfully announce my candidacy for the office of district attorney, sixth judicial district, to be voted on in the coming Democratic primary election to be held on August 31st, 1948.

"It is my privilege to be presently serving the citizens of East Carroll, Madison and Tensas as their assistant district attorney. Throughout my tenure of office, I have had a deep sense of appreciation of the trust and responsibility placed upon me. My constant attention has been devoted to fulfilling the duties of this important office.

"The period covering the time I have served as assistant district attorney has been filled with unusual and difficult problems. This period has involved great strains and stresses in criminal law enforcement, and each of these situations have been promptly and adequately met. At the same time civic problems of the public bodies of the three parishes which the district attorney's office serves as legal advisor, have greatly multiplied. Many bond elections have been held and bond issues floated by the respective public bodies, and I have assisted in every way possible to guide each issue to a successful legal conclusion.

I am campaigning for office as an independent candidate, asking the voters of the district to elect me to the office of district attorney solely upon the basis of my honesty, experience, ability and qualifications. I will conduct my campaign upon a high level in keeping with the dignity becoming to the office of district attorney.

In assuming this stand, I am only following the policy heretofore pursued by me in handling the affairs of the office as assistant district attorney. I have diligently fulfilled my obligations of this office in such a manner as to merit the respect and confidence of the public, of the Court and its other officers, of the members of the Bar, and of the public bodies whom we represent.

The district attorney's office is a powerful one, influencing and affecting the daily lives of our people. Its powers can be used wrongfully to the hurt and detriment of many. Knowing this, I will always strive to use the powers of the office impartially, fairly, and justly. In taking the oath of office of the district attorney, I will ever be mindful that it is as much the duty of the district attorney to protect and safeguard the rights and privileges of the innocent, as it is his duty to prosecute the guilty who have violated the laws of the state.

LOCAL SHOP GAINS NATIONAL AWARD

Leon Danna of Danna's Shoe Shop, 204 Jackson St., Monroe, must be a happy man today. Entered in a national competition in shoe service shop appearance, workmanship, merchandising and management, he has topped the field with a score of 95.25%, according to the August issue of Shoe Service magazine.

Danna's entry was sponsored by his finder (wholesaler), Southern Leather Company of Jackson, Miss. It consisted of three samples of the shop's fine workmanship, photographs of the shop, samples of advertising and other promotional material and a comprehensive qualification-sheet covering all important aspects of shop operation.

A reward—a handsome 22-inch cup, engraved with his name, he will display with pride for rest of his career.

The award will be presented at an appropriate ceremony to be organized by Southern Leather Company, to which local dignitaries will be invited.

In business for 15 years, Leon Danna has six people working in his shop besides himself. His wife serves as receptionist and counter-clerk, and also handles the displays in the shop.

Another Southern Shoe Service Shop honored in the 1948 competition is Shirey's Shoe Shop of Greenville, Tex., winner of the Southern Silver Cup. Shirey's was a Blue Ribbon winner in 1939 and 1943.

FARMERS TO ATTEND ANNUAL FIELD DAY

ST. JOSEPH, La., July 31.—(Special).—Several hundred farmers from northeast Louisiana are expected to attend the annual field days Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, August 4, 5 and 6, at the Northeast Louisiana Experiment Station here, C. B. Haddon, superintendent of the station, said today.

Farmers from Ouachita, Lincoln, Jackson, LaSalle, Morehouse, Union, West Carroll, Concordia, East Carroll, Madison and Tensas parishes will visit the stations Wednesday. Thursday will be for those from Caldwell, Catahoula, Franklin and Richland parishes. A field day for negro farmers will be held Friday.

The program will consist of a tour of experimental plots in the morning, followed by short talks by experiment station and extension service officials.

Experiments that will be observed and explained include fertilization, varieties, dusting, spacing and flame cultivation of cotton; corn varieties, hybrids and fertilization; soybean varieties; hogging off corn and soybeans; and pastures.

PYTHIANS HOLDING THEIR MEETINGS

There was a good attendance at Stonewall lodge, Knights of Pythias Thursday night, according to Chancellor Commander Homer Chilton. The next meeting will be on Thursday night, August 5 at 8 p. m. when the first rank is to be given.

El Miro temple No. 187, Knights of Khorassan will meet Monday Aug. 2 at 8 p. m. Royal Vizier J. J. Dieterick asks all Dokeys to attend as matter of importance will be considered. A Dokey blood bank will be discussed.

Monroe Temple No. 1, Pythian Sisters will meet Monday August 9. Mrs. Freda Henderson, most excellent chief, desires all Sisters and Knights to attend.

By law, nine United States specifically prohibit a man from marrying his wife's grandmother.

MOSES IS ARRESTED AFTER DISTURBANCE

Thirty-five-year-old Owen Moses was arrested by Monroe police shortly after 9 p. m. Friday and state charges filed against him for disturbing the peace, fighting and being drunk and disorderly.

Moses, who resides at 911 College avenue, was apprehended by police when an unidentified neighbor phoned police that two shots had been fired and there was a disturbance at the home of Moses' father-in-law.

According to police, Moses attempted to enter the home, 400 Filhoil avenue, where he was not wanted and proceeded to tear the screen from a bedroom window.

Moses and his father-in-law passed several words, witnesses said, and when the son-in-law attempted to tear a door down, two shots were fired.

THOMPSON CLARKE ENTERS D. A. RACE

Assistant District Attorney Announces Candidacy For 6th District Post

ST. JOSEPH, La., July 31.—(Special)—Thompson L. Clarke, of St. Joseph, assistant district attorney for the Sixth Judicial District comprising the parishes of East Carroll, Madison, and Tensas, announced his candidacy today for election to the office of district attorney in the Democratic primary to be held August 31.

Clarke is thirty-eight years of age, and was admitted to the practice of law in 1935. Immediately thereafter he became associated with the late George Wesley Smith, attorney of Monroe, remaining with his firm for four years.

In April, 1942, Clarke entered the army, in World War II, serving overseas thirty months with combat units in Africa, Corsica and Italy. The last year and a half of his overseas duty was served with the Fifth army in Italy. Soon after his return home and resumption of his law practice at St. Joseph he was appointed assistant district attorney for the sixth judicial district which position he has filled since.

Thompson Clarke is a native of St. Joseph, and son of the late Dr. and Mrs. George N. Clarke. Graduating with honors from the Joseph M. Davidson High School, he entered the law department at L. S. U., obtaining his law degree from that institution in 1935.

In 1937 Clarke was married to Miss Leah Knott, daughter of the late Senator R. B. Knott, of Ruston. He has established a private law practice, and has a modern and well equipped office near the court house at St. Joseph.

Clarke is a member of the Presbyterian Church at St. Joseph, holding the office of deacon, is a charter member of Tensas Memorial Post No. 5854, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, as well as a member of the Davidson-Perry Post No. 174, The American Legion, Newellton.

Clarke issued the following statement of his candidacy for election to the office of district attorney:

"I respectfully announce my candidacy for the office of district attorney, sixth judicial district, to be voted on in the coming Democratic primary election to be held on August 31st, 1948.

"It is my privilege to be presently serving the citizens of East Carroll, Madison and Tensas as their assistant district attorney. Throughout my tenure of office, I have had a deep sense of appreciation of the trust and responsibility placed upon me. My constant attention has been devoted to fulfilling the duties of this important office.

"The period covering the time I have served as assistant district attorney has been filled with unusual and difficult problems. This period has involved great strains and stresses in criminal law enforcement, and each of these situations have been promptly and adequately met. At the same time civic problems of the public bodies of the three parishes which the district attorney's office serves as legal advisor, have greatly multiplied. Many bond elections have been held and bond issues floated by the respective public bodies, and I have assisted in every way possible to guide each issue to a successful legal conclusion.

I am campaigning for office as an independent candidate, asking the voters of the district to elect me to the office of district attorney solely upon the basis of my honesty, experience, ability and qualifications. I will conduct my campaign upon a high level in keeping with the dignity becoming to the office of district attorney.

In assuming this stand, I am only following the policy heretofore pursued by me in handling the affairs of the office as assistant district attorney. I have diligently fulfilled my obligations of this office in such a manner as to merit the respect and confidence of the public, of the Court and its other officers, of the members of the Bar, and of the public bodies whom we represent.

The district attorney's office is a powerful one, influencing and affecting the daily lives of our people. Its powers can be used wrongfully to the hurt and detriment of many. Knowing this, I will always strive to use the powers of the office impartially, fairly, and justly. In taking the oath of office of the district attorney, I will ever be mindful that it is as much the duty of the district attorney to protect and safeguard the rights and privileges of the innocent, as it is his duty to prosecute the guilty who have violated the laws of the state.

LOCAL SHOP GAINS NATIONAL AWARD

Leon Danna of Danna's Shoe Shop, 204 Jackson St., Monroe, must be a happy man today. Entered in a national competition in shoe service shop appearance, workmanship, merchandising and management, he has topped the field with a score of 95.25%, according to the August issue of Shoe Service magazine.

Danna's entry was sponsored by his finder (wholesaler), Southern Leather Company of Jackson, Miss. It consisted of three samples of the shop's fine workmanship, photographs of the shop, samples of advertising and other promotional material and a comprehensive qualification-sheet covering all important aspects of shop operation.

As reward—a handsome 22-inch silver cup, engraved with his name, which he will display with pride for the rest of his career.

The award will be presented at an appropriate ceremony to be organized by Southern Leather Company, to which local dignitaries will be invited.

In business for 15 years, Leon Danna has six people working in his shop besides himself. His wife serves as receptionist and counter-clerk, and also handles the displays in the shop.

Another Southern Shoe Service Shop honored in the 1948 competition is Shirey's Shoe Shop of Greenville, Tex., winner of the Southern Silver Cup. Shirey's was a Blue Ribbon winner in 1939 and 1943.

FARMERS TO ATTEND ANNUAL FIELD DAY

ST. JOSEPH, La., July 31.—(Special).—Several hundred farmers from northeast Louisiana are expected to attend the annual field days Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, August 4, 5 and 6, at the Northeast Louisiana Experiment Station here, C. B. Haddon, superintendent of the station, said today.

Farmers from Ouachita, Lincoln, Jackson, LaSalle, Morehouse, Union, West Carroll, Concordia, East Carroll, Madison and Tensas parishes will visit the stations Wednesday. Thursday will be for those from Caldwell, Catahoula, Franklin and Richland parishes. A field day for negro farmers will be held Friday.

The program will consist of a tour of experimental plots in the morning, followed by short talks by experiment station and extension service officials.

Experiments that will be observed and explained include fertilization, varieties, dusting, spacing and flame cultivation of cotton; corn varieties, hybrids and fertilization; soybean varieties; hogging off corn and soybeans; and pastures.

PYTHIANS HOLDING THEIR MEETINGS

There was a good attendance at Stonewall lodge, Knights of Pythias Thursday night, according to Chancellor Commander Homer Chilton. The next meeting will be on Thursday night, August 5 at 8 p. m. when the first rank is to be given.

El Miro temple No. 187, Knights of Khorassan will meet Monday Aug. 2 at 8 p. m. Royal Vizier J. J. Dieterick asks all Dokeys to attend as matter of importance will be considered. A Dokey blood bank will be discussed.

Monroe Temple No. 1, Pythian Sisters will meet Monday August 9. Mrs. Freda Henderson, most excellent chief, desires all Sisters and Knights to attend.

By law, nine United States specifically prohibit a man from marrying his wife's grandmother.

MOSES IS ARRESTED AFTER DISTURBANCE

Thirty-five-year-old Owen Moses was arrested by Monroe police shortly after 9 p. m. Friday and state charges filed against him for disturbing the peace, fighting and being drunk and disorderly.

Moses, who resides at 911 College avenue, was apprehended by police when an unidentified neighbor phoned police that two shots had been fired and there was a disturbance at the home of Moses' father-in-law.

According to police, Moses attempted to enter the home, 400 Filhoil avenue, where he was not wanted and proceeded to tear the screen from a bedroom window.

Moses and his father-in-law passed several words, witnesses said, and when the son-in-law attempted to tear a door down, two shots were fired.

200 PERSONS AT M. O. P. BARBECUE

Picnic Held In Celebration Of Safety Record At Roundhouse

More than 200 persons attended the barbecue given by Missouri Pacific officials at Bernstein Park recently in recognition of Monroe roundhouse employes of the Missouri Pacific railroad who have not had a reportable injury in the past five years.

The Missouri Pacific's slogan "We pledge to do all we can toward the promotion of safety among our fellowmen" has been lived up to by the men of the roundhouse who celebrated the fifth birthday of their slogan with a barbecue.

Music for the occasion was furnished by Blair and the Melody Boys.

J. W. Treadwell, superintendent, C. H. McAmin, master mechanic, and A. W. Talbot, general foreman, supervised the employes who lived up to their slogan.

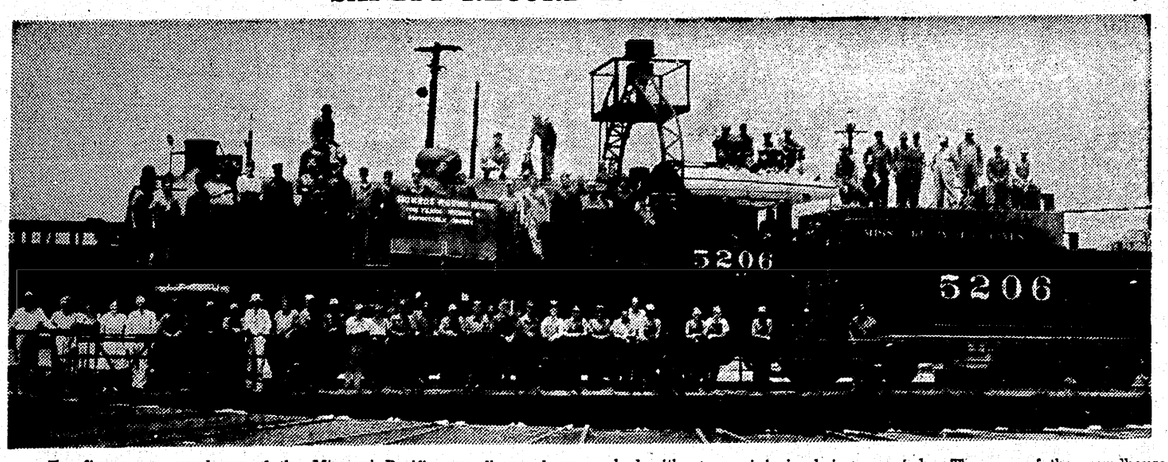
R. C. Johnson, chairman, made arrangements for the barbecue and Talbot, Jack Dana, welder, and Harry Steward, machinist apprentice, were responsible for the meats.

The soft drink committee included R. E. Speer, machinist, R. L. Richards, machinist and A. C. Thurman, sheet metal worker.

Dearwood Frank, sheet metal worker, S. A. Head, sheet metal work helper, George Etier, machinist helper, Luther Benson, sheet metal worker, and Lee White, head machinist served on the table committee.

The colored employes of the roundhouse held their barbecue in New Town at Jim Wately's house.

SAFETY RECORD IS ESTABLISHED



For five years employes of the Missouri Pacific roundhouse have worked without any injuries being reported. The men of the roundhouse made their safety slogan effective and were photographed on an engine at the local Missouri Pacific station. (Photo by L. C. Nolan, Jr., News-Star—World photographer).

MOTOR COURTS VIE WITH HOTELS

Florida Boasts 1,550 Hotels And 1,800 Motor Courts, Many New

By Malcolm Johnson

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., July 31.—(AP)—New motor courts are springing up faster than hotels to serve Florida's millions of travelers.

Some of them have everything a hotel can offer—room service, dining facilities, cocktail lounges. A few even have swimming pools, or have built adjacent to bathing beaches and golf courses.

They are taking away some of the business that used to go to hotels, but there is room for both, says State Hotel Commissioner J. Lee Ballard, and the competition is healthy.

There already are signs that hotels and motor courts are attracting different types of travelers, and a new pattern of patronage is being cut.

The motor courts get their business almost entirely from the automobile traveler who likes the convenience of being able to drive up to the door and unload his luggage directly into the room without bothering about parking.

On the other hand, it is the hotels that get the people who travel by plane, bus, train and other common carriers. Some hotels have so much business of that type they have built suburban motor courts to care for the automobile travelers they can't accommodate.

"Motor courts are not superseding, and in my opinion never will supersede the fundamental services of a hotel," Ballard said, "but they are making serious inroads into the transient motor trade previously enjoyed exclusively by hotels."

Ballard, a hotel owner himself, supervises construction and management of all Florida lodging and eating houses—the nation's largest per capita concentration of travelers' accommodations.

In the last five years, 650 new motor courts and 255 new hotels have been built in the state, Ballard reported. That gives Florida a total of 1,550 hotels with 86,000 rooms and 1,800 motor courts with 28,000 rooms.

Ballard said most motor court managers still have a lot to learn if they are going to compete with the trained personnel of conventional hotels.

"They are failing to maintain their establishments and services in a manner which will result in a return business.

"As an example, many motor court operators are overlooking such small but highly important details as providing bathmats, fresh soap and other bathroom supplies and mattress covers."

Adequate heating is another problem of the motor courts with their separate cottages.

Although motor court rates generally are lower than those of hotels, Ballard said there "has been a recent trend toward increasing them to a point where considerable resistance from the public is being met.

"Usually there is no justification for higher rates because motor courts are constructed at moderate costs, and are operated at much lower costs than downtown hotels."

17 ARE ARRESTED BY STATE POLICE

Seventeen arrests were made by state police of troop "F" during the past week and five persons were charged with drunk driving. Those arrested were:

GORDON AVE. WARS ON SUMMER SLUMP

To combat the "summer slump," Gordon Avenue Methodist Church inaugurated an attendance contest on July 4 through July 25, in its Carroll-Killian Sunday School class.

Each member present was credited with one point; each visitor one point and new members, two points. The team captains were Katie Strother and Howard Morgan.

Final standings were Morgan, 74 points, and Strother, 73 points.

A watermelon party was held on the night of July 30 at Bernstein Park when the losing side paid all expenses. The same contest will be in effect in the month of August with new captains in charge.

The result of the contest caused an attendance of 32 last Sunday and the Sunday School's total was 120.

The captains for August will be Peggy Gladoit and Dorothy Hill.

Concordia Instructors, White And Colored, To Get Raises

FERRIDAY, La., July 31.—(Special)—School teachers of Concordia parish, both white and colored, will receive large salary raises for the coming session as the result of a recent law passed by the Louisiana legislature.

White teachers with B. A. or B. S. degrees, who hereto received $2,109 will receive $3,200 in Concordia parish annually, under the new law, announces J. S. Burris, parish superintendent of education at Vidalia.

Negro teachers with the same amount of training who last year had received a maximum of $1,287, will also get $3,200. This is the first time in the history of the state that the state has gone on record as paying equal salaries to white and negroes as teachers with the same qualifications, Burris stated.

The schedule passed by the legislature gives a graduated system based on training and experience. The maximum salary for three years training last year for whites was $1,976; for the coming year $2,500. Last year's salaries for teachers with two years of training were $1,852.50; the coming year $2,100.

To pay these increases Burris said that the parish will receive approximately $40,000 more than it did last year from the state per educable fund. At least 35 per cent of this additional $40,000 will be used to increase teacher salaries.

Salaries of teachers are based on nine months of operation, but the law permits operation of less than nine months, in which even the salary is based on the teaching time.

Picnic Held In Celebration Of Safety Record At Roundhouse

More than 200 persons attended the barbecue given by Missouri Pacific officials at Bernstein Park recently in recognition of Monroe roundhouse employes of the Missouri Pacific railroad who have not had a reportable injury in the past five years.

The Missouri Pacific's slogan "We pledge to do all we can toward the promotion of safety among our fellowmen" has been lived up to by the men of the roundhouse who celebrated the fifth birthday of their slogan with a barbecue.

Music for the occasion was furnished by Blair and the Melody Boys.

J. W. Treadwell, superintendent, C. H. McAmin, master mechanic, and A. W. Talbot, general foreman, supervised the employes who lived up to their slogan.

R. C. Johnson, chairman, made arrangements for the barbecue and Talbot, Jack Dana, welder, and Harry Steward, machinist apprentice, were responsible for the meats.

The soft drink committee included R. E. Speer, machinist, R. L. Richards, machinist and A. C. Thurman, sheet metal worker.

Dearwood Frank, sheet metal worker, S. A. Head, sheet metal work helper, George Etier, machinist helper, Luther Benson, sheet metal worker, and Lee White, head machinist served on the table committee.

The colored employes of the roundhouse held their barbecue in New Town at Jim Wately's house.

SAFETY RECORD IS ESTABLISHED

For five years employes of the Missouri Pacific roundhouse have worked without any injuries being reported. The men of the roundhouse made their safety slogan effective and were photographed on an engine at the local Missouri Pacific station. (Photo by L. C. Nolan, Jr., News-Star—World photographer).

MOTOR COURTS VIE WITH HOTELS

Florida Boasts 1,550 Hotels And 1,800 Motor Courts, Many New

By Malcolm Johnson

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., July 31.—(AP)—New motor courts are springing up faster than hotels to serve Florida's millions of travelers.

Some of them have everything a hotel can offer—room service, dining facilities, cocktail lounges. A few even have swimming pools, or have built adjacent to bathing beaches and golf courses.

They are taking away some of the business that used to go to hotels, but there is room for both, says State Hotel Commissioner J. Lee Ballard, and the competition is healthy.

There already are signs that hotels and motor courts are attracting different types of travelers, and a new pattern of patronage is being cut.

The motor courts get their business almost entirely from the automobile traveler who likes the convenience of being able to drive up to the door and unload his luggage directly into the room without bothering about parking.

On the other hand, it is the hotels that get the people who travel by plane, bus, train and other common carriers. Some hotels have so much business of that type they have built suburban motor courts to care for the automobile travelers they can't accommodate.

"Motor courts are not superseding, and in my opinion never will supersede the fundamental services of a hotel," Ballard said, "but they are making serious inroads into the transient motor trade previously enjoyed exclusively by hotels."

Ballard, a hotel owner himself, supervises construction and management of all Florida lodging and eating houses—the nation's largest per capita concentration of travelers' accommodations.

In the last five years, 650 new motor courts and 255 new hotels have been built in the state, Ballard reported. That gives Florida a total of 1,550 hotels with 86,000 rooms and 1,800 motor courts with 28,000 rooms.

Ballard said most motor court managers still have a lot to learn if they are going to compete with the trained personnel of conventional hotels.

"They are failing to maintain their establishments and services in a manner which will result in a return business.

"As an example, many motor court operators are overlooking such small but highly important details as providing bathmats, fresh soap and other bathroom supplies and mattress covers."

Adequate heating is another problem of the motor courts with their separate cottages.

Although motor court rates generally are lower than those of hotels, Ballard said there "has been a recent trend toward increasing them to a point where considerable resistance from the public is being met.

"Usually there is no justification for higher rates because motor courts are constructed at moderate costs, and are operated at much lower costs than downtown hotels."

Purely Personal

When summer days grow sultry and random thoughts of the shadowy reaches of old trails and waterways interrupt the even tenor of our familiar chores; when our spirit goes a-wandering then it is we like to keep our mind off the soaring temperature and humidity. We court coolness in a hundred different ways . . . freezing tea and coffee into cubes for tall glasses of these refreshing beverages; placing a bit of crushed mint and a wee sprig of it into our lemonade; frosting fruits and berries with sugar crystals. Some of us keep our thoughts from the sizzling weather by just sitting on the porch watching fine spray from the lawn sprinkler shower the shrubbery. The new mixes and cooked things in tins and glasses also helps to keep up with the job of serving appetizing and nourishing hot weather meals. There is plenty compensation for the stay-at-home but who among us can refrain from envying vacationists who are summering on a dude ranch? Mrs. Henry Guerriero and two sons Henry, Jr., and Mrs. Harold woods and two sons, Harold, Jr., and Wayne, find life near the heart's desire at Hallsworth Ranch, Grand Lake, Colo.

There's nothing like fresh air from the mountains, clear and penetrating sunshine, the music of the mountain stream, the rhythm of hoof beats, pancakes loaded with butter and sirup, bacon and eggs, and steaming coffee. Even after the first day of unaccustomed exercise—there's nothing like it. One always returns from a vacation on a dude ranch with "mountain fever," and always with a desire to return.

Three Monroe business women, Miss Maible Hood, Mrs. Gladys Miles and Mrs. George Welch were caught up in the colorful tempo of life in Mexico City where they spent a week at the palatial new hotel Posada Del Sol, following attendance at the national convention of Business and Professional Women's clubs in Fort Worth, Texas. They went to a bull fight straight off and like all other Americans sickened at the sight. The dramatic entrance of the matadors, picadors and banderilleros in their colorful garb and the music of the band, took their minds off the main issue. They attended grand opera, visited the shrine of Gaudalupe, spent a few hours at Xochimilco, the Floating Gardens, and were taken through the maze of waterways in the colorful craft bedecked with flowers. They agreed that Xochimilco must be approached in sort of holiday spirit or it will seem cheap and silly. The crowd is gay and carefree, there is laughter everywhere and the carnival spirit is prevalant.

One night was spent at Taxco, the Jewel City. It's a bizarre town set amid its seven hills. The motor trip to Taxco from Mexico City is indeed thrilling. We know whereof we speak as we also experienced the thrill of gazing upon the breathtaking views of the imposing mountains that seem to be creeping upon you, threatening to engulf you.

At beautiful Edgewater Beach hotel, on the shores of Lake Michigan in Chicago a Monroe family, Mr. and Mrs. David Kaplan and daughter, Miss Charlene Kaplan, will spend the balance of the summer. They will motor to Chicago August 14 and will also have in their party Mrs. Kaplan's neice, Miss Nell Bridge and Miss Mamie Pilgren.

There is one side of life in Monroe only those who are nautically minded are acquainted with. It is life along the waterfront where boats of every description are continually "putting out to sea." Docks, the length of two city blocks have been built during the past year to accommodate the number of boats owned by Monroe families. You will be amazed, if you go down to the waterfront, to find handsome cruisers, comfortable house boats, speed boats, runabouts, canoes and row boats. A few of the cruisers, beautifully appointed, are sea worthy. "Peggy the Second" for instance, owned by Clifford Strauss, is now in the Gulf where Mr. Strauss and family are enjoying the kind of vacation they love best . . . looking at the stars by night, reveling in the stretch of blue sky by day and long hours of deep sea fishing.

"The Goofus" another comfortable house boat owned by Alden Shotwell has been a familiar sight on the river for many years.

"The Pegasus" owned by Milling Bernstein is still another sturdy house boat associated with river life in Monroe.

A beautiful cruiser owned by George Franklin of Holly Ridge recently made its appearance on the Ouachita.

"The Bitter Sweet" a thirty foot cruiser owned by Henry Biedenharn is still another smart little river craft.

Two comfortable house boats, The Brown Kraft and the Noe's Ark are two well appointed house boats familiar to many people in the Twin Cities. They are constantly plying the river with pleasure seekers on board. The Brown Kraft maintains an expert chef at all times and meals are served with regularity whenever a week-end boating party is planned.

Friends will regret to learn of the serious illness of Mrs. B. S. Braswell at the Vaughan-Wright-Bendel clinic.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark announce the arrival of a daughter, Pamela Dawne at St. Francis Sanitarium July 24. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Clark of West Monroe, and the maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. L. Lingle of Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bernstein, Jr., are spending the week-end in Shreveport with Mrs. Bernstein's sister, Mrs. Prentice Clark and Mr. Clark.

The Lionettes of the Ouachita Parish School will commence their marching practice Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Merritt Crall, her son, Harold, and young daughter, Elizabeth, were recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Martin and Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Moore. The Crall family formerly resided in Monroe, where they made many friends. Mr. Crall is a prominent druggist of Jonesboro, Arkansas.

Mr. M. G. Moore has just returned from a trip to Cincinnati, St. Louis, and other points, in the interest of his business.

Despite common misconceptions caused by its name, only about one-eighth of Iceland is covered by glaciers.

Check Back View On New-Clothes

The woman with a mature figure should study her mirrored back view in the clothes she plans to buy. From this angle she needs to be as critical as she is when appraising her appearance from the front if she wants uniform figure flattery.

A waistband, for example, which appears properly placed in front may be too short when seen from the back. Such a defect in fit tends to emphasize a hip span. The slight alteration required to lower the waistline is well worth the time or money involved in creating more slimming proportions in a dress.

Flared peplums, bows and bustles, visible in a rear view appraisal, may be offenders that add inches to figure size by foreshortening the back line. If that's the case, dresses with these touches should be passed by in favor of togs with no confusing back details. Shorts, for example, which flare just below the hipline or with back center pleats stitched flat over the hips are better choices of style.

Another point to check is the fit across shoulders. Dresses cut full across the bosom may offer a skimpy fit across the back. The danger to watch for here is fabric pull. Fabric may be pulled into horizontal creases by the strain on shoulder and side seams. This "about-to-burst" effect serves to point up figure size.

Purely Personal

When summer days grow sultry and random thoughts of the shadowy reaches of old trails and waterways interrupt the even tenor of our familiar chores; when our spirit goes a-wandering then it is we like to keep our mind off the soaring temperature and humidity. We court coolness in a hundred different ways . . . freezing tea and coffee into cubes for tall glasses of these refreshing beverages; placing a bit of crushed mint and a wee sprig of it into our lemonade; frosting fruits and berries with sugar crystals. Some of us keep our thoughts from the sizzling weather by just sitting on the porch watching fine spray from the lawn sprinkler shower the shrubbery. The new mixes and cooked things in tins and glasses also helps to keep up with the job of serving appetizing and nourishing hot weather meals. There is plenty compensation for the stay-at-home but who among us can refrain from envying vacationists who are summering on a dude ranch? Mrs. Henry Guerriero and two sons Henry, Jr., and Mrs. Harold woods and two sons, Harold, Jr., and Wayne, find life near the heart's desire at Hallsworth Ranch, Grand Lake, Colo.

There's nothing like fresh air from the mountains, clear and penetrating sunshine, the music of the mountain stream, the rhythm of hoof beats, pancakes loaded with butter and sirup, bacon and eggs, and steaming coffee. Even after the first day of unaccustomed exercise—there's nothing like it. One always returns from a vacation on a dude ranch with "mountain fever," and always with a desire to return.

Three Monroe business women, Miss Maible Hood, Mrs. Gladys Miles and Mrs. George Welch were caught up in the colorful tempo of life in Mexico City where they spent a week at the palatial new hotel Posada Del Sol, following attendance at the national convention of Business and Professional Women's clubs in Fort Worth, Texas. They went to a bull fight straight off and like all other Americans sickened at the sight. The dramatic entrance of the matadors, picadors and banderilleros in their colorful garb and the music of the band, took their minds off the main issue. They attended grand opera, visited the shrine of Gaudalupe, spent a few hours at Xochimilco, the Floating Gardens, and were taken through the maze of waterways in the colorful craft bedecked with flowers. They agreed that Xochimilco must be approached in sort of holiday spirit or it will seem cheap and silly. The crowd is gay and carefree, there is laughter everywhere and the carnival spirit is prevalant.

One night was spent at Taxco, the Jewel City. It's a bizarre town set amid its seven hills. The motor trip to Taxco from Mexico City is indeed thrilling. We know whereof we speak as we also experienced the thrill of gazing upon the breathtaking views of the imposing mountains that seem to be creeping upon you, threatening to engulf you.

At beautiful Edgewater Beach hotel, on the shores of Lake Michigan in Chicago a Monroe family, Mr. and Mrs. David Kaplan and daughter, Miss Charlene Kaplan, will spend the balance of the summer. They will motor to Chicago August 14 and will also have in their party Mrs. Kaplan's neice, Miss Nell Bridge and Miss Mamie Pilgren.

There is one side of life in Monroe only those who are nautically minded are acquainted with. It is life along the waterfront where boats of every description are continually "putting out to sea." Docks, the length of two city blocks have been built during the past year to accommodate the number of boats owned by Monroe families. You will be amazed, if you go down to the waterfront, to find handsome cruisers, comfortable house boats, speed boats, runabouts, canoes and row boats. A few of the cruisers, beautifully appointed, are sea worthy. "Peggy the Second" for instance, owned by Clifford Strauss, is now in the Gulf where Mr. Strauss and family are enjoying the kind of vacation they love best . . . looking at the stars by night, reveling in the stretch of blue sky by day and long hours of deep sea fishing.

"The Goofus" another comfortable house boat owned by Alden Shotwell has been a familiar sight on the river for many years.

"The Pegasus" owned by Milling Bernstein is still another sturdy house boat associated with river life in Monroe.

A beautiful cruiser owned by George Franklin of Holly Ridge recently made its appearance on the Ouachita.

"The Bitter Sweet" a thirty foot cruiser owned by Henry Biedenharn is still another smart little river craft.

Two comfortable house boats, The Brown Kraft and the Noe's Ark are two well appointed house boats familiar to many people in the Twin Cities. They are constantly plying the river with pleasure seekers on board. The Brown Kraft maintains an expert chef at all times and meals are served with regularity whenever a week-end boating party is planned.

Friends will regret to learn of the serious illness of Mrs. B. S. Braswell at the Vaughan-Wright-Bendel clinic.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark announce the arrival of a daughter, Pamela Dawne at St. Francis Sanitarium July 24. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Clark of West Monroe, and the maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. L. Lingle of Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bernstein, Jr., are spending the week-end in Shreveport with Mrs. Bernstein's sister, Mrs. Prentice Clark and Mr. Clark.

The Lionettes of the Ouachita Parish School will commence their marching practice Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Merritt Crall, her son, Harold, and young daughter, Elizabeth, were recent guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Martin and Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Moore. The Crall family formerly resided in Monroe, where they made many friends. Mr. Crall is a prominent druggist of Jonesboro, Arkansas.

Mr. M. G. Moore has just returned from a trip to Cincinnati, St. Louis, and other points, in the interest of his business.

SEVENTEEN MONROE GIRLS WILL BE OFF FOR GIRLS STATE IN BATON ROUGE DURING AUGUST

Girls State, that annual meeting bound by its very essence to stay young no matter how often separated will begin August 18 for seventeen Monroe girls leaving for Baton Rouge under the chaperonage of Mrs. H. Flood Madison Jr., department Girls State chairman.

The girls, numbering 397 from high schools throughout the state, sponsored by American Legion auxiliary groups and P. T. A. in addition to high schools, the civic luncheon clubs including The Lions Club, Rotary and Kiwanis. Many social, civic, religious and cultural groups serve as sponsors. One hundred and three American Legion auxiliary groups are participating in the program. The local sponsors are: Literary Guild; C. D. A.; St. Matthews P. T. A.; Neville P. T. A.; Ouachita P. T. A.; St. Anne's Circle; Monroe Kiwanis Club; West Monroe Kiwanis Club; Lions Club of Monroe; West Monroe Lions Club; Monroe Rotary Club; Pilot Club; W. S. C. S. of the First Methodist Church of Monroe; 20th Century Book Club; Jewish Sisterhood of B'nai Israel Temple; Exchange Club; Business and Professional Women's Club and the L. B. Faulk Unit No. 13 of the American Legion Auxiliary.

These girls are submitted by the Burnett-Downs Unit No. 201, West Monroe and L. B. Faulk Unit No. 13, Monroe of the Louisiana Department of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Chaperones are from the American Legion Auxiliary. Dorector is Dr. A. R. Choppin, of Louisiana State University.

Each girl attending has been selected and sponsored by one of the state's auxiliary units on the basis of her outstanding qualities of scholarship, leadership, sportsmanship, and courage for service.

The program is a varied one in which the over-all aim is to stimulate interest in government, respect for its functions, tolerance of its faults, and realization that the blame for such faults lies with each individual who fails in his civic duties.

The objective of the Girls State is to educate our youth in the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities of American citizenship. It is wholly a plan for training in the practical mechanics of government. Applications of the principles of democratic government are made every possible way. The constitution and the statutes of the State of Louisiana are the patterns from which the fundamental law of Pelican Girls State has been developed. Pelican Girls State should be thought of as being a mythical 49th state, with a constitution, statues and ordinances constructed by its citizens to govern themselves.

Citizens of Girls State will not only be required to review knowledge already acquired concerning the political machinery of a state, but they will find themselves performing exactly the same duties as real officeholders in the every day world. In Girls State, citizens organize their own parish and state governments. They choose their own officials in accordance with regular election procedures. They learn the duties of the various city, parish and state officers. They introduce and argue their own bills in a legislature. Justice is administered by their own law enforcement agencies and courts. In Girls State, the young citizen has the opportunity to learn for herself that her government is just what she makes it. Here each girl "learns to do by doing."

Accompanying Mrs. Madison from Monroe will be:

Ouachita Parish High School: Anne A. Atkinson, Della Guillory, Beverly Hatchell, Margaret Ann Tatum, Mary Jo Inzina, Mary Poulous, Mary Jane Steed, Aulsine Coates, Virginia Ann Coats.

Neville High School: Mary Agnes Rizzo, Anne Weir Varino, Alice Jane O'Kelly, Barbara E. Wildey, Patricia L. Wadley, Edith E. Haas, Marianne Bower.

St. Matthews High School: Frances L. Ritter. Mary Wilton McHenry, Charlene Kaplan and Bette Jean Jones were selected as delegates but due to previous plans were unable to attend.

PRESIDENT OF ALTRUSA

Mrs. Adrienne Carr, prominent young business woman, was recently elected president of the local chapter of Altrusa. A dinner party in her honor marked the occasion.

MRS. LEWIS SLATER'S WORK WITH FORT MIRO CHAPTER D. A. R. IS MOST NOTEWORTHY

Members of Fort Miro Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution are forging ahead as never before under the guidance of Mrs. Gladys Broadway Sperry, newly elected regent. The membership is steadily increasing and plans are being formulated for a year of splendid achievement when the new year is launched in September.

There is one member of Fort Miro chapter in particular, Mrs. Lewis Slater whose services are invaluable. She is chairman of approved schools for this chapter and has accomplished some splendid work. Six large boxes, weighing approximately seven hundred pounds, containing linens, bedding, school supplies, cosmetics, and many other useful articles were collected by Mrs. Slater and sent to these schools. At a tea in the home of Mrs. E. N. Faulk, individually wrapped gifts were donated by each chapter member. In addition to these boxes, Mrs. Slater collected and sent to the schools more than two hundred dollars in money. These donations were sent to the Kate Duncan Smith School at Grant, Ala., and to the Tamassee School in Tamassee, Ga. Mrs. Slater has served as chairman of approved schools for Fort Miro chapter for the past four years and due to her unflagging interest in this work the chapter has made large yearly contributions to these schools.

An outstanding work in the Daughters of the American Revolution is the educational program, conducted through fourteen schools and colleges. Two of these are mountain schools, Kate Duncan Smith in Alabama; and Tamassee, in South Carolina, founded by and dependent upon this society for support, supplying a need where no other educational advantages are available. Many of the children who come to these two mountain schools are undernourished and suffering from severe malnutrition, they are given medical and dental care along with nourishing food, and soon develop sturdy bodies and alert minds. With the academic and manual training provided, in addition to this care, they are enabled to take their places in life with assurance when their education has been completed. Boxes of clothing, bedding, school supplies and scholarships from chapters and members keep the schools going.

With the generous gifts, from members and chapters, of buildings, money and land, the N. S. D. A. R. has been able to expand with the growing need. A total of $266,853 was sent through the treasurer general for all approved schools during the past three years, plus a silver anniversary gift of $25,000 each to Tamassee and Kate Duncan Smith from the national society, along with the regular $1,000 given these two schools per year. The other twelve approved schools were each given $2,000 from the society, and all through the year are materially helped by contributions of money, clothing and supplies of all kinds from members and chapters. When there is added to the above money, that which was sent directly to the schools, the total amount exceeds $400,000 for the three-year period.

From these schools students go forth every year educated for intelligent citizenship, fitted to support themselves and to act as good neighbors in their communities. One of the Tamassee graduates has served as a secretary in the White House; another, as efficiency expert for the Woolworth Stores in the south and southeast, and four others are on the D. A. R. staff in Washington.

The list of the schools that are helped by the N. S. D. A. R. is as follows:

Kate Duncan Smith, Grant, Alabama; Tamassee, Tamassee, South Carolina; American International College, Springfield, Massachusetts; Berea College, Berea, Kentucky; the Berry Schools, Mt. SEVENTEEN MONROE GIRLS WILL BE OFF FOR GIRLS STATE IN BATON ROUGE DURING AUGUST

Girls State, that annual meeting bound by its very essence to stay young no matter how often separated will begin August 18 for seventeen Monroe girls leaving for Baton Rouge under the chaperonage of Mrs. H. Flood Madison Jr., department Girls State chairman.

The girls, numbering 397 from high schools throughout the state, sponsored by American Legion auxiliary groups and P. T. A. in addition to high schools, the civic luncheon clubs including The Lions Club, Rotary and Kiwanis. Many social, civic, religious and cultural groups serve as sponsors. One hundred and three American Legion auxiliary groups are participating in the program. The local sponsors are: Literary Guild; C. D. A.; St. Matthews P. T. A.; Neville P. T. A.; Ouachita P. T. A.; St. Anne's Circle; Monroe Kiwanis Club; West Monroe Kiwanis Club; Lions Club of Monroe; West Monroe Lions Club; Monroe Rotary Club; Pilot Club; W. S. C. S. of the First Methodist Church of Monroe; 20th Century Book Club; Jewish Sisterhood of B'nai Israel Temple; Exchange Club; Business and Professional Women's Club and the L. B. Faulk Unit No. 13 of the American Legion Auxiliary.

These girls are submitted by the Burnett-Downs Unit No. 201, West Monroe and L. B. Faulk Unit No. 13, Monroe of the Louisiana Department of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Chaperones are from the American Legion Auxiliary. Dorector is Dr. A. R. Choppin, of Louisiana State University.

Each girl attending has been selected and sponsored by one of the state's auxiliary units on the basis of her outstanding qualities of scholarship, leadership, sportsmanship, and courage for service.

The program is a varied one in which the over-all aim is to stimulate interest in government, respect for its functions, tolerance of its faults, and realization that the blame for such faults lies with each individual who fails in his civic duties.

The objective of the Girls State is to educate our youth in the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities of American citizenship. It is wholly a plan for training in the practical mechanics of government. Applications of the principles of democratic government are made every possible way. The constitution and the statutes of the State of Louisiana are the patterns from which the fundamental law of Pelican Girls State has been developed. Pelican Girls State should be thought of as being a mythical 49th state, with a constitution, statues and ordinances constructed by its citizens to govern themselves.

Citizens of Girls State will not only be required to review knowledge already acquired concerning the political machinery of a state, but they will find themselves performing exactly the same duties as real officeholders in the every day world. In Girls State, citizens organize their own parish and state governments. They choose their own officials in accordance with regular election procedures. They learn the duties of the various city, parish and state officers. They introduce and argue their own bills in a legislature. Justice is administered by their own law enforcement agencies and courts. In Girls State, the young citizen has the opportunity to learn for herself that her government is just what she makes it. Here each girl "learns to do by doing."

Accompanying Mrs. Madison from Monroe will be:

Ouachita Parish High School: Anne A. Atkinson, Della Guillory, Beverly Hatchell, Margaret Ann Tatum, Mary Jo Inzina, Mary Poulous, Mary Jane Steed, Aulsine Coates, Virginia Ann Coats.

Neville High School: Mary Agnes Rizzo, Anne Weir Varino, Alice Jane O'Kelly, Barbara E. Wildey, Patricia L. Wadley, Edith E. Haas, Marianne Bower.

St. Matthews High School: Frances L. Ritter, Mary Wilton McHenry, Charlene Kaplan and Bette Jean Jones were selected as delegates but due to previous plans were unable to attend.

PRESIDENT OF ALTRUSA

Mrs. Adrienne Carr, prominent young business woman, was recently elected president of the local chapter of Altrusa. A dinner party in her honor marked the occasion.

MRS. LEWIS SLATER'S WORK WITH FORT MIRO CHAPTER D. A. R. IS MOST NOTEWORTHY

Members of Fort Miro Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution are forging ahead as never before under the guidance of Mrs. Gladys Broadway Sperry, newly elected regent. The membership is steadily increasing and plans are being formulated for a year of splendid achievement when the new year is launched in September.

There is one member of Fort Miro chapter in particular, Mrs. Lewis Slater whose services are invaluable. She is chairman of approved schools for this chapter and has accomplished some splendid work. Six large boxes, weighing approximately seven hundred pounds, containing linens, bedding, school supplies, cosmetics, and many other useful articles were collected by Mrs. Slater and sent to these schools. At a tea in the home of Mrs. E. N. Faulk, individually wrapped gifts were donated by each chapter member. In addition to these boxes, Mrs. Slater collected and sent to the schools more than two hundred dollars in money. These donations were sent to the Kate Duncan Smith School at Grant, Ala., and to the Tamassee School in Tamassee, Ga. Mrs. Slater has served as chairman of approved schools for Fort Miro chapter for the past four years and due to her unflagging interest in this work the chapter has made large yearly contributions to these schools.

An outstanding work in the Daughters of the American Revolution is the educational program, conducted through fourteen schools and colleges. Two of these are mountain schools, Kate Duncan Smith in Alabama; and Tamassee, in South Carolina, founded by and dependent upon this society for support, supplying a need where no other educational advantages are available. Many of the children who come to these two mountain schools are undernourished and suffering from severe malnutrition, they are given medical and dental care along with nourishing food, and soon develop sturdy bodies and alert minds. With the academic and manual training provided, in addition to this care, they are enabled to take their places in life with assurance when their education has been completed. Boxes of clothing, bedding, school supplies and scholarships from chapters and members keep the schools going.

With the generous gifts, from members and chapters, of buildings, money and land, the N. S. D. A. R. has been able to expand with the growing need. A total of $266,853 was sent through the treasurer general for all approved schools during the past three years, plus a silver anniversary gift of $25,000 each to Tamassee and Kate Duncan Smith from the national society, along with the regular $1,000 given these two schools per year. The other twelve approved schools were each given $2,000 from the society, and all through the year are materially helped by contributions of money, clothing and supplies of all kinds from members and chapters. When there is added to the above money, that which was sent directly to the schools, the total amount exceeds $400,000 for the three-year period.

From these schools students go forth every year educated for intelligent citizenship, fitted to support themselves and to act as good neighbors in their communities. One of the Tamassee graduates has served as a secretary in the White House; another, as efficiency expert for the Woolworth Stores in the south and southeast, and four others are on the D. A. R. staff in Washington.

The list of the schools that are helped by the N. S. D. A. R. is as follows:

Kate Duncan Smith, Grant, Alabama; Tamassee, Tamassee, South Carolina; American International College, Springfield, Massachusetts; Berea College, Berea, Kentucky; the Berry Schools, Mt. Berry, Georgia; Blue Ridge Industrial School, Bris, Virginia; Carr Creek Community Center Inc., Carr Creek, Kentucky; Crossnore School, Crossnore, North Carolina; Hillside School, Inc., Marlborough, Massachusetts; Hindman Settlement School, Hindman, Kentucky; Lincoln Memorial University, Harrogate, Tennessee; Maryville College, Maryville, Tennessee; Northland College, Ashland, Wisconsin; Pine Mountain Settlement School, Pine Mountain, Kentucky.

AMERICA IS BEING WARNED AGAINST 'TREASON WITHIN' BY PRESIDENT GENERAL OF D. A. R.

"Eternal Vigilance is the price of Liberty," is a well-known principle handed down to us by those men and women who founded our country. This principle is emphasized in all the endeavors of the Daughters of the American Revolution, an organization devoted to educational, patriotic, humanitarian and historic purposes and the preservation of our American system.

Believing that our country is today fighting forces as dangerous, but much more subtle than bayonets and bombs, this organization warns the American people to be on guard against treason within.

America needs "preparedness through education" in order to understand and combat "cold" wars, Mrs. Roscoe C. O'Byrne, president general, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, declared in a recent address.

Speaking before the Chautauqua Assembly, Mrs. O'Byrne said:

"Cold war by means of the infiltration of subversive propaganda can only be checked by educating our people and particularly our youth in a true understanding of our government and the problems which face the democracies in a world still torn by strife."

Communism has not made much progress in this country in the last year in the belief of Mrs. O'Byrne. She declared American citizens are more awake now to the dangers of communism than ever before. She warned against hysterical outbreaks against communism but said communism should be kept out of schools and colleges, and Communists should not be permitted to hold public jobs, especially those of trust.

In preparedness through education, Mrs. O'Byrne said that a fuller understanding of our form of government is needed. She added:

"We hear too little of the freedom of opportunity, the right of free speech and free assembly, the right to hold property and to worship as we choose. Instead, the attention of Mr. Average Citizen is attracted to the evils of inflation and the dangers of unemployement. These things breed discontent and help the Communist agitator in enlisting new members.

"The satisfied citizen, the one who is well informed on what our freedom means to the average man and woman and to the average family, will have no part with communism or any other "ism" which offers so-called "security" at the price of liberty and free speech and freedom of opportunity."

Proof of the stability of the American form of government is shown in our national elections, Mrs. O'Byrne said, in which millions of citizens vote as they choose, without intimidation. "Contrast this with the elections in totalitarian countries," she added.

Mrs. O'Byrne spoke of the educational work of the D. A. R. and said that women have a responsibility in education today which extends far beyond the children in their own families. Women must be watchful for influences which are bad for youth, she said, adding:

"Your interest in boys clubs, the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts and such organizations, will pay rich dividends in better citizenship. We are to blame if these teen-agers slip into the ranks of radicals or become juvenile delinquents.

"Let us tell the rising generation that we want them to keep the stream of democracy free of poison. Let us explain to them that the growth of America is not due alone to our natural resources but to our system of unrestricted opportunity to individual enterprise."

Contrasting American liberty with the regimentation of citizens in totalitarian countries, Mrs. O'Byrne declared:

"Ask those who say our system of government is outmoded if they would prefer, having one political party and one set of candidates who they must vote for or else. Ask them if they prefer a press controlled entirely by the government and radio networks which only broadcast material which the government stamps as o. k."

Mrs. O'Byrne was principal speaker on a program designated by the Chautauqua as D. A. R. day.

MRS. ANDERSON WARLICK

Mrs. Warlick, a bride of recent date, was formerly Miss Anette Lacara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lacara. The wedding took place at St. Matthew's Church, July 12, on the wedding anniversary of the bride's parents.

YWCA ACTIVITIES

On Monday evening the Residence Girls' of the Y. W. C. A. (a Red Feather service of your Community Chest) enjoyed a hayride and picnic. Through the courtesy of Mr. Frank Eason the "ride" out to Roadside Park was made possible. Those who enjoyed the evening's entertainment were: Bobbie Ann Irby, Evelyn Driggers, Lorita Farrar, Virginia Cloud, Linda Sherrard, Lillian Holt, Dean Manning, Dorothy Grant, Syble Tharpe, Bess Sharp, Mrs. Ruth Hundley, Guthrie Jarrell, Johnnie Reeves, Wesley McKeller, Jimmie Pettit, Bobby Jo Jackson, and Mr. Frank Eason.

On Wednesday morning the Y-Wives' Club of the Y. W. C. A. met at the "Y" with the president, Mrs. Mary Ellison, presiding. After the report of the nominating committee with Mrs. Jo Willis as chairman, the club members elected the following officers for the year 1948-49: President, Mrs. Eunice Forman; vice-president, Mrs. Kathleen Eason; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Mary Eason. Plans for the fall activities and a barbecue were discussed. The hostess, Mrs. Lennie Upchurch, was assisted by Mrs. Madeline Morrison in serving delicious cookies, salted nuts and "cokes" to the following: Mary Ellison, Eunice Forman, Kathleen Eason, Jo Willis, Charlene Brown, Ruth Guerson, Mrs. Hundley, and Miss Sharp. The next meeting will be held on the 11th of August and will be the installation of officers.

On Wednesday evening the Business and Professional Girls' Club and the YoWoCa Business Girls' Club of the Y. W. C. A. met for a swim party and watermellon cutting at Forsythe park. Those who were present were: Ruth Orell, Mary Louise Farr, Mary Elizabeth Stringer, Kathleen McKay, Kay Gillam, Rosie Joiner, Marian Simmons, Ann Mickel, Freeda Mickel, Agnes Solomon, Betty Lou Alpha, Allie Marie Coats, Myrtle Johnson, Venyce Phillips, Ruth Phelps, "Pat" Patrick, Lillie Glenn, Dorothy Grant, LaVerne Meek, Edith Rodener, Bess Sharp, and the three guests: Jackie Barr, Ann Farr, and Pat Cooper.

The following Y-Teens: Jackie Barr, Anna Jo Bawcom, Julia Warren, Nancy Golson, Clay DeMarchi, Gail Ates, Claudette Schroeder, Margaret Hunter, Patsy Parker, Karol Yarbrough, Donna Faye Montgomery, Doris Storey, Robbie Lee Grant, Lillian LeBlanc, Barbara Monroe, Mary Virginia Parker, Syble McKay, Jo Trichel, Mary Lou Trawick, Mary Ann Griffith, Betty Gowan, Charline Koppe, enjoyed a week-end trip to Camp Chemin-a-haut state park near Bastrop. Miss "Pat" Patrick, Miss Dot Grant, and Miss Bess Sharp accompanied the group as the chaperons.

On Thursday morning a group of Y-Teens through the courtesy of Mr. Snapp at the Bowling Alley enjoyed a time of bowling. Those who were there were: Lillian LeBlanc, Ione Hill and her visitor from Malvern Arkansas, "Jinny" Williams, Patsy Parker, Elwyna Wills, Frances Manley, JoAnn Norman, Claudette Schroeder, Anna Stokes, Margaret Ann Hunter, Margaret Ann Tatum, Ann Robinson, Clay DeMarchi, and Julia Warren.

SIX SISTERS ARE REUNITED IN MONROE

Six sisters who haven't been together for eleven years were reunited in Monroe last week. They enjoyed several festive affairs of a social nature and were photographed at a luncheon given by Mrs. Wheeler Mitchell. Mrs. S. C. Nettles and Mrs. W. E. Lawson of this city. In the picture, from left to right, are: Mrs. L. H. Wise of Chicago, Mrs. Nettles, Mrs. R. W. Hampton of Shreveport, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Lawson and Mrs. H. L. Callaghan of Little Rock.

CEREMONY UNITES MISS LACARO AND MR. ANDERSON WARLICK

A wedding of interest to a large circle of friends was that of Miss Anette Lacara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lacara and Mr. Anderson Warlick at St. Matthew's church July 12. Monsignor John Marsh who officiated at the marriage of the bride's parents 26 years ago performed the ceremony in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and friends.

Cathedral candles gleamed among urns overflowing with white gladioli placed in the background of the altar.

While the guests were being seated by the ushers, Messers Nick Kokinas, Sam Danna, Frank Prest, Joe Lacara, Bill Hance and Philip Dana, the organist Mrs. Della Williamson, rendered a nuptial concert.

The bride's attendants included her sister, Miss Mary Elizabeth Lacara who served as maid of honor and Mrs. Philip Azelmo, Mrs. Jack Monaco, Jr., Miss Mary Margaret Comrato. Miss Anette Petaro, Miss Connie Marzello and Miss Despeno Kakenas, bridesmaids. The flower girls were Mona Ann Ticheli, Phillis Jo Monaco and Nanette Petarro. They all wore bouffant gowns of net alternating in colors of pink, blue, orchid and lime. They all wore wide brimmed hats and carried arm bouquets of summer flowers in all the pastel shades tied with long lengths of satin ribbon.

Mr. Salvadore Lacara served as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore the traditional white satin wedding gown. The basque was embroidered in pearls and the sleeves were long and tight fitting. The skirt ended in a cathedral train. Her veil of illusion was caught to a chaplet of orange blossoms.

The wedding bouquet was fashioned of white asters, white bride's roses and white orchids tied with white satin ribbon and tulle.

Following the ceremony a reception was held on the roof of the Virginia hotel where beautiful flowers were grouped in the background.

Mrs. Lacara, the bride's mother wore a black semi-evening model embroidered in gold sequins and a corsage of pink carnations.

Individual wedding cakes were served with iced punch during the receiving hours.

The bride and groom cut their wedding cake, a beautifully four-tiered confection, placed in the center of a lace covered table. The bride changed her wedding gown for an attractive traveling ensemble of pink shantung with white accessories.

YWCA ACTIVITIES

On Monday evening the Residence Girls' of the Y. W. C. A. (a Red Feather service of your Community Chest) enjoyed a hayride and picnic. Through the courtesy of Mr. Frank Eason the "ride" out to Roadside Park was made possible. Those who enjoyed the evening's entertainment were: Bobbie Ann Irby, Evelyn Driggers, Lorita Farrar, Virginia Cloud, Linda Sherrard, Lillian Holt, Dean Manning, Dorothy Grant, Syble Tharpe, Bess Sharp, Mrs. Ruth Hundley, Guthrie Jarrell, Johnnie Reeves, Wesley McKeller, Jimmie Pettit, Bobby Jo Jackson, and Mr. Frank Eason.

On Wednesday morning the Y-Wives' Club of the Y. W. C. A. met at the "Y" with the president, Mrs. Mary Ellison, presiding. After the report of the nominating committee with Mrs. Jo Willis as chairman, the club members elected the following officers for the year 1948-49: President, Mrs. Eunice Forman; vice-president, Mrs. Kathleen Eason; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Mary Eason. Plans for the fall activities and a barbecue were discussed. The hostess, Mrs. Lennie Upchurch, was assisted by Mrs. Madeline Morrison in serving delicious cookies, salted nuts and "cokes" to the following: Mary Ellison, Eunice Forman, Kathleen Eason, Jo Willis, Charlene Brown, Ruth Guerson, Mrs. Hundley, and Miss Sharp. The next meeting will be held on the 11th of August and will be the installation of officers.

On Wednesday evening the Business and Professional Girls' Club and the YoWoCa Business Girls' Club of the Y. W. C. A. met for a swim party and watermellon cutting at Forsythe park. Those who were present were: Ruth Orell, Mary Louise Farr, Mary Elizabeth Stringer, Kathleen McKay, Kay Gillam, Rosie Joiner, Marian Simmons, Ann Mickel, Freeda Mickel, Agnes Solomon, Betty Lou Alpha, Allie Marie Coats, Myrtle Johnson, Venyce Phillips, Ruth Phelps, "Pat" Patrick, Lillie Glenn, Dorothy Grant, LaVerne Meek, Edith Rodener, Bess Sharp, and the three guests: Jackie Barr, Ann Farr, and Pat Cooper.

The following Y-Teens: Jackie Barr, Anna Jo Bawcom, Julia Warren, Nancy Golson, Clay DeMarchi, Gail Ates, Claudette Schroeder, Margaret Hunter, Patsy Parker, Karol Yarbrough, Donna Faye Montgomery, Doris Storey, Robbie Lee Grant, Lillian LeBlanc, Barbara Monroe, Mary Virginia Parker, Syble McKay, Jo Trichel, Mary Lou Trawick, Mary Ann Griffith, Betty Gowan, Charline Koppe, enjoyed a week-end trip to Camp Chemin-a-haut state park near Bastrop. Miss "Pat" Patrick, Miss Dot Grant, and Miss Bess Sharp accompanied the group as the chaperons.

On Thursday morning a group of Y-Teens through the courtesy of Mr. Snapp at the Bowling Alley enjoyed a time of bowling. Those who were there were: Lillian LeBlanc, Ione Hill and her visitor from Malvern Arkansas, "Jinny" Williams, Patsy Parker, Elwyna Wills, Frances Manley, JoAnn Norman, Claudette Schroeder, Anna Stokes, Margaret Ann Hunter, Margaret Ann Tatum, Ann Robinson, Clay DeMarchi, and Julia Warren.

SIX SISTERS ARE REUNITED IN MONROE

Six sisters who haven't been together for eleven years were reunited in Monroe last week. They enjoyed several festive affairs of a social nature and were photographed at a luncheon given by Mrs. Wheeler Mitchell. Mrs. S. C. Nettles and Mrs. W. E. Lawson of this city. In the picture, from left to right, are: Mrs. L. H. Wise of Chicago, Mrs. Nettles, Mrs. R. W. Hampton of Shreveport, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Lawson and Mrs. H. L. Callaghan of Little Rock.

CEREMONY UNITES MISS LACARO AND MR. ANDERSON WARLICK

A wedding of interest to a large circle of friends was that of Miss Anette Lacara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lacara and Mr. Anderson Warlick at St. Matthew's church July 12. Monsignor John Marsh who officiated at the marriage of the bride's parents 26 years ago performed the ceremony in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and friends.

Cathedral candles gleamed among urns overflowing with white gladioli placed in the background of the altar.

While the guests were being seated by the ushers, Messers Nick Kokinas, Sam Danna, Frank Prest, Joe Lacara, Bill Hance and Philip Dana, the organist Mrs. Della Williamson, rendered a nuptial concert.

The bride's attendants included her sister, Miss Mary Elizabeth Lacara who served as maid of honor and Mrs. Philip Azelmo, Mrs. Jack Monaco, Jr., Miss Mary Margaret Comrato, Miss Anette Petaro, Miss Connie Marzello and Miss Despeno Kakenas, bridesmaids. The flower girls were Mona Ann Ticheli, Phillis Jo Monaco and Nanette Petarro. They all wore bouffant gowns of net alternating in colors of pink, blue, orchid and lime. They all wore wide brimmed hats and carried arm bouquets of summer flowers in all the pastel shades tied with long lengths of satin ribbon.

Mr. Salvadore Lacara served as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore the traditional white satin wedding gown. The basque was embroidered in pearls and the sleeves were long and tight fitting. The skirt ended in a cathedral train. Her veil of illusion was caught to a chaplet of orange blossoms.

The wedding bouquet was fashioned of white asters, white bride's roses and white orchids tied with white satin ribbon and tulle.

Following the ceremony a reception was held on the roof of the Virginia hotel where beautiful flowers were grouped in the background.

Mrs. Lacara, the bride's mother wore a black semi-evening model embroidered in gold sequins and a corsage of pink carnations.

Individual wedding cakes were served with iced punch during the receiving hours.

The bride and groom cut their wedding cake, a beautifully four-tiered confection, placed in the center of a lace covered table. The bride changed her wedding gown for an attractive traveling ensemble of pink shantung with white accessories.

This Week in the Garden

The guest writer for "This Week in The Garden" is Mrs. A. K. Kilpatrick, past-president of the Monroe Garden Club and one of it's best informed members on the care and culture of roses. She offers these suggestions on "The Summer Care of Roses".

There are two schools of thought on the treatment of hybred-teas during the summer. One fertilizes and waters continuously, thereby stimulating the bushes to bloom profusely. The other forces them to rest. I shall give details of the latter procedure which I find best for our intense heat during July and August.

MULCHING: Pine needles are very good and easily available. This Mulch should be applied in the early spring, after the feeding in March. It should be thick enough to keep down weeds and carry the bushes thru July and August without water.

Watering: We usually have some rain during this period. Of course it is absolutely dry for the two months period, the beds should be soaked at least once each week. The hose running on the beds all night. Never sprinkle roses, as moisture and heat spread black-spot faster than you can combat it.

Pruning: I have found that a light pruning in July improves the fall bloom. Cut any shoots that are too long. Keep bushes in proper shape in this way. Often the little undeveloped twigs under the bushes are the ones most susceptible to black spot, cut and burn these. It is important to keep bad blooms cut off.

Dusting and Spraying: I both dust and spray. As soon as the bushes are pruned in February they should be sprayed. There are all-purpose sprays available and they are being constantly improved.

It is important to keep infected leaves picked off the bushes and ground. These should be burned, cleanliness is half the battle against black-spot. When the heat gets intense from late June thru July and August, a dust is easier. Sulphur will burn, but a fermate or copper dust is effective and safe. These mixtures are available ready mixed.

During July and August dusting every two weeks is often enough, unless it rains. Watch the weather and try to get the plants dusted before a rain. Always dust when the air is still, in the early morning or late afternoon.

Fertilization: Do not apply any fertilizer after March. Two applications, one in February after pruning the second in March will take care of the spring bloom. On the first of September and the first of October prepare for fall bloom by feeding again. The beds should be soaked to a depth of 8 to 10 inches after this first aplication of food. If there is no rain, soak again in about three weeks. You will be amply rewarded for your hot work."

Two new hybrid tea roses, named Forty-niner and Tallyho, have been designated as the All-American Rose Selections for 1949. This brings to twenty-five the number of varieties that have won this title in the nine years in which this method of testing new roses has existed.

In past years the prize-winning roses were released by the committee in September.

This year the announcement was made in June making it possible for gardeners throughout the country to see the novelties flowering in public and test gardens this summer.

While the 1949 roses were bred in California, this does not mean that Tallyho and Forty-niner will not grow well in other sections. They were judged during a two-year trial growing period in eighteen official rose test gardens throughout the country.

Forty-niner has attracted more attention than any of the other newer roses, for it is a bi-color. It is a long time since one so striking has appeared. The outside of the petals is a deep gold which changes to straw yellow in the open flower. The inside of each petal is vivid red, probably closest to cherry in familiar terms.

The coloring of Tallyho is said to vary according to weather and planting location. It also is classed as a bi-color in pink and red, although the general appearance in my garden is spicy and more noticeable than that of Forty-niner.

Have you ever seen a field of Texas bluebonnets? Well, you can have them in your garden too. Get this season's seed, scatter them where you want them to grow, rake lightly and let nature take its course. You'll have lovely blossoms next spring. Bluebonnets prefer a gravelly, well drained, alkaline soil.

Cosmos is another flower to plant now for fall bloom. It is very rewarding.

If you need more shrubs in your border or foundation planting, but can't afford them right away, sow four o'clock seeds in those bare spots. They grow up almost shrub like and are very colorful in the afternoon and evening.

Periwinkle, or if you want to get scientific, vinca major, will grow and bloom under the most adverse conditions, and it will be there until the weather gets very cold.

Cockscomb can be planted too. I've never cared too much for cockscomb, but it does make a bright spot in the garden—and the flowers can be dried to add a note of color to dried flower arrangements in winter when plant material is scarce.

Petunias are the old reliable for low masses of color in the border, or for porch and window boxes. There are many lovely colors and varieties from which to choose.

Balsam is another garden flower you can plant now that makes the garden bright with color. You may know them by the old fashioned name of touch-me-not.

If you plant them right away, gladiolus will bloom for you this fall before frost.

Do you know if you keep the withered blooms and seed pods cut back your plants, leaving about half the growth, you'll get a new crop of blooms almost equal to the first.

Are you watching your chrysanthemum for aphids? They are almost always there, and must be fought constantly. Spray with nicotine sulphate or dust with rotenone. Aphids are sucking insects and must be controlled with a contact poison. Such stomach poisons as D. D. T. and cryolite have no effects on them whatever.

HEART'S-EASE

I know a quiet little home
Beside a lilac hedge,
Where crocuses in spring-time peep
Along the garden's edge.

All summer long the place is gay
With marigolds and phlox;
The air is perfumed with the scent
Of mignonette and stocks.

But best of all I love the spot—
A sunny sheltered nook—
Where toward the sky the faces sweet
Of pansies upward look.

Heart's-Ease folks called them long ago
And heart's ease still they bring.
Around their tender velvet blooms
Some magic kind must cling.

Some soothing balm to heal the soul
And free the heart from pain.
Who makes a gift of pansies bright
Makes not his gift in vain.

ENGAGEMENT OF MISS MARINE AND MR. BUCKINGHAM IS ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Perry J. Marine of this city announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Louise, to Francis Marion Buckingham, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Buckingham, of Casa Grande, Arizona. Miss Marine is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and is a member of Beta Sigma Phi, international sorority. She has been the assistant teacher in the Roan School of Dancing for a number of years, and for the past two years has been teaching dancing unassisted in Winnsboro and Sicily Island, Louisiana.

Mr. Buckingham is a graduate of the San Bernardino High School of San Bernardino, California. From college he served two years in the navy, returning to become affiliated with his father in the irrigation machinery business.

The wedding will take place Wednesday, September 22.

Here's a menu for Sunday morning breakfast every member of the family will relish:

Honeydew Melon
Shirred Eggs with Crisp Bacon
Prune Yeast Bread Beverage

(Reciple for prune bread follows.)

1 cup coarsely ground prunes
1/2 cake compressed yeast
1 cup lukewarm water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg
5 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 tablespoons dark molasses
1/2 cup bran
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine.

To prepare prunes, cover generously with water and boil 15 minutes. Drain, remove pits, and put through food chopper using coarse knife. Measure 1 cup prunes. Crumble yeast into large bowl. Add water, salt and beaten egg. Stir until yeast is thoroughly dissolved. Add 2 cups flour and beat until smooth. Add molasses, bran, prunes and melted butter or margarine; stir until thoroughly mixed. Work in remaining flour. Knead well on floured board. Return to bowl, rub butter or margarine over top, cover, and store in refrigerator several hours or overnight. Turn onto floured board and knead well. Divide dough into two parts and shape into loaves. Place in greased pans and let rise in warm place until almost doubled in bulk. Bake in moderate (350 F.) oven about 45 minutes to 1 hour. Makes 2 small loaves or 1 large loaf and 1 pan rolls.

Here's a menu for Sunday morning breakfast every member of the family will relish:

Honeydew Melon
Shirred Eggs with Crisp Bacon
Prune Yeast Bread Beverage

(Reciple for prune bread follows.)

1 cup coarsely ground prunes
1/2 cake compressed yeast
1 cup lukewarm water
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg
5 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 tablespoons dark molasses
1/2 cup bran
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine.

To prepare prunes, cover generously with water and boil 15 minutes. Drain, remove pits, and put through food chopper using coarse knife. Measure 1 cup prunes. Crumble yeast into large bowl. Add water, salt and beaten egg. Stir until yeast is thoroughly dissolved. Add 2 cups flour and beat until smooth. Add molasses, bran, prunes and melted butter or margarine; stir until thoroughly mixed. Work in remaining flour. Knead well on floured board. Return to bowl, rub butter or margarine over top, cover, and store in refrigerator several hours or overnight. Turn onto floured board and knead well. Divide dough into two parts and shape into loaves. Place in greased pans and let rise in warm place until almost doubled in bulk. Bake in moderate (350 F.) oven about 45 minutes to 1 hour. Makes 2 small loaves or 1 large loaf and 1 pan rolls.

SUMMER CAMP SEASON ON FOR MONROE'S TEEN-AGE GIRLS

Parents are now watching mail boxes with eager expectancy. Their boys and girls are in summer camp and word from them is always refreshing. Interspersed with news of canoeing, sailing, fencing and all the other recreations the average camp affords, is the request for extra T-shirts, the Sunday comic strips and "sweets" denied them on the regular bill-of-fare.

At least fifty girls from Monroe are attending Camp Windywood this term. Parents give their daughters a "try out" at this camp near home. If they can stay away for three weeks without crying in the night of homesickness, then they are ready for camp life far from home and on a more elaborate scale. Camp Windywood girls often telephone their parents to come for them at once. They are homesick and can't spend another night away from home. Often these telephone conversations are ignored by the wise parents as even the most severe case of homesickness can be overcome in two or three days. At the end of the three weeks most girls are unwilling to give up the pleasures and the companionship of the new friends they have acquired. They look forward all through the ensuing year to another summer at camp. Then, too, they want to go back the second year in the role of "experienced" camper and assume the responsibility of seeing that the newcomers are painlessly initiated.

Camp Waldemar, in Texas, claims a large contingent from Monroe every year. In many cases mothers who attended Waldemar when they were young want their daughters to experience the type of camping life this camp offers.

Monroe girls attending Waldemar this summer are:

Virginia Blanks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edel Blanks; Katie DeLarot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. DeLarot; Rosemary McGinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McGinn; Linda Noe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Noe; Catherine Noel and Diana Noel, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Noel; Polly Riley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Riley; Betty Jane Shipp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felix B. Shipp; Martha Clayton Sparks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Sparks; Nancy Weaks Trousdale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Trousdale.

Camp Joyzelle, situated in the picturesque Ozark Mountains, is popular with Monroe girls. Five girls will be off Wednesday morning to spend six carefree weeks in this delightfully cool spot. They are: Clara Munholland, Ann Jarrell, Betty Maricella, Jo Ann Roberts and Maurine Linquist.

One of the fastest boats on the river is the speed boat owned by Speed and Ochiltree Bancroft.

McCain-Richards Inc., now own a beautiful cruiser and never an evening without a company of congenials on board headed for a cool sand bar up the river.

Jack Russell is another proud owner of a beautiful cruiser. C. C. Bell, Jr., recently turned nautical, purchased a cruiser and named it "The Kitty."

One of the handsomest cruisers on the river is owned by Charles Kelly of Hodge, La. It was brought, via waterways, from Maine where the Kelly family maintained a summer home.

"The Queenie" is a neat little runabout owned by Harold Wood. Mrs. Frances Bloomenthal has named her thirty foot cruiser, "Miss Frances."

George and Ed Hemphill and members of their family are perhaps the most enthusiastic boat owners in the city. They own a cruiser, "The Elizabeth Ann" and every week end it's prow is turned up stream where the cool breezes blow.

Ernest Marchman's runabout is a constant source of pleasure for himself and family.

The 22 foot Chris-Craft owned by W J. Riley is still another sturdy little boat plying the Ouachita.

August Petrus, his wife and their three sons had thrills aplenty when they turned into the Mississippi en route to Grand Isle on board their handsome new cabin cruiser, "The Winnie." Waves as high as their boat caught them in mid-stream when a large government boat passed by. Expert seamanship was necessary to keep the cruiser afloat. Again expert seamanship was demanded when a sudden squall swept over the Mississippi. Entering the gulf was a wonderful experience. Long days of fishing and cool nights with the moon and the stars for company made up for the bad treatment of "Ole Man River.

Fish so large they had to be shot before landing them in the boat was an experience Mr. Petrus and his sons will never forget.

Our visit to the water front was indeed a revelation. Soon we expect to go back and listen to the tales of the "old salts" who spend their time watching the river. They tell harrowing tales of the Ouachita river at flood time when it goes on a rampage and overflows its banks, driving families from their homes and strikes terror to all those who dwell along the shore.

A wedding of sincere interest to a wide circle of friends was that of Miss Dorris Rae Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loray J. Jones, of West Monroe, and Mr. Donald E. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Johnson, of Monroe, on Wednesday, July 7, 1948, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The ceremony took place in the First Methodist Church of Monroe, Rev. A. M. Serex performing the double-ring ceremony in the presence of a few close friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are both members of last year's graduating class of Ouachita Parish High School. Mrs. Johnson was employed in the X-ray department of St. Francis Sanitarium. The bridegroom attended Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Ruston, La., and was a member of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. He is also a member of Delta Sigma High School fraternity.

Immediately following their wedding the young couple left for a short honeymoon in southern Louisiana, then went to Parkdale, Ark., where Mr. Johnson assumed temporary duties as telegraph operator and station agent, Missouri Pacific Railroad, with which company he is now associated.

MRS. HAROLD E. CREW

Mrs. Crew, bride of recent date, was formerly Miss Billye Sue Rawls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vertis J. Rawls of West Monroe.

BIG YOUTH RALLY SLATED IN GROVE

A giant youth rally is to be held Sunday afternoon at 3:30 in the beautiful pecan grove located on Bayou DeSiard at the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home. This is the beginning of the youth-promoted revival of College Place Baptist Church.

Rev. Jarry Autrey, a young preacher of West Monroe, is to be the inspirational speaker; Autice Bailey, rally chairman; Della Guillory, program chairman, and Mary Katherine Caps, organist.

Almost all of Iceland's 39,000 square miles of surface is of volcanic origin.

From The Notebook

It will be a late summer trip for the Ben Downings who have had their passage engaged for months on board a steamer leaving from Montreal for Quebec in September. It will be the last steamer trip of the summer season as snow starts to fly in that region along about that time.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl McHenry and daughter, Miss Mary Wilton McHenry, are off, via the automobile route for Hot Springs, Va., where they will be guests at The Homestead and will be joined by their daughter, Mrs. Grant Thomas, of Charleston, Va. Mrs. McHenry and two daughters will spend several days in New York City before returning home.

Mrs. Fred Peck will be the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Boardman until Major Peck finds a suitable apartment in Montgomery, Ala., where they will reside for the next five months.

Mr. and Mrs. Winston Craig of Atlanta, Ga., are expected to arrive this week for a visit with Mrs. Craig's sister, Mrs. Vernon Maish and Mr. Maish.

Miss Helen Marie Wimmer of Shreveport and Miss Fay Ann Moreland of Baton Rouge will arrive August 5 to be the guest of Mrs. H. Flood Madison, department chairman, American Legion auxiliary of Girls' State They will be enroute to Washington to represent Louisiana at Girls' Nation Miss Wimmer was selected outstanding citizen for 1947 and Miss Moreland served as governor of Pelican Girls' State in 1947.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland I. Waldroup left today, via the motor route for New York City and Hartford, Conn., where they will spend their vacation. After a two weeks' visit, Mrs. Waldroup will return home and Mr. Waldroup will remain in Hartford where he will be a student at the Underwood School of Research.

Mr. Edward Apperson, manager of Monroe's new country club to be formally opened early in September, arrived in the city from New Orleans last week and will be joined by Mrs. Apperson and daughter, Miss Carolyn Apperson just as soon as he can find a suitable home.

Miss Olive Martin has returned from a month's visit in Chicago where she was the guest of relatives. She joined them on an automobile tour of Wisconsin.

Mis Helen Patricia Parnell has hardly unpacked from her three exciting weeks at Camp Windywood, when off she goes again with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Parnell for a tour of the Northwest. They are looking forward to a big fishing trip planned for them by friends in Tulsa, on the beautiful Spavinaw Lake, in Oklahoma. From there Colorado Springs and Pikes Peak will be their main interest.

Rock-a-way beach, a cool summer resort tucked away in the Ozark mountains, has been selected by Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Easterling for their vacation. This quiet spot affords complete rest and relaxation.

Mrs. Victor Mahr left Saturday for New Orleans where she boarded a plane this morning for the Canal Zone to visit her son, Major Victor Mahr and family.

Mrs. Wesley Saunders of this city will join Mrs. Stella Hullum of Baton Rouge in New Orleans where they will sail on board a United Fruit Liner for a vacation in Guatemala City.

Quarrel?

Everyone who's thoroughly honest: particularly psychologists and psychiatrists; readily admit that quarrelling is one of the most natural phases in human relationships and that people who quarrel frankly, but keep well controlled, have a happier understanding than those who hide their feelings. Because those who truly love have faith in each other despite disagreement. Just as those who are truly devout believe, though they sometimes stray from the fold.

Quarrel?

Everyone who's thoroughly honest: particularly psychologists and psychiatrists; readily admit that quarrelling is one of the most natural phases in human relationships and that people who quarrel frankly, but keep well controlled, have a happier understanding than those who hide their feelings. Because those who truly love have faith in each other despite disagreement. Just as those who are truly devout believe, though they sometimes stray from the fold.

MISS BILLYE SUE RAWLS AND H. E. CREW UNITED IN MARRIAGE

A wedding of sincere interest to a wide circle of friends was that of Miss Billye Sue Rawls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vertis J. Rawls of West Monroe, and Mr. Harold Edwin Crew, son of Mrs. Lillie Mae Crew of West Monroe, on Thursday, July 8 at 8 o'clock in the evening.

The altar was banked with fern, shasta daisies and white gladiolus. The vows were exchanged beneath an arch entwined with southern smilax and daisies. Candelabra supporting cathedral tapers flanked the altar.

Miss Jane Wallace played pre-nuptial melodies, while Mr. Julian Crew, brother of the groom, lighted the candles. Miss Nelda Monroe, life-long friend of the bride, sang in lovely voice, "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely wedding gown of white satin and net. The bodice was delicately embroidered with white seed pearls, and the long fitted sleeves came to a point over the wrist. The full skirt ended in a cathedral train. Her veil was of finger tip length, and her bouquet was fashioned of orchids and sweetheart roses. She observed the tradition of something old, by wearing an antique bracelet belonging to Mrs. E. R. Norris.

Mrs. A. M. Ray, maid of honor, wore a beautiful floor length model of pink satin and marquisette with a bustle back. She carried a bouquet of pastel asters and daisies.

The bride's mother wore a sheer navy model with a pink carnation corsage.

A reception at the Rawl's home took place following the ceremony. Pautiful garden flowers were everywhere in evidence. The bride's table was overlaid with handsome lace and centered with yellow calla lilies. The three tiered wedding cake was surmounted with the traditional bride and groom figurines.

Mrs. Julian Crew presided at the crystal punch bowl at one end of the table. Misses Beth and Gay Monroe served the beautifully embossed individual cakes.

The bride changed her wedding gown for a lovely tailleur of blue pin-stripe gabardine with black accessories. She wore a corsage of orchids.

The bride was a member of this years' graduating class of Ouachita Parish High School.

The couple left for Los Angeles and Long Beach, California via airline for a two weeks' honeymoon. They are now making their home in Long Beach, California, where Mr. Crew is stationed with the United States Naval Air Corps.

Tallulah

Mrs. L. Snyder, of San Francisco, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bailey, Jr.

Mrs. John Sevier was a recent bridge hostess entertaining the members of her club. Mrs. Mason Spencer was the recipient of the high score award. Ways To Serve Hors D'Oeuvres Offered By Hostesses

The other evening we were talking to several women who have rather enviable reputations as hostesses in their homes. The subject of food came up, and one of the women said rather plaintively: "I'm just about at the end of my rope as far as "hors d'oeuvres are concerned. I'd be so happy to discover some new way to prepare them and yet not take the edge off one's appetite. Another woman gave some splendid suggestions for the serving of hors d'oeuvres and we took a mental note, later jotting them down for future reference. She said:

The ideal prelude to a really excellent dinner accompanied by fine wines is a dry sherry, such as Manzanilla, or a dry vermouth, and perhaps a very few unsalted crackers spread with pate de foie gras, or a reasonable fac-simile thereof, or spread with one of the many savory butters, such as anchovy butter. However, if you want to serve cocktails and hors d'oeuvres, be sure that the cocktails are dry and that the appetizers (few in number) really insipre a desire or relish for the food to follow.

A pate of chicken livers and Madiera wine offers a glorious spread for unsalted crackers or silver dollar thin slices of ice box rye bread. Slice a large Bermuda onion very thin and saute it in about 3 tablespoons of hot chicken fat until golden. In another pan saute for about 5 minutes 1/2 pound of chicken livers in more hot chicken fat, with a generous pinch of thyme and salt and pepper to taste added. Now mix the onions and the chicken livers together, and put them through a food grinder, using the finest blade. When the mixture has cooled, add enough Madiera wine to make a paste and serve.

Caviar is the most exalted of all appetizers, and justly so. The flavor of fresh Beluga or Mallosol is so individual and piquant that it is a crime ever to mix it with any sort of dressing agent. Chopped onion may be served with fresh caviar, and grated fresh cocoanut is an unusual and taste teasing accompaniment. However, if the purse cannot stand fresh black caviar, try mixing half and half finely minced celery leaves with red caviar. Spread this on unbuttered small slices of rye bread or pumpernickel, and sprinkle over each slice some finely ground nuts and a few drops of lemon juice.

A good companion appetizer to the foregoing is to drain the syrup from 2 tablespoons of chutney, chop fine, and mix to a paste with the yolk of a hard boiled egg. Spread this paste thinly on bacon slices, roll up, fasten with toothpicks, and broil quickly.

Chill a vegetable gelatin salad in an 8-inch square cake pan, then cut in squares for attractive service. Garnish with salad greens and salad dressing sprinkled with parika.

The Trumpeter Swan, weighing about 35 pounds, is the largest flying bird.

MISS BILLYE SUE RAWLS AND H. E. CREW UNITED IN MARRIAGE

A wedding of sincere interest to a wide circle of friends was that of Miss Billye Sue Rawls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vertis J. Rawls of West Monroe, and Mr. Harold Edwin Crew, son of Mrs. Lillie Mae Crew of West Monroe, on Thursday, July 8 at 8 o'clock in the evening.

The altar was banked with fern, shasta daisies and white gladiolus. The vows were exchanged beneath an arch entwined with southern smilax and daisies. Candelabra supporting cathedral tapers flanked the altar.

Miss Jane Wallace played pre-nuptial melodies, while Mr. Julian Crew, brother of the groom, lighted the candles. Miss Nelda Monroe, life-long friend of the bride, sang in lovely voice, "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely wedding gown of white satin and net. The bodice was delicately embroidered with white seed pearls, and the long fitted sleeves came to a point over the wrist. The full skirt ended in a cathedral train. Her veil was of finger tip length, and her bouquet was fashioned of orchids and sweetheart roses. She observed the tradition of something old, by wearing an antique bracelet belonging to Mrs. E. R. Norris.

Mrs. A. M. Ray, maid of honor, wore a beautiful floor length model of pink satin and marquisette with a bustle back. She carried a bouquet of pastel asters and daisies.

The little flower girl was Sharon Crew, neice of the groom. The ring bearer, Travis James Rawls, brother of the bride, carried the ring on a white satin pillow. A. M. Ray served the groom as best man.

The bride's mother wore a sheer navy model with a pink carnation corsage.

A reception at the Rawl's home took place following the ceremony. Beautiful garden flowers were everywhere in evidence. The bride's table was overlaid with handsome lace and centered with yellow calla lilies. The three tiered wedding cake was surmounted with the traditional bride and groom figurines.

Mrs. Julian Crew presided at the crystal punch bowl at one end of the table. Misses Beth and Gay Monroe served the beautifully embossed individual cakes.

The bride changed her wedding gown for a lovely tailleur of blue pin-stripe gabardine with black accessories. She wore a corsage of orchids.

The bride was a member of this years' graduating class of Ouachita Parish High School.

The couple left for Los Angeles and Long Beach, California via airline for a two weeks' honeymoon. They are now making their home in Long Beach, California, where Mr. Crew is stationed with the United States Naval Air Corps.

Ways To Serve Hors D'Oeuvres Offered By Hostesses

The other evening we were talking to several women who have rather enviable reputations as hostesses in their homes. The subject of food came up, and one of the women said rather plaintively: "I'm just about at the end of my rope as far as "hors d'oeuvres are concerned. I'd be so happy to discover some new way to prepare them and yet not take the edge off one's appetite. Another woman gave some splendid suggestions for the serving of hors d'oeuvres and we took a mental note, later jotting them down for future reference. She said:

The ideal prelude to a really excellent dinner accompanied by fine wines is a dry sherry, such as Manzanilla, or a dry vermouth, and perhaps a very few unsalted crackers spread with pate de foie gras, or a reasonable fac-simile thereof, or spread with one of the many savory butters, such as anchovy butter. However, if you want to serve cocktails and hors d'oeuvres, be sure that the cocktails are dry and that the appetizers (few in number) really insipre a desire or relish for the food to follow.

A pate of chicken livers and Madiera wine offers a glorious spread for unsalted crackers or silver dollar thin slices of ice box rye bread. Slice a large Bermuda onion very thin and saute it in about 3 tablespoons of hot chicken fat until golden. In another pan saute for about 5 minutes 1/2 pound of chicken livers in more hot chicken fat, with a generous pinch of thyme and salt and pepper to taste added. Now mix the onions and the chicken livers together, and put them through a food grinder, using the finest blade. When the mixture has cooled, add enough Madiera wine to make a paste and serve.

Caviar is the most exalted of all appetizers, and justly so. The flavor of fresh Beluga or Mallosol is so individual and piquant that it is a crime ever to mix it with any sort of dressing agent. Chopped onion may be served with fresh caviar, and grated fresh cocoanut is an unusual and taste teasing accompaniment. However, if the purse cannot stand fresh black caviar, try mixing half and half finely minced celery leaves with red caviar. Spread this on unbuttered small slices of rye bread or pumpernickel, and sprinkle over each slice some finely ground nuts and a few drops of lemon juice.

A good companion appetizer to the foregoing is to drain the syrup from 2 tablespoons of chutney, chop fine, and mix to a paste with the yolk of a hard boiled egg. Spread this paste thinly on bacon slices, roll up, fasten with toothpicks, and broil quickly.

Chill a vegetable gelatin salad in an 8-inch square cake pan, then cut in squares for attractive service. Garnish with salad greens and salad dressing sprinkled with parika.

PLAYGROUNDS IN CITY WILL CLOSE

Only Two Weeks Remain; Many Events Held Past Few Days

Only two weeks remain this summer for children of the city to enjoy organized play activities. The work has been rated as unusually successful this year and the recreation department feels fortunate in that it has been able to secure the capable leadership of Mrs. C. P. Andrews and Llewellyn Adams at Lida Benton, Mrs. Pohlman, Jimmy Choate and Bobby Ledbetter at Georgia Tucker, Miss Suzanne Phebus and Raymond Horten at Sherrouse, Miss Betty Roddey, Ronnie Stark and Jo Ann Miller at Atkinson, Miss Geneve Castles, Nell Hammons, "Dizzy" Keever, Ralph Marionneaux and Beverly Martin at Barkdull Faulk.

In addition to these leaders there are an unlimited number of volunteer workers who have given their time and energy in this worthwhile community service.

The past week the attendance totalled 1,576—the largest number was at Barkdull Faulk and Georgia Tucker with a daily average of more than 100 children.

One of the main events the past week was the marble tournament. The winners at Lida Benton were R. V. Wade and Dickie Campbell, at Barkdull Faulk, J. C. Scalia, Vincent Danna, and Frank Scalia with Eddie Pohlman winning at Georgia Tucker. These winners will try their skill against other groups Monday morning at Sherrouse to decide who is marble champion of Monroe.

The second event of outstanding importance in the week's program was the Hobby Show. A real interest was awakened in the minds of many young people for the first time when they saw the displays of their friends. The playground directors have encouraged their children to begin a hobby and to make these continuous as they grow up.

At Georgia Tucker the outstanding hobby display was the sample collection belonging to Jo Ann Walsworth. At Lida Benton, Dickie Campbell showed his cotton rugs; Sandra Tooke, dolls; Ed Shumaker, shells; John Becton, rocks; Glenda Swift, rugs; Don Andrews, stamps, rocks and shells. At Barkdull Faulk, Ann Andrews showed mounted butterflies; Carolyn Boyce, shells; Richard Dean, coins; Vincent Danna, marbles. The children were admitted to see the museum at Barkdull Faulk which holds a wide selection of collections belonging to many persons.

This week the two attractions will be the handcraft exhibit from all grounds which will be shown in the Morgan and Lindsey window starting Thursday.

On all playgrounds on Friday will be a Baby Show, for children three years and younger, when all older boys and girls are invited to bring their smaller sisters and brothers or friends. The contest will be judged at 10 a.m. There will be more than a dozen different entries for judging, ranging from the most curly-headed baby to the noisiest baby. This is not a beauty contest but will be a strictly children's show, where they can "show off" their young brothers and sisters. The public is cordially invited to see the fun.

IN MOVIELAND

HOLLYWOOD, July 31.—(AP)—This town is full of stories and not all of them hit the headlines or movie scripts. Here are some I have collected:

He was an ambitious guy who knew what he wanted—to be a movie star. He thought he could act, but he realized ballyhoo would get him to the top faster. So he sold himself to stardom, with accent on his most obvious asset—his build.

Came the war and he went off to make a good record in the service. He returned to Hollywood, realizing he wouldn't last long in pictures as a glamor boy. He concentrated on a dramatic career and hit a couple of good pictures. He became known as an actor instead of a Greek god.

So what happens? He signed for his most important role—as history's most famous strong man. "And now I guess the 'beautiful hunk of man' routine will start all over again," laments Victor Mature.

She was queen of Hollywood and like all queens, she wanted to keep her throne. But it was in danger. She had made one poor picture and she was wary of the next one. She balked at making it.

"It will be sensational!" the bosses told her. She was unconvinced. In desperation, she pleaded with the top man to let her out of the picture. She was instructed to do the film and trust the film makers. So she gave in.

They shot the movie twice and it was bad both times. But she'll survive. It takes more than a couple of bad pictures to dim the great talent of Greer Garson.

Movie goers have seen his face many times. He was a popular character actor, usually playing milktoast types or Orientals. Then he faded from the Hollywood scene.

I saw him again, this time in the hotel coffee shop across from our office. He wore a bus boy's uniform and carried dirty dishes back to the kitchen. It made me wonder if show business is such a great business after all.

Then his face turned up again—as a principal in "Magdalena," a new light opera headed for Broadway. Things are looking up for John Arthur.

A wartime discovery, he rose fast and sensationally in the boom era of movies. His studio shoved him into picture after picture, milking his popularity. Caught in the party whirl, he didn't pay enough attention to what was happening to his career. Suddenly, he and the studio parted company.

Things looked dark. Nothing came along that seemed right for him, and he made no pictures for a year. He waited, gave up the partying and got himself into shape.

The outlook began to change. He landed a deal to make westerns and participate in the profits. More offers came in, and he was making many times what he earned at his old studio. That's the reason behind the broad grin on Sonny Tufts' face these days.

DEAN CLINE IS BACK FROM TRIP

Study Of Junior College Situation Shows Local Institution Favored

Dr. Rodney Cline, dean of Northeast Junior College, has just returned from attending junior college workshops in Baton Rouge and at George Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn. Following the workshop in Nashville, he participated in a conference at the University of Chicago comprising members of the executive committee of the American Association of Junior Colleges. The dean reported good meetings at all of these places. Particularly so was the one at Chicago where the meeting of the executive committee brought together representatives and leaders of junior colleges from California, Texas, Virginia, Missouri, Idaho, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee and several other states. Since the executive committee is the principal governing group for the American Association of Junior Colleges, its deliberations were significant import for the entire junior college movement in America.

Dean Cline stated that it was interesting to note the rapid growth and development of the junior college in practically every state of the union since the close of World War II. The report of President Truman's commission on higher education recently published in Washington, D. C., has given especial emphasis to the importance of the junior college as to the service it renders its local community in education at the level just above high school. The state of New York alone recently enacted legislation that will lead immediately to the setting up of more than a score of new junior colleges.

It is the concensus of the junior college leaders representing all parts of the country that the greatest period of junior college growth and expansion, together with an improvement of services rendered by this type of school will be experienced in the years immediately ahead.

Northeast Junior College is placed in a position of particular advantage in the light of the improved position of junior colleges generally and by virtue of its integral connection with a strong state university. The patrons and supporters of Northeast Junior College will have an opportunity within the near future to aid in the necessary expansion of facilities to permit the type of broadened and improved service that the institution should render in order to perform the services needed by the people of this area.

Dean Cline expressed particular satisfaction with the fact that as always as a result of exchanging views with other junior college administrators he has returned to his office with the feeling that Northeast Junior College is superior to most institutions in its class with regard to prestige, building facilities, and training of its faculty. The local institution is presently the object of special envy upon the part of other junior colleges because of its R. O. T. C. unit. This type of training is now available at very few junior colleges throughout the nation.

The new national program of defense whereby men who are in training in R. O. T. C. units at colleges will be allowed to stay in school and secure military training while pursuing their academic studies is of particular advantage to N. J. C. Always a matter of pride to this institution, the R. O. T. C. unit of Northeast Junior College will now attain added importance and significance. Young people of the area served by this institution are extremely fortunate in having access to this type of training which will enable them to comply with the needs for strengthening the nation's program of defense and at the same time to improve their general education level.

In the light of the present national and international situation, and especially in the light of additional developments which throughout America are placing increased emphasis upon the junior college, N. J. C. is preparing to meet the challenge and to rise to the occasion in a manner which is in keeping with the needs of the people of northeast Louisiana.

To make the dessert called Trifle, put stale white cake cubes in the bottom of a dessert bowl; dot with a few tablespoons of currant or grape jelly or strawberry or raspberry preserves. Now add another layer of the cake cubes and pour custard sauce over the top. Chill well and serve garnished with some of the jelly or jam used.

PLAYGROUNDS IN CITY WILL CLOSE

Only Two Weeks Remain; Many Events Held Past Few Days

Only two weeks remain this summer for children of the city to enjoy organized play activities. The work has been rated as unusually successful this year and the recreation department feels fortunate in that it has been able to secure the capable leadership of Mrs. C. P. Andrews and Llewellyn Adams at Lida Benton, Mrs. Pohlman, Jimmy Choate and Bobby Ledbetter at Georgia Tucker, Miss Suzanne Phebus and Raymond Horten at Sherrouse, Miss Betty Roddey, Ronnie Stark and Jo Ann Miller at Atkinson, Miss Geneve Castles, Nell Hammons, "Dizzy" Keever, Ralph Marionneaux and Beverly Martin at Barkdull Faulk.

In addition to these leaders there are an unlimited number of volunteer workers who have given their time and energy in this worthwhile community service.

The past week the attendance totalled 1,576—the largest number was at Barkdull Faulk and Georgia Tucker with a daily average of more than 100 children.

One of the main events the past week was the marble tournament. The winners at Lida Benton were R. V. Wade and Dickie Campbell, at Barkdull Faulk, J. C. Scalia, Vincent Danna, and Frank Scalia with Eddie Pohlman winning at Georgia Tucker. These winners will try their skill against other groups Monday morning at Sherrouse to decide who is marble champion of Monroe.

The second event of outstanding importance in the week's program was the Hobby Show. A real interest was awakened in the minds of many young people for the first time when they saw the displays of their friends. The playground directors have encouraged their children to begin a hobby and to make these continuous as they grow up.

At Georgia Tucker the outstanding hobby display was the sample collection belonging to Jo Ann Walsworth. At Lida Benton, Dickie Campbell showed his cotton rugs; Sandra Tooke, dolls; Ed Shumaker, shells; John Becton, rocks; Glenda Swift, rugs; Don Andrews, stamps, rocks and shells. At Barkdull Faulk, Ann Andrews showed mounted butterflies; Carolyn Boyce, shells; Richard Dean, coins; Vincent Danna, marbles. The children were admitted to see the museum at Barkdull Faulk which holds a wide selection of collections belonging to many persons.

This week the two attractions will be the handcraft exhibit from all grounds which will be shown in the Morgan and Lindsey window starting Thursday.

On all playgrounds on Friday will be a Baby Show, for children three years and younger, when all older boys and girls are invited to bring their smaller sisters and brothers or friends. The contest will be judged at 10 a.m. There will be more than a dozen different entries for judging, ranging from the most curly-headed baby to the noisiest baby. This is not a beauty contest but will be a strictly children's show, where they can "show off" their young brothers and sisters. The public is cordially invited to see the fun.

DEAN CLINE IS BACK FROM TRIP

Study Of Junior College Situation Shows Local Institution Favored

Dr. Rodney Cline, dean of Northeast Junior College, has just returned from attending junior college workshops in Baton Rouge and at George Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn. Following the workshop in Nashville, he participated in a conference at the University of Chicago comprising members of the executive committee of the American Association of Junior Colleges. The dean reported good meetings at all of these places. Particularly so was the one at Chicago where the meeting of the executive committee brought together representatives and leaders of junior colleges from California, Texas, Virginia, Missouri, Idaho, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee and several other states. Since the executive committee is the principal governing group for the American Association of Junior Colleges, its deliberations were significent import for the entire junior college movement in America.

Dean Cline stated that it was interesting to note the rapid growth and development of the junior college in practically every state of the union since the close of World War II. The report of President Truman's commission on higher education recently published in Washington, D. C., has given especial emphasis to the importance of the junior college as to the service it renders its local community in education at the level just above high school. The state of New York alone recently enacted legislation that will lead immediately to the setting up of more than a score of new junior colleges.

It is the concensus of the junior college leaders representing all parts of the country that the greatest period of junior college growth and expansion, together with an improvement of services rendered by this type of school will be experienced in the years immediately ahead.

Northeast Junior College is placed in a position of particular advantage in the light of the improved position of junior colleges generally and by virtue of its integral connection with a strong state university. The patrons and supporters of Northeast Junior College will have an opportunity within the near future to aid in the necessary expansion of facilities to permit the type of broadened and improved service that the institution should render in order to perform the services needed by the people of this area.

Dean Cline expressed particular satisfaction with the fact that as always as a result of exchanging views with other junior college administrators he has returned to his office with the feeling that Northeast Junior College is superior to most institutions in its class with regard to prestige, building facilities, and training of its faculty. The local institution is presently the object of special envy upon the part of other junior colleges because of its R. O. T. C. unit. This type of training is now available at very few junior colleges throughout the nation.

The new national program of defense whereby men who are in training in R. O. T. C. units at colleges will be allowed to stay in school and secure military training while pursuing their academic studies is of particular advantage to N. J. C. Always a matter of pride to this institution, the R. O. T. C. unit of Northeast Junior College will now attain added importance and significance. Young people of the area served by this institution are extremely fortunate in having access to this type of training which will enable them to comply with the needs for strengthening the nation's program of defense and at the same time to improve their general education level.

In the light of the present national and international situation, and especially in the light of additional developments which throughout America are placing increased emphasis upon the junior college, N. J. C. is preparing to meet the challenge and to rise to the occasion in a manner which is in keeping with the needs of the people of northeast Louisiana.

To make the dessert called Trifle, put stale white cake cubes in the bottom of a dessert bowl; dot with a few tablespoons of currant or grape jelly or strawberry or raspberry preserves. Now add another layer of the cake cubes and pour custard sauce over the top. Chill well and serve garnished with some of the jelly or jam used.

O.K., CHAZZ! VAN GOBLIN HAS HAD TIME TO SLIP BACK THROUGH THE GUERRILLA LINES. NO FIRING FROM THAT DIRECTION, SO I GUESS HE MADE IT. YOU AND MOTLEY NEXT!

ROGER! THE GUERRILLA SQUADS ON EITHER SIDE NEVER EVEN NOTICED HIM TAKE OFF. THIS STUNT OF DISAPPEARING ONE OR TWO AT A TIME IS CLICKING.

CHARTREUSE AND I WILL KEEP UP THE POSE THAT WE'RE PART OF THE ATTACKING FORCE UNTIL YOU'VE HAD A CHANCE TO GET CLEAR.

WE'LL JOIN VAN GOBLIN AT THE DEAD TREE WE'RE USING FOR A RENDEZVOUS AND WAIT FOR YOU.

RIGHT! DON'T LET ANYONE CLOSE ENOUGH TO GET A LOOK AT YOUR UN-ORIENTAL PAN, AND YOU'LL MAKE IT.

MEANWHILE, AT THE RENDEZVOUS TREE...

NO, BRONZ! WAIT... DON'T SHOOT!

WHY NOT, MY DEAR VAN GOBLIN? I'D SUCCEEDED IN SLIPPING AWAY FROM THE WRECK OF MY ESTABLISHMENT AND THROUGH THE GUERRILLA LINES WITH MY PRICELESS ANTIQUE STATUETTE INTACT...

...BUT THE DEVIL'S OWN LUCK HAD YOU ROOSTING IN THAT DEAD TREE...YOU SPOTTED ME FIRST, BUT YOU BUNGLED THE JOB. YOUR SHOT DROPPED ME, BUT IN YOUR HURRY TO CLUTCH THE STATUETTE YOU NEGLECTED TO MAKE SURE I WAS DEAD.

YOU SHALL PAY FOR THAT NEGLECT! THE END FOR ME COMES QUICKLY NOW, AND YOU, WHOSE GREED TO OWN THE LITTLE STATUE STARTED THIS CHAIN OF EVENTS, CANNOT REFUSE TO JOIN ME.

MEANWHILE, A SHORT DISTANCE AWAY.

THERE'S THE TREE, MOT'—HEY! A SHOT!

'S FUNNY, I WONDER WHERE YOUR FATHER IS...

PETER AND POLA PETARD, AXEL'S BUTCHERS, GET ANOTHER CUSTOMER— COULD IT BE SAID THAT EVEN AXEL IS "HOIST WITH HIS OWN PETARD"?

THAT STRANGER AGAIN—THE ONE WHO SAVED MY LIFE FROM AXEL'S MESSENGER—HE WANTED THAT NOTE I FOUND AFTER MAX DROPPED IT— "TAKE GOOD CARE OF THIS ONE"—

Reg. U.S. Pat. Off. Copyright 1948 by News Syndicate Co. Inc.

I HOPE HE KNOWS WHAT HE'S DOIN'—BUT WITH AXEL BACK I'VE PLENTY WORRY TO KEEP ME BUSY—HARK— MAX IS COMIN' BACK—

IT WAS ONE OF THOSE YOU SENT FOR US TO "TAKE GOOD CARE OF"—

EH? I SENT? WHEN?

HE SAID, "SOME TIME AGO," BUT THAT HE HAD BEEN DELAYED— BUT HE IS SAFE AT LAST WITH PETER AND POLA!

WAIT! FOOL! HE HAS TRICKED YOU—ALL I SENT HAVE BEEN TAKEN CARE OF!

THAT ONE IS AN IMPOSTOR— BUT, BY THE DRAGONS OF DEATH, I SOON WILL SPOIL HIS PLANS—

SHALL I COME, TOO, AXEL?

HAVE YOU NOT DONE ENOUGH DAMAGE? YOU WAIT HERE! I'LL HANDLE THIS!

NO NEED TO AROUSE PETER AND POLA! I KNOW WHERE THE SECRET CHAMBER IS— I WISH TO FIND THIS CLEVER ONE, ALONE—SO—

HA! SO! IN BED—WITH THE COVER OVER HIS HEAD—OR IS IT ONLY A PILLOW—EH—?

THERE! GOOD! SLEEP, AXEL! SLEEP FOR AN HOUR TILL YOUR GOOD FRIEND, PETER, COMES SOFTLY IN THE DARK! NOW I MUST GO—

PETER— IT IS TIME—THAT SHABBY ONE NOW MUST BE SLEEPING! HE LOOKED HARDLY WORTH THE TROUBLE—

ONE NEVER KNOWS—HE MAY CARRY MUCH MONEY—IT ALL ADDS UP— BRING THE LIGHT IN FIVE MINUTES—

IT WAS EASY! THEY ALL ARE EASY—HIS THROAT WAS SOFT— BUT, WHISKERS—I DID NOT RECALL WHISKERS! QUICK, POLA! THE LIGHT!

WHISKERS? THE SHABBY ONE HAD NO WHISKERS!

IT— IT IS AXEL! WE HAVE "TAKEN GOOD CARE OF" AXEL!

OAF! YOU SHOULD HAVE KNOWN EVEN IN THE DARK! THE WHISKERS!

QUICK! IT IS A GREAT MISTAKE—BUT LOOK AT THE MONEY! THOUSANDS! WHAT A SHAME WE DO NOT DARE DISPLAY HIS CLOTHES FOR SALE!

AND HE WILL NOW SEND US NO MORE BUSINESS— I STILL DO NOT UNDERSTAND, BUT IT IS A PROFITABLE NIGHT— HERE—THE TRAP DOOR— AND WE MUST NEVER SPEAK OF THIS TO ANYONE—

JUNGLE JIM

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

KOLU FINDS THE SECRET TEMPLE STAIRS. SWIFTLY BUT SOFTLY, HE GOES HUNTING FOR HIS MISSING TUAN JIM.

8-1

CHIEF NUPA HEARS KOLU'S FAINT TREAD ON THE HIDDEN STAIRS--AND GETS READY TO AMBUSH THE INTRUDER.

NUPA'S MISTAKE WAS THINKING THAT A FEW ROPES COULD PUT JIM OUT OF ACTION. JIM'S COILED BODY WRECKS NUPA'S AIM--AND NEARLY WRECKS NUPA!

KOLU FINISHES THE JOB OF KNOCKING NUPA OUT. HIS KRISS QUICKLY FREES JIM. "THANKS, KOLU," JIM SAYS WARMLY; THEN, "WHERE'S LIL?"

NEXT WEEK: SURPRISE.

FLASH GORDON

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

A TELESCREEN LIGHTS UP: "MR. PRESIDENT, A SPACE-SHIP JUST CRASHED NEAR MONGO CITY. DRIVER CLAIMS TO BE FROM THE DARK SIDE OF LUNITA." FLASH IS STARTLED--THAT MOON WAS BELIEVED UNINHABITED. "BRING HIM HERE!"

"SIR, I AM SLYK. WE FLED TO LUNITA YEARS AGO TO ESCAPE MING, THE MERCILESS. BUT NOW WE HAVE NEW TYRANTS, RUDO AND HIS SISTER LURA. HELP US!" THE MAN SEEMS FANATICALLY EARNEST, BUT FLASH ORDERS A TRUTH TEST.

"THE ELECTRONIC VERITESTER REPORTS THESE BRAIN WAVES ARE SINCERE," SAYS DR. ZARKOV, AS SLYK REVEALS: "OUR CIVILIZATION IS BUILT ON OUR RAY-GEMS, SIR--HUGE RAY-ACTIVE JEWELS WE USE FOR POWER, HEALTH--AND WEAPONS!"

FLASH DECIDES TO HEAD AN EXPLORING EXPEDITION. "DON'T THINK YOU'RE GOING TO HAVE ALL THE FUN AND LEAVE ME BEHIND," DALE TEASES--BUT FLASH KNOWS SHE MEANS IT.

FLASH PILOTS ZARKOV'S LATEST ATOM-JET ROCKET TOWARD MONGO'S UNEXPLORED SECOND MOON--WHILE HIS PEOPLE WILDLY CHEER THEIR HERO ON HIS DANGEROUS MISSION!
